Mother Will Die but Daughter May Live—Manuel Monteiro Went to New Bedford From Lawrence and Was Aroused by the Mother's Opposition to the Marriage

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 7.—Manuel Monteiro, shot his sweetheart, Matilda Cosmas Lopes and her mother, Arsenia, as they were on their way to work at 6.15 o'clock. The mother is mortally wounded.

The girl will recover. Their assailant escaped.

Refusal by the mother to allow her daughter to marry him was the cause.

The two women were shot at close range, the bullet piercing the mother's skull while the daughter who was shot in the head luckily escaped death by the bullet being deflected by one of the head bones. Monteiro who did the shooting recently moved to New Bedford from Lawrence.

The mother and daughter were both employees of the New England Cotton Yarn company and were on their way to work this morning when the shooting took place on North Water street. Since Monteiro arrived in New Bedford he has not worked, but has hung around the home of the Lopes girl where he was regarded as an accepted suitor by the brothers of the girl.

Monteiro was apprehended by a Taunton officer on board an electric car at East Taunton. He denied his identity at first, but letters in his pockets indicated that he was the man sought. Some of these letters were addressed to Matilda and were in the nature of love letters from other men.

Monteiro's hat had three bullet holes in it and on the side of his head there was a scalp wound and some powder burns, showing, in the opinion of the police, that the man had attempted suicide. He had no revolver, but the police believe that he hid the weapon after attempting flight.

When Monteiro was taken to police headquarters his first question was,

vention Outlined

The Massachusetts branch of the national association of stationary engineers opened its fifteenth annual convention in this city today, but the business session of the meeting will not be held until tomorrow forenoon. A large number of delegates are expected and the bulk of them will arrive this evening and tomorrow morning. The delegates will make their headquarters at the Richardson hotel. Robert W. Van Tassel of the Lowell association is chairman of the reception committee. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of T. M. Kelsey, chairman; H. W. Veoman, A. Mertrude, Robert W. Van Tassel, M. E. Powers, W. E. Sargent, William Gould, O. M. Dow, J. W. Laycock, W. H. Quigley, George Chamberlain, E. C. Pratt, A. F. Moulton, M. J. Pennington and Joseph Collins. Mr. Collins is secretary of the convention committee.

Prescott hall in the Rumels building was a busy place this forenoon. It is there that the exhibition of steam plant appliances is being held and scores of men were busy arranging the exhibition booths and installing the exhibits. Every inch of floor space is occupied. Rumels hall, in the same building, will be the place of assembling of delegates. Admission to the exhibition is free and everyone interested is invited. A goodly number of supply men arrive yesterday and the supply men's exhibit opened at the noon hour today.

Tonight there will be a reception of officers and delegates at the Richardson hotel. More than 700 delegates are expected.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow the convention will be called to order. The address of welcome will be by Mayor John F. Meahan and State Deputy Edward H. Kearney will respond. Other speakers will include H. B. Greene, president of the board of trade, F. L. Johnson, past state president, and William J. Reynolds, national president.

The convention will be called to order by P. E. Tirrell, state president. Committees will be appointed and adjournment will be taken until 2 p. m. It is stated on the program that visitors will be welcomed at the Lowell Water Works, West Sixth street, and the Lowell Electric Light plant, Perry street. Tomorrow evening an entertainment will be given in Lincoln hall, Gorham street.

The following firms and individuals have exhibits in the hall:

Burke Engineering Co., Dearborn Drug and Chemical Works, The New England Engineer, Power and the Engineer, Patterson Lubricating Co., J. Henry Blanchard, A. W. quite apropos. They were done by Mr. Flynn.

The Thompson Hardware company is the local representative of the J. H. Williams Co. of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the exhibit is by the local company with Raymond G. Coburn in charge. The exhibit is a good one.

The H. W. Johns-Manville Co. is represented by Wm. H. Spaulding, W. F. Turner, John F. Casey and James Humphreys.

How had been attending a convention of the unemployed and was about to address an open air meeting in Franklin square last night when arrested. The meeting had been prohibited by the police. How declares he intended telling the crowd that no meeting was to be held when he was hissed by police and charged with breach of the peace.

PHILADELPHIA, July 7.—Declining the offer of a police magistrate to free him if he would promise to discontinue his attempts to speak in public, James Edna How, known as the "millionaire hobo," was held under $500 bail today to keep the peace.

Nothing Doing But Work

In the office of the charity department Clerk Gallagher was busily engaged in trying to impress on the memory of an applicant for aid that if he would work steadily and give up his drinking habits he would not need to apply to the city for aid. But for the fact that the man has a blind daughter dependent upon him the certificate for provisions would not have been granted.

Dr. James I. McCarthy, the chairman of the charity board was on deck and while he said that there was plenty of work on hand there was little news that would interest the public. "Lots of work and hot weather" was the answer that he gave the Sun man.

Encouraging News

Agent Bates of the board of health was poring over statistics when the reporter entered his office, but when he was asked relative to what was going on he said that he was glad to state that the number of contagious diseases reported at the office during the present month was lower in comparison to the first week of any month that he ever remembered. There has been but one case of diphtheria reported so far this month, four cases of scarlet fever and two of measles. Despite the fact that today is but the seventh of the month the number of diseases recorded, especially during the hot weather, is a remarkably low one.

Coal Contracts Signed

Mayor Meehan this morning signed contracts for coal for the water works department. One contract was for 2000 tons of coal to be delivered at the Centralville, Pawtucket boulevard and Cook wells pumping stations to the Horne Coal Co. Another contract for 2500 tons was awarded to E. A. Wilson & Co. 100 tons of coal were ordered at the boulevard station, 700 tons at the Centralville station and 300 at the Cook wells. The coal is bituminous and of different varieties, the price ranging from $4.29 to $4.93 per ton.

Water for the Playgrounds

The local playgrounds, those in Little Canada and the South common, are a great success, but of late, owing to the dry weather the dust bothers the children and in order that they may not be troubled by the dust, which contains many disease germs, Mayor Meehan has notified Supt. Putnam to have the watering carts visit the playgrounds twice a day to lay the dust.

More Horses Needed

Within the course of a week or so the committee on fire department will have to recommend the purchase of a couple of horses for the fire department. At the present time there are four animals belonging to the department in pasture in upper Chelmsford street. Two of the horses are in need of a rest and will be able to resume their duties in the harness in the course of a couple of weeks, but one horse which was injured on Centralville bridge while responding to an alarm will have to be either sold or shot and another horse is so sick that he is unfit for duty, though in time he may be able to perform work.

Street Lighting Committee

The committee on street lighting is scheduled to meet at 7.30 o'clock tonight, at which time a tour of inspection of the city will be made for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the companies which have the contract for lighting are fulfilling their duties.

Committee on Band Concerts

The committee on band concerts met at city hall this afternoon in order to assign bands and dates for the municipal concerts.

Up in the Attic

Away up on the top floor of the building Melvin Master, the inspector of milk and vitinagar, was busily engaged in testing samples of milk. He had 27 samples in front of him when The Sun reporter entered his office. While the milk at the present time does not reach the high standard that it does in the winter, Mr. Master stated that the samples which he receives daily are very good considering the time of the year and the weather. Some of the milk, he said, does not go much above the standard prescribed by law, but on the whole the milk which is being dealt out to the people is of a very good quality.

CHICAGO POLICE

To Prevent Trouble on Johnson's Arrival

CHICAGO, July 7.—Great precautions were taken by the police to prevent disorder on the arrival of Jack Johnson here this afternoon. Chief Stewart had a score or more policemen at the station and in the neighborhood of the home at 3341 Wabash avenue, where the champion's "mummy" awaited him.

Although the authorities would not allow a regularly organized parade, an imposing string of automobiles was ready to follow Johnson's machine from the train to his residence.

The champion was due to arrive at 2 o'clock. At his home the Eighth regiment band, Illinois National Guard (colored) had arranged to serenade him, following which he was expected to hold a reception.

DENOUNCED AS CRIMINAL

NEW YORK, July 7.—The moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight were denounced as criminal from the pulpit of the Church of the Divine Paternity today, where the twenty-second annual convention of the Young People's Christian union is being held.

When Victor A. Friend, chairman of the social service commission, in a report of that commission asked that the convention go on record as protesting against any exhibition of the fight pictures the assemblage broke into loud applause. Resolutions were passed protesting against the exhibition of the fight films.

PRESIDENT LOWELL

Tells Educators About the College Elective System

BOSTON, July 7.—Some interesting results gained at Harvard university regarding the extent to which the capacity acquired in one study can be transferred to another were communicated last night by President Lowell to the members of the National Education Association at the general session in Tremont Temple.

Characterizing it as the most interesting and vital topic for educators at the present day, President Lowell said: "It would seem as if the latest experiments show that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the subject matter, it is not transferable, or transferable only to a very slight extent to any other subject matter; that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the method used in the study it is transferable to a considerable extent to other studies in which that same method is applicable; that so far as it depends upon general conception or upon the general moral and intellectual attitude, as, for example, intensity of the effort put into the study, or diligence, and things of that sort, it is transferable indefinitely."

"The experiments tried have been tried mainly with children, and it may be that the qualities we find regarding the transferability of acquired capacity are not the same at all ages of life—that as a person gets more mature he may be able to transfer acquired methods more than a school child can, and may acquire more of the quality we call resourcefulness. At any rate, it is interesting to make observations upon that point."

President Lowell proceeded, with the aid of a diagram, to give results obtained over a period of 12 years, from 1897 to 1909, by considering the cases of Harvard men who had gone into the Harvard law and medical schools to see the result of a certain set of chosen studies subsequently pursued in the professional schools.

No Aid Evident

"The figures tend to show," he said, "that the taking of history in college, for example, is no great assistance when a man gets into the law school for obtaining the cum laude, and that the taking of science is no great assistance towards a man getting that degree in the medical school. I was rather surprised that this should come out so definitely. The conclusion is drawn would seem to be that it made comparatively little difference in regard to a man's success in the professional schools what subjects he devoted himself mainly to in college, but that it made an enormous difference how and with what power, ability and success he worked in college."

"The figures might show either that a man was born with the qualities which would enable him to gain honors both in the college and in the professional schools, or that he who has worked hard in college has acquired a power he would not otherwise have, and therefore succeeds in the professional schools. Pedagogically the figures seem to mean for persons of mature age either that ability acquired in one branch of study as a method of thought and work is transferable to another to a very considerable extent, or that the general intellectual and moral attitude is far more important than the method."

Criticisms by Laity

Criticisms of public schools by the laity was discussed by James W. Crabtree, president of the state normal school in Peru, Neb.

"There are three classes of the laity," said Mr. Crabtree, "who pass criticism upon the public schools: (1) The smallest, least important, but a most troublesome one is the class known as the chronic faultfinders; (2) a much larger and a more dangerous class is composed of those whose disapproval is based on a something personal, political, factional or otherwise selfish; (3) the larger class of people whose criticisms grow out of true loyalty to the public schools, coupled with their interest in young people and a genuine desire to promote their welfare."

"The honest opinion of every thoughtful man is entitled to respect and consideration. The chronic kicker, however, has no place in this class. He is the obstinate individual who is never satisfied. Whatever is wrong, if it is mild, it is branded as an outrage. If the discipline is strong, it is a failure. Every teacher must accept with resignation the fact that the chronic faultfinder is now and always will be a part of his life."

"Those who criticize because of some personal grievance and for other selfish reasons are the worst of most of the serious troubles of the school. They resort to all kinds of extremes to get even with the superintendent, teacher or board member."

"The greatest good comes from the best people. When this class of people speak their views are respected."

Expression of Thinkers

"The following opinion may be taken as representing the trend of feeling among a portion of the thinking laity: 'The school does not attach enough importance to training its pupils. We must either keep our children in the high school a portion of the time and teach them how to work and to love work, or else the schools should in some way meet this need, and why may not the schools do this double service for our children?'

"Colleges will wisely listen to the criticisms that come up from the laity and from the ranks of the teachers and cease attempting to force high schools to shape courses of study to meet certain arbitrary college entrance requirements. The laity looks upon the school as the public's way of expressing its efficiency of its offspring and people will never be satisfied until the college, the high school and even the grammar grades take that fact into account and plan their work on the theory that education should be for efficiency as well as for culture."

COURT ANTOINE

Won Prize in Recruiting Contest

Court St. Antoine, Catholic Order of Foresters, won the first prize in the recruiting contest which has been going on from January 1 to July 1, during which period the court added 355 new members to its already large number. This record was not equaled by any other court in either this country or Canada. The prize was a $100 silver cup offered by the order to the court which recruited the largest number of members.

Court Antoine now has the second largest membership in the order. Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago having the largest membership.

Three cups were offered as prizes, one going to the court showing the largest membership on July 1, and which was won by Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago, another going to the court showing the largest increase between Jan. 1 and July 1, and which was the one captured by Court St. Antoine, and a third going to the court showing the largest increase in proportion to membership. This last was given especially to encourage the smaller courts to double their numbers.

Simon Vlier of Lawrence, state secretary, was present last night at the assembly of Court St. Antoine, and announced the glad news. The cups, he said, would be awarded the latter part of the month.

Besides these trophies going to the courts themselves, individual prizes were given members for bringing in the largest number of members. E. H. Grogan and Dr. A. G. Pavette were the winners. Mr. Grogan bringing in 33 and Dr. Pavette 50.

GIRLS RESCUED

WERE SAVED FROM DROWNING BY TWO BOYS

BOSTON, July 7.—Prompt action on the part of Homer Kelley and Harold Ambrosion saved 11-year-old Helen Ingall and her 12-year-old sister Beatrice of 78 Pleasant street, Winthrop, from drowning near the Thornton station at noon yesterday. The little girls had waded into a hole and were sinking for the third time when aid reached them.

The boys launched a boat and made a record trip to the spot where the drowning girls had gone down. The girls were taken into the boat and rowed ashore where the process of resuscitation brought them to consciousness. Medical aid was summoned and the physician said that both will recover.

ENGINEER KILLED

Fireman Was Hurlled Through Window of Engine

PITTSFIELD, July 7.—Engineer Edward Brewer of North Adams, driving New York Central locomotive 1145 over the North Adams branch of the B. & A. railroad, was scalded to death in a spectacular wreck at Coltsville, a little hamlet between Cheshire and Pittsfield yesterday afternoon at 5:30, and fireman John Lawler of Pittsfield, had a narrow escape from death, being hurled through the cab window into a field 40 feet away.

A broken flange on the wheel of the locomotive is said to have caused the disaster.

Train No. 115, made up in Pittsfield, left the Union depot at 5:15. It consisted of a combination mail, express and baggage car and a passenger coach. There are four places where the train slows down between this city and Coltsville and the locomotive was apparently all right when it left the junction of the main line and the North Adams branch.

There is a straightaway run of three-quarters of a mile from the junction to Coltsville, where there is a single siding and a small combination station and a freight house.

At the beginning of the switch and in front of the Coltsville depot, the engine left the main track and entered the siding. Brewer was running between 40 and 6 miles an hour.

When the locomotive struck the siding Brewer reversed and applied the brakes, but the momentum was so great and the distance to a string of five box cars so short, that the locomotive hit the first loaded freight car on the siding at almost full speed. This car was filled with general freight, including cotton in bales, molasses in barrels and machinery. It was a steel car, but the speeding engine smashed it in twain, ploughed its way through it, and jammed its nose into the second freight car, and then turned half around and twisted itself loose from the cars and rolled over on the tracks, a demolished giant. The tender finally passed across the cab and was upside down.

The combination car turned completely around and was headed in the opposite direction. The passenger car was started from its trucks.

A dozen passengers who were in the coach escaped with a few minor bruises. The body of Engineer Brewer was found at the firebox. He was scalded almost beyond recognition and his skull was fractured. He had been instantly killed.

Fireman John Lawler said, "I don't know what happened after we heard the sliding until I recovered consciousness. They say I was hurled through the cab window, but I don't recall a thing but a terrific crash and darkness."

Lawler was bruised and scalded. He was taken to his home in an ambulance.

Delancy Burbank, mail agent, of Pittsfield, was working in the end of the mail car next to the engine when the crash came and was thrown into a corner of the car and bruised.

The string of box cars on the siding was tossed off the track, and one of the cars was forced partially around the freight station.

LAWRENCE MAN

Says That He Paid Money to Three Persons

SALFORD, July 7.—"It is politics and politics is funny business and makes strange bedfellows sometimes," was the answer made by Matthew A. Burns to a question put to him in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon.

Not more than a week the trial of Mayor William P. White and others charged with conspiracy to bribe certain aldermen of Lawrence in 1909, to make possible the removal of Fire Chief Hamilton of Lawrence has been on trial in the superior criminal court. Judge Schofield presiding. This afternoon the government concluded its case. Dist. Atty. Peters announced that as the government had used ex-Alderman Xavier Legendere as a witness, the indictment against him for receiving a bribe was not pressed. The district attorney had previously made an announcement as to Ernest Dubois, one of the present defendants.

Counsel for the defendants in their opening stated that Mayor White, George Smart, Matthews Burns and Thomas A. Keegan, the remaining defendants, would each take the stand and tell their own story of the transactions in 1909.

Matthew A. Burns was the first witness for the defense and he told of Chief Hamilton giving him $600 in May to distribute to aldermen who should vote for his confirmation. There was $200 each for Aldermen Moss and Wolcott and after the vote and then paid it over to them.

He denied that he had been in any arrangement for the removal of the chief, although he said Hamilton had offered him $500 to fix the matter for him. He declared that he had fallen out with the mayor the first of the year and would not vote for anything he advocated. The cause of the difference was that Mayor White had attacked the street superintendent, who was a friend of his. When asked if he thought it honest to throw aside the good of the city and vote against an order simply because the mayor had proposed it he replied "It is politics and politics is funny business and makes strange bed fellows sometimes." Burns was still on the stand when the court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-

Stove will do anything from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

WAS TOO LATE LABOR LEADER

FATHER WANTED TO OBJECT TO WEDDING

CLAREMONT, N. H., July 7.—Ray V. Andrews, who gave his age as 21 and his address Proctorville, Vt., and Miss Melissa Ackley of Cavendish, Vt., came here yesterday and, obtaining a marriage license, were married by Town Clerk Hiram C. Sherman in his office. The bride, who gave her age as 18, is daughter of Lovell Ackley, who works in the Lowell, Vt. creamery.

He heard of the marriage intentions of his daughter by telephone and sent word to Chief of Police J. H. Ober to stop the wedding, stating that the girl was only 17 years old and had known Andrews only since July 4, when he had accompanied her home and remained until he had sent his daughter to bed and ordered the young man from the house.

Meantime the wedding took place and the couple left here on an afternoon train for Bellows Falls. The girl is said to have stated before the ceremony that it was a case of elopement. It is claimed Andrews' parents reside in the west.

WAS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED HERBERT S. CARRUTH

BOSTON, July 7.—Mayor Fitzgerald yesterday afternoon appointed Dennis D. Driscoll of 110 Wayland street, Roxbury, a prominent labor leader, who was shot at the State House two years ago, as deputy penal institutions commissioner at $2500 a year. The mayor had considered Driscoll as a candidate for head of the penal institutions department at $5000 a year, but after a conference with him yesterday announced the appointment as deputy commissioner.

The new appointee will fill the position which was held by Herbert S. Carruth until the latter's removal a few days before the last city election by the late Mayor Hibbard. Carruth's salary was $2500 a year. The position is one of the few offices at city hall which is not under civil service, and for that reason the new appointee will be able to take office today.

In the appointment of Mr. Driscoll the mayor secures the services of one of the most prominent members of the Central Labor Union.

INDIAN DROWNED

THE DEAD INDIAN VIEWED BY FRIENDS AT THE UNDERTAKERS

While Bathing in Concord River Yesterday Afternoon — Body Recovered by Frank Jelly of Richmond Street — Deceased Was a Noted Man in His Race

While thousands applauded the very creditable performances of the Indians and frontiersmen of the 101 Ranch Wild West show at the Fair grounds last evening, behind the scene of this wildly picturesque spectacle and in the little wigwags that were set at the farther end of the field the silence of deep sorrow reigned over all, for only a few hours before "Corn," a full blooded Sioux chief and one of the most noted redmen with the company, was drowned in the Concord river near the Six Arch bridge, while enjoying a swim with a few companions of his race.

The Indians partook of supper immediately after the afternoon performance, and about 5.30 "Corn," accompanied by several other Sioux, went down to the river to swim. They were directed to the swimming hole by a party of boys and soon had divested themselves of their heavy blankets and canvas clothing and were dispersing themselves in the soothing stream. None of them could swim, and hence all kept close to the shore, except "Corn," who was a swimmer. As a hunter, he ventured out about the treacherous swimming hole where a shelf of sand makes the water shallow for a distance and then suddenly stops, leaving a hole of great depth. Into this hole the unfortunate Indian was seen to disappear, and when he did not appear at once his Indian companions, becoming terrified, rushed back to the Fair grounds for assistance, leaving three boys who had been watching the swimmers on the river bank. These boys were Frank Jelly of 38 Richmond street, John Doolittle of 532 Gosham street, and George Kervin of 542 Gosham street and Edward Molloy or Maloney, a noted swimmer. The boys immediately removed their clothes and waded into the water. "Corn" rose to the surface and struck out wildly, demonstrating to the boys that he could not swim. Jelly, who weighs only 110 pounds, was afraid to go forward for the drowning man, for the latter weighed considerably over 200 pounds, and undoubtedly would have pulled the boy down with him.

The Body Recovered
In his story to Medical Examiner Meigs, the Jelly boy said: "The Indian came to the surface four or six times before he finally disappeared. I think I could have saved him if he hadn't been so big and strong. I was afraid that if I got too close to him he would grab me. I was afraid to go forward. After the body disappeared I dove down and brought it up, and Doolittle and Kervin helped me bring it ashore." The Molloy boy by another account is given the credit of diving down and hooking a rubber band on the body to bring it to the surface.
Several white men and Indians rushed to the scene upon learning that "Corn" had been drowned, while his wife and daughter, who are also with the show, were on the scene, heartbroken over the sad happening. The body was removed to Higgins Brothers' establishment to be prepared for shipment to Porcupine Ranch, Pine Ridge agency rewarded the three boys who recovered the body.

Undertakers Higgins Brothers embalmed the body and then laid it out in native costume in a sealed casket which was shipped from this city this afternoon. The scene was decidedly pathetic as the little sorrowful-faced women in the worldly picturesque costume of their race entered the train after watching mutely the railroad employees place the huge box containing the body in the baggage car. Mr. McNally accompanied the body to Boston and looked after its transfer to the western train, while the Indian interpreter went to Woonsocket, R. I. to join the show, for the show, like the world itself, "goes on," no matter who drops by the wayside.

WOMAN LOST

SHE DID NOT KNOW WHERE SHE LIVED

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mrs. Amelia Bauer told a story in the Yorkville police court yesterday about being lost from her home that puzzled those that took an interest in her case.
She said she left her home at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night wheeling her three-months-old baby uptown to a park near the East river. At midnight Solomon found her and the baby at First avenue and Sixty-fifth street. The woman told him that she couldn't remember the street in which she lived, but did know that the number was 355. The policeman took her to the station and then to court.

In court she said she was married in Hoboken a year and a half ago and that she and her husband, Geo. Bauer, moved from 41 Madison street, Hoboken, to this city two weeks ago. Her husband went to work in Greenbaum's sausage factory, which was three blocks from her home. Her husband was asleep when she left home, she declared.
Magistrate Krotel turned the woman over to Miss Broadhead, the probation officer, who telephoned to all the Greenbaums in the city in the sausage business. They said they didn't know George Bauer. Police headquarters had no report of George Bauer looking for a lost wife and baby, nor had any other desolate husband made inquiries. The woman was fairly well dressed. The baby looked well cared for. Mrs. Bauer could not remember the name of the clergyman who married her and her husband. She took her through streets on the upper East Side, but Mrs. Bauer recognized none of them as hers. Finally she was taken to the Hoboken address. There the landlady said, "Why of course I know her," and gave the New York address.
While the probation officer and Mrs. Bauer were in Hoboken the husband showed up in court in search of his wife and was sent to Hoboken for her. His address, he said, is 335 East Ninety-fourth street.

TO BREAK WILL

WOMAN LEFT PRACTICALLY ALL OF ESTATE FOR MAUSOLEUM

NEW YORK, July 7.—A suit to upset the probate of the will of Elizabeth Bastian of 208 E. 89th street, who died on Feb. 11, 1909, and left practically her entire estate in this country, worth $55,000, to build and maintain a mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery, has been begun by her half-sister, Mrs. Emma Holsten of Grantwood, N. J., and her half-brothers, John and George von Hofe of Astoria. They charge that Miss Bastian was a monomaniac and believed that the life to come would be more enjoyable than the life on earth. For that reason they say she lived penuriously on earth so that she could live more luxuriously after death.

In her will Miss Bastian left the plaintiffs only $1 each because of the "subject scorn and derision" with which they had treated her from the time she came here from Germany. Miss Bastian had been the companion of Mrs. Marie Helne, and most of her money came to her under Mrs. Helne's will. She directed that $50,000 be set aside to build the mausoleum, in which a chain of her friends were to be buried with her, and that $5000 worth of jewelry be sold and added to the fund. She directed that if anything remained in the estate after the tomb was built and certain small legacies were paid it was to go to the Woodlawn cemetery for repairs to the tomb and for shrubbery and flowers.

The testatrix said in her will that she was contemplating a trip to Europe and she directed that in case she died at sea and her body was not brought to land the mausoleum should be built just the same and that "the executors shall reserve the metal drawer in the catacomb located on the right hand side as you enter the said mausoleum, and have an inscription made thereon containing my name and the date of my birth and death, and no one else placed in said place reserved for me."

NATIONAL BANK EXAMINERS
CHICAGO, July 7.—The national bank examiners here today closed a two days' semi-annual meeting yesterday after making some drastic recommendations to the controller of the currency relative to the methods of checking up of country banks. In a resolution adopted by the examiners, the controller is advised to make strict investigations of the country banks and adopt new regulations for controlling their reports.

Some country banks, it was maintained by the experts attending the meeting have been guilty of evasions of the national banking laws by borrowing money from city banks and using the exact state and extent of their liabilities in their published statements may not be shown to the public.

The controller is advised to require all country banks to make under oath full and specific statements of their liabilities and assets.

FIREWORKS TEST CASE

NEW YORK, July 7.—Two little packs of squibs were produced in the Tombs court yesterday by Detective Wilbur, who said he had bought them from Pain's store at 12 Park place on last Friday. Edward H. Walsh, the clerk who had served him, was in court in answer to a summons. The complaint was that Pain had no retail license.

Magistrate Murphy looked first at the little firecrackers and then at the big detective.
"I'm not going to issue a warrant for any such nonsense as this," he said. "Here, take these things away. Mr. Walsh, you are discharged."

THE MINISTERS

ENTER A PROTEST AGAINST THE FIGHT PICTURES

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Characterizing the fight pictures as degrading and dangerous, ministers representing six denominations and fourteen churches at a mass meeting last night formulated a petition to Mayor Magee, asking him to prevent the pictures from being displayed in this city. The meeting was attended by bodies from the Y. M. C. A., Christian Endeavor societies and civic bodies.
Prayer meetings will be held in the churches nightly for the success of the movement.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST PICTURES

BOSTON, July 7.—The campaign of the society of the United Society of Christian Endeavor against the display of the pictures of the recent fight between Johnson and Jeffries is receiving favorable support from many states, according to General Secretary William Shaw, who stated that four governors had arrayed themselves on the anti-picture side of the contest. The state officials were Governors A. S. Ansel of South Carolina, G. W. Donaghey of Arkansas, William Hodges Mann of Virginia, and from the private secretary of Gov. Charles S. Deneen of Illinois. Gov. Draper of Massachusetts tells Secretary Shaw that he has no power to stop the display of pictures, but Mayor Fitzgerald of this city is opposed to them.

U. S. FLOUR, 75c Bag

You have heard of this brand of flour before, but the question is, have you tried it? If you have not, you should, for those of our customers who have given it a trial claim that it is superior to other brands which they had been buying at a price much higher than the price we are asking for this particular brand. This flour is blended and milled by a process which lends to it a flavor that cannot be found in other flours. The bread it produces is palatable and does not require one-half of the attention while baking that most brands need.

There have been so many inferior brands of butterine exposed that most people are inclined not to consider it at all for use on the table. Butterine and the "Vermont Brand Butterine" are as different as it is possible to differ products, and then again most of the mixtures which bear the name of butterine are manufactured and sold illegally. This, however, is not the case in "Vermont Brand Butterine," as it is compounded, rendered and prepared for delivery under the inspection board of the government and each and every tub is labelled with a seal which guarantees its purity.

TOOK BOTH GAMES

Lowell's New Pitchers
Were in Bad

WORCESTER, July 7.—Worcester took a double header from Lowell yesterday, winning the first game, 9 to 2, and the second game 7 to 2. Anthony's hitting and fielding were responsible for the first victory and a running catch by Blakely, and a sensational stop by Noblett in the second, featured that contest.

Manager Burkett of Worcester, was yesterday suspended for three days as a result of Tuesday's dispute with Umpire Connolly. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

Double header with New Bedford, Tyler and Wolfgang, first game at 2.

And still the pitchers come—and still they go.

Cronin who pitched the second game at Worcester yesterday comes from Fall River. He couldn't expect to win when his team made six errors.

New Bedford plays here tomorrow as well.

Umpire Rorty is back in the game again. Thus far Mike O'Brien and Connolly have done about all the umpiring in Lowell. The fans would like to see Lanigan here.

Wiggs of Montreal pitched a no hit, no run game against Rochester yesterday. Only one Rochester man reached first and he walked.

PRES. CLARK'S STATEMENT

As president of the Lowell & Suburban league and manager of the O. M. I. Cadet team, I would like to state for the benefit of the sporting public of Lowell that the managers of the L. & S. league are not sore over the action of the July 4th committee, although they do feel that they were handed a raw deal, for although it has been decided by both the manager of the Lowell Americans and Sanctuary Choir teams, the managers of the L. & S. league still insist that it was two picked teams that contended on the North common on the morning of July 4th. Take the team that represented the Sanctuary Choir, for instance.

Their lineup was made up entirely of Lowell & Suburban league players. For a battery they had Doyle and Manning of the Y. M. C. A. team, Doyle of the Mysteries played first base, O'Brien and Marquette of Pillings covered second base and shortstop, respectively. Harris of the Wanderers played third base, while the outfield was made up of Carroll and Maloney of the Cadets and Mills of Pillings team. Still their manager comes out with the statement that it was not a picked team. I admit and so do the other managers that the Lowell Americans and Sanctuary Choir were at one time the leading teams of the city, but they had not been heard from this season until a few days before the fourth.

It certainly was not the intention of the managers of the L. & S. league to carry this very small matter of a baseball game into such a lengthy discussion, but since Managers, Shea and Queenan wished to bring up this matter after it had been dropped by us, I was requested by the managers of the league to say a few words in defense. Mr. Queenan, of course, is entitled to his opinion of the league, which he is so clearly expressed last evening. Now to come to Mr. Queenan's challenge, which was directed to all the teams in the L. & S. league, but mostly to the O. M. I. Cadets. I wish to state as manager of the O. M. I. Cadets that as the regular league schedule will keep us from accepting the challenge until about the middle of August, a game before that time would be impossible, but after the league season is over I will be pleased to accept the challenge of the Sanctuary Choir or Lowell Americans, or both, for games either for fun or money.

I thank you for the space in your paper, and trust that this will clearly express the feelings of the managers of the Lowell & Suburban league in regard to this matter.

Paul R. Clark, President L. & S. League.

JACK JOHNSON

Is Willing to Meet Sam Langford

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 7.—If Sam Langford, the Boston fighter, will put up a side bet of $20,000, Heavyweight Champion Jack Johnson will fight him in Cheyenne during the frontier celebration in the latter part of August or a month later.

Johnson made this statement yesterday morning when his train pulled in from Reno, en route to Chicago. For half an hour Johnson was given the most friendly demonstration he has received since the fight. A crowd of more than 5000, including 1000 colored soldiers of the Ninth cavalry from Fort D. A. Russell, almost mobbed the champion's private car, which was attached to the Overland limited on the Union Pacific, grating the champion with yells and waving of hats.

Flowers were showered on him and the crowds forced their way into Johnson's car to shake hands with him. A number of women in the crowd fainted as a result of the crush and were taken into Johnson's car.

Johnson was accompanied by his wife, who wore a profusion of diamonds; his brother George, his manager, Tom Mangan, and George Cotton and others.

NOT IN WYOMING

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 7.—There is no show for the fight here during the Cheyenne frontier celebration. It is said Gov. Brooks, when told of the talk about a Johnson-Langford match, "Wyoming laws forbid it and I will see that the laws are enforced."

WOODMAN WILL ACCEPT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—When Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, was told last night that Jack Johnson had offered to fight Langford if the latter would put up a side bet of $20,000, he declared he would accept the offer.

Woodman is trying to arrange a ten round bout between Langford and Kauffman. If this cannot be done, Langford and Woodman will leave on Monday for Chicago, where they say they will place the money for the Johnson side bet in the hands of a stakeholder.

WIFE STABBER

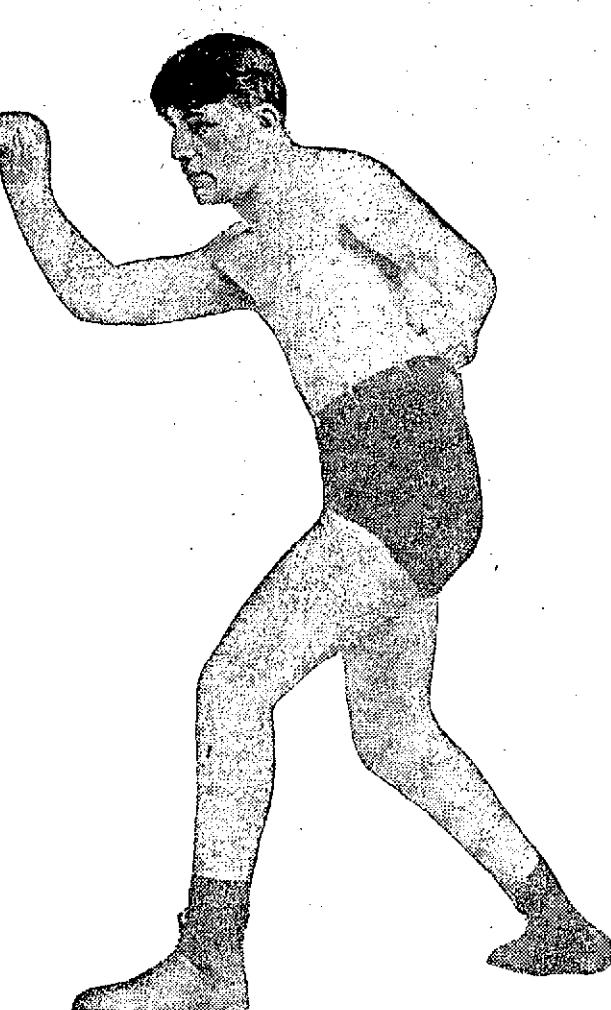

MANAGED TO BREAK TWO PAIRS OF HANDCUFFS

NEW YORK, July 7.—Andrew Braceni went home to 183 Sullivan street at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, after an all night session in a neighboring saloon and announced that he was very ill and felt like killing someone. He grabbed a carving knife from the table, plunged it into his wife's right breast and fled from the house. The wife was taken to the St. Vincent's hospital dangerously injured.

Braceni returned home at 9 o'clock and found Policeman Murphy waiting for him. While awaiting arraignment before Magistrate Brown in Jefferson Market court yesterday Braceni suddenly attacked Murphy and began shouting and cursing. It took six men to overpower him. In the struggle he broke two sets of handcuffs which had been slipped on his wrists. He was taken to Bellevue hospital.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A severe earthquake shock continuing from 12:01 to 12:03 this morning, was recorded by the Georgetown University observatory. The preliminary tremors began at 11:58 o'clock and were followed three minutes later by the heaviest shock. The observers fled away at 12:14. The observatory at Georgetown says the earthquake probably was not more than 1500 miles distant. The chief motion was east and was the heaviest recorded since January 1.

HARRY LEWIS, HOME AFTER WINNING ENGLISH TITLE

HARRY LEWIS

Another American fighter who made good in the battles which he had in England and Paris is back in the United States looking for a match. He is Harry Lewis, the crack welterweight of Philadelphia, who recently knocked out Young Josephs, English welterweight champion, in seven rounds at the National Sporting club of London. Lewis will probably try to get on a return fight with Willie Lewis, with whom he fought two draws over in Paris.

WM. J. BRYAN

SAYS HE IS IN THE FIGHT FOR PROHIBITION

LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—William J. Bryan gave out a statement yesterday again declining to be a candidate for United States senator and intended to discourage further activity among his political supporters in that direction. In it Mr. Bryan says he believes he can work to better advantage without being a candidate for any office. He says:

"I stated some months ago that I was not a candidate for the senate and did not ask to be. I told inquiring friends that while I would not promise anyone not to become a candidate I regarded the possibility of my becoming a candidate as too remote to be considered by anyone desiring to be a candidate, and I was glad when others announced their candidacy."

"There were a number of reasons which combined to convince me that it would not be advisable for me to enter the race. The reason was that I saw this fight on the liquor question coming up and thought it probable that I could do my duty better without being hampered by candidates for my office."

"Later developments have justified me in the decision not to be a candidate. I am needed in this state fight and shall have plenty to do. The people of the state have done a great deal for me and I have not had a chance to do much for them in return. I have an opportunity now and I shall show my gratitude for past favors by rendering such service as a private citizen can render by helping to keep our party from becoming the tool of the liquor and other special interests."

"Those in charge of the work of drafting Bryan say that in view of his attitude there is no reason for any further activity."

AN AUTO PATROL

The Department

The members of the board of police, Supt. Welch of the police department and Peter A. Mackenzie, chief of the supply department, met in conference yesterday at the police board office for the purpose of considering the advisability of purchasing an automobile patrol for the police department, and at the conclusion of the meeting it was the unanimous opinion that for the protection of the people and in order to facilitate matters in the department it would be advisable to purchase a self-propelled machine. Before the meeting was adjourned a requisition for the purchase of an automobile police patrol was filed at the office of the purchasing agent at city hall.

It is expected that the machine will cost in the vicinity of $5000, but the members of the board are of the opinion that it will pay for itself in a very short period.

Supt. Welch has advocated the automobile patrol for several years and though his efforts to enthrone the board of police went for naught because of the small amount of money available to invest much money, when the shooting up in Lynn occurred a week ago Saturday the superintendent decided that if such a thing ever occurred in Lowell the local police would not be able to cope with the criminals because it would have to depend upon horse drawn vehicles.

Daring breaks have occurred in this vicinity, some yeggmen visited here a year or more ago and when the police, under ex-Supt. Moffatt went to round them up the patrolmen and inspectors had to be carried to the scene in a heavy patrol which is a heavy wagon drawn by a pair of horses which got tired after going a mile or so.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon one of the members of the police board had the following to say. "The board was unanimous in voting to send a requisition to the purchasing agent's office for an automobile patrol and while some people may think that it is a luxury, I don't think so; I feel it is a necessity. The horse drawn patrol wagon which the department is using at the present time is one of the most ancient and heavy affairs. Even though there are two horses attached to it, the vehicle is so heavy that making several trips the horses are 'all in'."

"On various occasions, especially on Saturdays and Sundays, when there are the most number of arrests, the wagon has got to go to different parts of the city. In many instances we have heard of patrolmen holding prisoners up against a box for fully 20 minutes waiting for the wagon to arrive, because there were one or more previous calls sent in."

"The principal reason for my advocating the automobile, however, is in a case of emergency. Supposing that we had a shooting affray in Lowell like there was in Lynn a couple of weeks ago, where would we be? The wagon might reach the station in time, but how would we send patrolmen to the scene of the shooting? They would have to go in the horse drawn wagon we have at the present time and before we got half way to the location the desperadoes would be gone."

"What the automobile patrol it would be different. Something, for instance, might occur in the outlying district. Word would be sent to the police station. The patrol is ready in an instant, patrolmen and officers are ready, the riot guns are awaiting and men with the guns pile into the auto and are whizzed to the scene. Undoubtedly the desperadoes may have left the scene and are making their way along the country roads in order to escape. With the auto, which never gets tired, the men could be run down; but when it comes to trying to follow desperadoes in a big heavy patrol wagon, or even a light carriage, it is out of the question."

A member of the board of police, the purchasing agent and the superintendent will within the course of a few weeks visit Springfield, Hartford and New York for the purpose of inspecting the various police patrols which are manufactured.

One of the features of the proposed auto for this city is that it will be a combination ambulance, equipped with blankets, everything that is used for the first aid to the injured, surgical instruments, etc.

SCHOOL TEACHER

KEPT HER MARRIAGE A SECRET FOR TWO MONTHS

MIDDELTOWN, N. Y., July 5.—The many friends of Miss Eva Pauline Stablen, a school teacher of this city, who is now taking a literary course in the summer school at Columbia college, were greatly surprised yesterday when the announcement was made that she had been married for more than two months to George Rickel, a clothing merchant of this city. Miss Stablen's home is at Cortland, N. Y. For the last four years she has been attending the summer school at Columbia college, her intention being to take up literary work.

When she announced to friends that she might not again take up teaching when school opened they concluded that she was going to devote her entire time to literary work. According to the announcement made yesterday Miss Stablen and George Rickel were married in Jersey City on April 21. The reason for not making the marriage public was that the bride wished to finish her school term and was under contract to do so.

MURDER MYSTERY

New York Police Investigating Woman's Death

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mysterious circumstances of what the authorities believe to have been the murder of a young woman in Bronx borough are being investigated by Coroner Schwannneke today.

When the body of Mrs. Sophie Williams, 33 years of age, was found in the front yard of her home, the police decided that she had been the victim of an accidental fall from the window of her apartment and early today so reported to the coroner. Coroner Schwannneke, however, after a careful inspection of the apartment from which the woman took her fatal plunge, became convinced that there had been a struggle there and that all indications pointed to a murder.

The story told by George Williams, the dead woman's thirteen year old son, confirmed the coroner in his opinion.

and he ordered the arrest of William and George Blackmore, brothers, and Joseph Carroll, all occupants of the house where Mrs. Williams lived. They denied any knowledge of the way in which Mrs. Williams had met her death, except that George Blackmore said that he knew that the woman's habit on hot nights was to sleep either on the fire escape or else in a chair by the window, and that he believed she had fallen from the window while asleep. Young Williams told the coroner that some men had been in the family rooms last night and that his mother had ordered them out. A quarrel followed, he said. Then everything became quiet and he went back to sleep. The boy explained that his father and mother were not living together.

Mrs. Williams was looked upon by her neighbors as a quiet respectable woman and a good mother.

CITY OF LOWELL

May Lose All Its Printing Business

Fibre and Fabric, the American textile trade review, has the following relative to the changes in the Hamilton, and possible changes in the Merrimack:

The absorption of nearby printing concerns by the Pacific mills continues, the latest purchase being that of the Hamilton print works at Lowell. The terms have not been made public as yet, but the deal looks good for all concerned, as now the Hamilton corporation can devote itself to cloth production exclusively and probably this branch will be enlarged, as the present printing equipment will be moved to the new Pacific print works when the mill now under construction is complete.

As we understand the deal, only the printing department of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. has been sold to the Pacific mills. This equipment includes 12 printing machines and will give the Pacific Mills corporation 52 printing machines.

There is nothing left now in the clothing equipment in Lowell but the 24 machines in the Merrimack plant, and in due time we look for a sale of this equipment, if not of the entire Merrimack corporation, to the Pacific mills, as Merrimack has been accumulated to almost if not quite a majority of the common stock outstanding. In the interests of some unknown factor, which we assume is the Pacific Mills corporation. The Merrimack common shares are offered for sale to the Pacific mills in blocks of a drop, and as a speculation they look to be a good buy at the price, as the stock accumulated has averaged more than $40 a share, and there is not likely to be any change in ownership at less than the average price paid by the purchasers of large blocks of the stock during the past six or eight months. With the Merrimack Co. a part of the Pacific Mills, the latter concern would have 76 printing machines for its big new printing mill, and with the Merrimack looms in Lowell and in the south there would be a large supply of printing cloth available without going into the regular markets.

Dividend Declared

The Lowell Bleachery has declared a semi-annual dividend of $4, payable July 1.

ANOTHER FIGHT

Langford Will Accept Johnson's Offer

NEW YORK, July 7.—Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, telegraphed here today that he had accepted the offer of Jack Johnson to meet Langford for a $20,000 side bet, and asks that Johnson post his forfeit for the match on his arrival here on Monday. Woodman wires that he will telegraph a deposit to bind Langford's end as soon as he learns Johnson's money is up.

PREFERRED DEATH

RATHER THAN TO LOSE HIS HOME

NEW YORK, July 7.—Realizing that the home and farm of 65 acres that he and his wife had striven for all their lives would have to be sold, James Harrison Vreeland, 73 years old, went to the front room of his home in Bloomingdale and committed suicide shooting himself through the left temple with a .40, which he considered a drop, and as a speculation they look to be a good buy at the price, as the stock accumulated has averaged more than $40 a share, and there is not likely to be any change in ownership at less than the average price paid by the purchasers of large blocks of the stock during the past six or eight months. With the Merrimack Co. a part of the Pacific Mills, the latter concern would have 76 printing machines for its big new printing mill, and with the Merrimack looms in Lowell and in the south there would be a large supply of printing cloth available without going into the regular markets.

Health and Beauty Talks

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

A. W. A.: You say you can find nothing that will protect tender skin from the sun. Try this and I know you will not suffer from sunburn or freckles. Dissolve four ounces of aspirin in one-half pint of hot water and add two teaspoonsful of glycerine. Apply with this with the palm of the hand to the face, neck and forearms in the morning and you will find it will not rub off or show like powder. It is a true complexion beautifier, for it restores and preserves the soft and rosy color of youth. This inexpensive lotion has completely cured the faces of those who have dark, sallow or oily skin.

S. L. J.: Very few women are blessed with eyes that are naturally "beaming and radiant." Most probably those dazzling eyes you envy are the result of using a tonic to hasten the return of brightness to the eyes. Get from your druggist one ounce of crystals and dissolve it in a pint of water and you will have a tonic for the eyes. Use one or two drops in each eye will relieve inflammation, dullness, redness and soreness. Many persons with weak eyesight find they can dispense with eyeglasses after using this tonic daily a month or two.

G. L. M.: "Shampoo" is a word of Hindoo origin and means "to lather, rub and wash the head." When using shampoo for shampooing, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. When you have a hair wash, mix a little of the shampoo with a little of the water and just as you would with an ordinary shampoo; then rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly with warm water. When you use shampoo, it will remove the dirt and oil from the hair and scalp and will remove that fine scurf of which you complain. It is not a hair restorer, but it is a hair cleanser. Do not use soap when shampooing, for it leaves the scalp hot and hard and causes streaks in the hair when drying. When the hair is clean and the scalp is healthy, the hair grows quickly and is soft, bright, fluffy and not streaky.

Oasis: Have you tried to preserve your youthful looks? If your husband correct when he says you do not look as young as you should? If you want to keep your skin clear and free from blemishes, you must take care of it. Use almond cream jelly both as a massage and face cream and your complexion will be fine and free from blemish. Get from your druggist one ounce of almond, dissolve it in one-half pint of cold water; add two teaspoonsful of glycerine, stir well and let stand over night. Then you have a cream that contains no oils or fats to make hair grow or cause the skin to become dark and greasy looking. As a treatment for blackheads it is effective and at the same time "mild as milk" for it completely removes the pore-dirt and decreases the size of the pores, so that the blackheads will not return. Massaging with this almond cream prevents roughness, removes wrinkles and keeps the flesh firm and plump.

E. S. E.: You will not need to worry about your hair coming out when you comb it if you will use a good hair tonic. You need only to use a good hair tonic two or three times a week; you can prepare this at home by dissolving one ounce of quinine in one-half pint of alcohol, then adding a half pint of water. Rub this tonic thoroughly into the scalp and it will stop your hair coming out and remove the dandruff entirely. I find it excellent for excessively oily, dull or brittle hair. It is the only dependable remedy I have ever found for hair and scalp troubles and will be found very invigorating.

A. B. C.: You are right when you say no powder or cosmetic will help your complexion while your blood is out of order. Good health is the foundation of a good complexion. This tonic is fine for those who are thin and sallow. Dissolve one-half cup of sugar and one ounce of karo in one-half pint of alcohol; then add enough hot water to make a full quart and you will have a sufficient supply of a dependable home-made system tonic that will tone up your system and build up your strength. Kardo aids digestion, arouses a torpid liver and purifies the blood. It is all you need to give a charming complexion that is desired by all. It is so true that you can purchase it done from any first-class druggist.

Alto: It is useless to fret and worry and fret until you are weary, because you are "becoming too fat to be graceful." If you will get from your druggist four ounces of paraffin and dissolve it in 1½ pints of hot water and take a tablespoonful of this harmless flesh reducer before each meal you soon will be satisfied that, while you may not regain your former slim and elegant figure, you will not be so stout as to feel constantly chagrined in society or business.

Carmen: Those tormenting and distressing hairs on your forehead and face will disappear if you will apply a paste made by mixing a little water with dettolone. Apply it and allow it to remain for two or three minutes; then wipe off and wash with warm water. Dettolone is expensive and retails for one dollar an ounce, but one application is enough for two or three applications and that is all you need ever need. Even should the hair return after the first application, it will be thin and light colored. The second or third application removes it effectually and permanently.

ABERNATHY BOYS

Start on Their Trip to Oklahoma

NEW YORK, July 7.—Two small boys sat in a runabout automobile in front of the Astor on Broadway yesterday afternoon and were buzzed about and pestered at and photographed by a host of photographers and press agents and moving picture men. Finally, after the surfeited camera folks had gone and the three policemen had cleared the way, the bored child at the steering wheel sighed:

"Aw, let her go!"

The diminutive machine coughed its way up the avenue with a picture picture machine buzzing frantically in a car ahead of it and that was the last of the Abernathy kids.

Those two sons of But-Em-Alive Jack Abernathy who rode from Oklahoma all the way on branches to see the return from Africa, and incidentally keep the name of Abernathy in the public eye, have become so used to ovations during their stay here that yesterday's windup, in the course of which they shook hands with the mayor and Col. Roosevelt, seemed to make about as much impression upon them as a reception committee's welcoming speech in Podunk would make upon a traveling president.

They were in an awful hurry when they went to see the mayor, according to Temple Abernathy, aged 8, and the latter had no hesitancy in informing His Honor of that fact. Col. Roosevelt received them in the Outlook office with a few kind words and then they went up to the Astor for a luncheon provided for them by friendly automobile folks in whose car they are to make the journey back to Oklahoma.

William Michael Byrne, told them, as they put away cakes and ice cream with an awe inspiring rapidity, that they were an honor to the West and the pride of the republic and that he hoped that they wouldn't be hard on the efforts east when they get back and all that sort of thing, and then Louis, the elder of the revered twins, got up on his chair and said to the accompaniment of flash lighted

"I am happy today for three reasons, first because I came here to see Mr. Roosevelt and I saw him, second because I will soon see my five little sisters, and third because I have met all you good people." (Loud, ferocious and blustering cheering.)

Temple's chunky and chubby body from behind his ice cream box and he said:

"I like Coney Island, I like all you folks. Good bye." (Same as before, only more so.)

Their father remarked that he couldn't make a speech and didn't, and then the party fled down to the waiting automobiles. Louis was taken out on Tuesday and taught to run the little car that is to land him eventually in Oklahoma City, and Temple, the only other passenger, intended to have one hand on the steering wheel all the way, though he confided to inquirers yesterday that he preferred bronchos to autos.

CHILD SAVED

FIREMEN SMASHED IN DOOR AND SAVED LITTLE ONE

BOSTON, July 7.—The screams of Mrs. Fred Cuchotta of 635 Tremont st., when she discovered that her baby boy, Arthur, was locked in a room in which a brick fire was burning, and from which black smoke was pouring, created excitement in the South End last evening.

Only the timely arrival of the firemen who responded to an alarm from Box 93, and who broke down the door, saved the 18-month-old boy from death.

Fat Causes Blaze

Mrs. Cuchotta was frying fish in her kitchen last evening and beside her little Arthur played on the floor. She left the room for a moment and while she was gone the fat in the pan bubbled over on the stove, caught fire and dripped to the floor where a carpet was soon ablaze. The floor ignited and the little fellow scrambled to the door which was fitted with a spring lock. In his efforts to get out he shut the door and Mrs. Cuchotta returned to find the door locked against her, the gleam of fire showing at the threshold and her baby crying lustily within.

Her cries aroused the neighborhood and a fellow lodger sounded the alarm. The frenzied backed the door away with axes upon finding the mother unconscious at the threshold and rescued the baby. The fire was extinguished with but slight damage.

PROMINENT JAP HERE

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—Among the passengers on the Kamakura Maru which arrived from the Orient yesterday was Katsura Mochizuki, a former member of the Japanese Diet and president of the Liberal News Agency of Tokyo. He is on a special mission to make investigation in Europe and the United States for the financial department of Japan and the Imperial railways and monopoly bureau. He is accompanied by Mrs. Mochizuki who was educated in Toronto and who has been commissioned to investigate educational work of women in the United States and Japan.

Speaking of conditions in Japan Mr. Mochizuki said:

"Japan has emerged from the financial depression of the last few years. It is looked for. The four per cent. consolidation of Japanese loans has been taken up and a new financial scheme is being formulated. Money is easy, the banks have much to loan and interest is lower. The result is that business development is progressing favorably."

TO EXTEND TRADE

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—James E. Dunning, consul to Havre, Franco, is in this city conferring with manufacturers and business men as to methods of extending their trade in foreign commercial circles now neglected by Americans. Mr. Dunning's visit is the first step in a recently devised plan of Secretary Knox to increase American commerce. The secretary's plan as explained here contemplates bringing in this country from time to time the best men in the consulting service to visit large cities and by personal conference with business men show them opportunities which exist in different parts of the world.

HE GOES TO JAIL

Until He Pays Alimony and Counsel Fee

NEW YORK, July 7.—Herman Feinberg, a real estate man who is president of the Consolidated Board of Brokers, told a tale of marital woe to Supreme Court Justice Giegerich yesterday and then went to Ludlow street jail to stay until he pays up $368 back alimony and counsel fee.

Feinberg is suing for the annulment of his marriage to Fella Hochman on the ground that he was induced to marry her by fraud. He declares he met her in 1902 when he was the husband of Jennie Rabinowitz and was living happily with her and their two children. He says that Fella Hochman induced him to live with her, although "sincerely regretting my mistake."

Then Jennie got a divorce and he has been paying $10 a week alimony to her and the children ever since.

In 1908 Feinberg says he left Fella to give his two children a good home and married Hattie Gerkowitz in Stamford, Conn. When Fella heard about this she had him arrested for bigamy, but after ten days in jail here the Connecticut authorities said they didn't want him. Feinberg declares that because he wouldn't pay Fella $1000 she had him arrested on a New York bigamy charge. He was in the Tombs until he was bailed, but when District Attorney Whitman came into office the indictment was dismissed.

Feinberg says that on July 31, 1909, after he had got out of jail, Fella Hochman came to his office with a detective sent by Assistant District Attorney Ely, who is now her counsel, and told him if he didn't go over to New Jersey and marry her he would be arrested again. He declares that the detective told him he needn't say anything when he was being married, because the detective would do all the talking.

His employers advised him to comply, he says, and he went along reluctantly to New Jersey and remained mute while the marriage ceremony was performed. He left his new wife at once, he says, and started the proceedings to annul the marriage.

Feinberg was directed last March to pay Fella $25 a week alimony, $100 back alimony and $250 counsel fee, but up to May 24 he was behind $368 and proceedings to punish him for contempt were brought. He told Justice Giegerich yesterday that he was getting $25 a week and after he paid his former wife and children $10 had only $15 to live on. He was willing to give Fella $10 a week of that and borrow enough to pay the counsel fee, but said he couldn't possibly pay $25 a week. He said if he was adjudged in contempt he would have to go to jail, and then his children would be without means of support.

The court adjudged him in contempt just the same because there was nothing else to do.

FOREST FIRES

DAMAGE CAUSED BY THEM TO BE REPAIRED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—Ravages of forest fires along the Oregon coast are to be repaired, partially at least, for timbermen now are planning to put the burned over trees to good use. Of course this will be impossible with a great deal of the timber that was either totally consumed or partially destroyed. There remains, however, a great quantity of timber that was only scorched and blackened.

A contract has just been made with the Santa Fe railroad by a logger near Marshfield, Ore., to supply 1200 piling from a tract of burnt cedar. This material has for years been thought to be utterly useless. Now it is believed it can be put to as good use as green cedar, in fact it is claimed by some that the action of the fire will improve the piling, making it far less subject to decay.

The result of the experiment will be watched with much interest, whatever the outcome, for if burned cedar piling is found to be suitable for railroad use in bridge work, there is a great quantity of the scorched trees that will be put to good use. The Santa Fe offers to buy much of this piling later if the first supply is satisfactory.

It is now thought that the same timber may be used for other purposes, such as telephone and telegraph lines outside of cities, where the blackened poles will not be objectionable. Charred cedar, it is expected, will have a remarkably long life when exposed to the weather. The coast cedar is widely known for its lasting properties and timbermen predict that the burned over trees will resist decay twice as long as green timber.

There are large burned over areas in this state that will become valuable if the use of blackened piling is generally adopted, and the method of felling practical conservation for much timber throughout the Northwest that has long been regarded as on no value.

THE DEMOCRATS

Plan to Get More Congressmen in New England

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Officers of the democratic congressional committee are preparing to carry on an active campaign in some of the New England states to secure the election of democrats to congress. The committee recently opened headquarters here. Later on it may open headquarters at New York or Chicago.

The committee will distribute considerable literature in New England, especially speeches relating to the tariff and the increased cost of living. Representative Foss, speech in the house on the tariff and reciprocity will be one of the documents to be scattered broadcast.

Representative Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, says it is too early to say definitely what kind of a fight will be made by the democratic managers in New England, but Mr. Lloyd thinks the prospects of democratic success in that section are bright.

"I believe we will hold the four Massachusetts districts now represented by democrats," said Mr. Lloyd. "We caught also in at least two other districts in the state. If ex-Representative Thayer runs for congress in the Worcester district we will carry it. I cannot designate other districts where we will win, but I can say that if certain men are nominated for congress by the democrats we will make a hard fight in several districts now represented by republicans. I understand that Charles S. Hamlin may run against Representative Greene. If he does he will defeat Mr. Greene."

Mr. Lloyd would not say so, but it is understood that he and other democratic leaders have high hopes of capturing the districts represented by Representatives Turrell and Ames, especially if the democrats nominate strong men. After the nominations are made the committee managers will endeavor to pick out the best fighting ground and concentrate their efforts there.

Speaking of the outlook in other New England states, Mr. Lloyd said: "I believe we ought to gain one or two seats in Maine, regain what we lost in Rhode Island with the death of Representative Granger and gain one in Connecticut. New Hampshire and Vermont are regarded as certain republican territory and it would require a political revolution to bring about the election of democrats to congress from those states."

Mr. Lloyd declined to name the Maine and Connecticut districts he hopes to carry, but it is known that democratic leaders are sanguine of success in the old Littlefield district now represented by Representative Swasey. They expect to take every advantage of the republican factional trouble in the Portland district, where Asher C. Hinds recently defeated Col. Fred Hale, son of Senator Hale, for the republican nomination for congress.

In Connecticut the democratic hopes center in the New Haven district, where Representative Sprague is about to retire. It is felt that the man selected by the republicans to succeed

Mr. Sprague is not strong enough to carry the district, which was formerly always represented in congress by democrats.

MANY INJURED

By Explosion of Sewer Gas

NEW YORK, July 7.—An explosion of sewer gas in the cellar of a six-story tenement dwelling occupied by twenty-four families at 233 Moore street, Williamsburg, yesterday afternoon did considerable damage and caused injuries to nearly a dozen people.

On the ground floor is a saloon kept by A. Harowitz. He noticed recently that the cellar became filled from time to time with the vapors of gas, and benzine and other combustibles that were drained into the sewer from the saloon and other places.

Harowitz was behind the bar at 3 p. m. yesterday evening with Joseph Benner, who was in front of the saloon. Benner, aged 23, of 233 Moore street, came in to buy a bottle of beer. The saloon keeper didn't any ice and he asked the woman to go to the cellar for it, at the same time handing her a lighted candle. When Mrs. Axelrod reached the cellar there was an explosion, which seemed to lift up the house. It broke all the show windows in the saloon and nearly half the windows in the dwelling and shattered the windows behind the bar and the glassware.

Mrs. Axelrod screamed and the explosion and hands by the fire which followed it. She crawled up the stairs and found the tenants had become panicky and many in their anxiety to get out were being trampled. Harowitz and Benner were cut by glass as was Mrs. Sophie Sherman, 21 years old, also of 233 Moore street, and other persons who were passing the saloon when the windows were blown out.

The explosion went through the power and caused seven manhole covers to be ripped up on the Moore street and Bogart street side of the building. An alarm of fire was turned in and firemen found Mrs. Axelrod where she had fallen. She and Mrs. Sherman were carried into a store and attended by an ambulance surgeon from St. Catherine's hospital. The rescues of the Stagg street police station were quick to clear the street of the thousands attracted by the explosion. The damage to the building was placed at $2500.

The sewer department will examine the sewer to see if it is damaged.

THE REST WAS SILENCE.

"Why do they say 'as smart as a steel trap'?" asked the talkative boarder. "I never could see anything particularly intellectual about a steel trap." "A steel trap is called smart," explained the elderly person in his sweetest voice, "because it knows exactly the right time to shut up." "Never might have been said, but in the circumstances it would have seemed fitting."

SHAKESPEARE ON ASPARAGUS.

Harry Pain is noted for his powers of smart repartee. Some time ago he attended a dinner party where his host had got a Shakespearean quotation for every item on the menu except the asparagus.

Mr. Pain was appealed to for some appropriate lines, and quick as thought he gave the following:

"Off with his head!
So much for sucking 'em!"

EXPORTS OF IRON

EXCEEDED THE IMPORTS BY A LARGE AMOUNT

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Exports of iron and steel manufactures in the last fifteen years exceeded imports thereof by 1,400 million dollars, while in the fifteen years immediately preceding the imports of this class of merchandise exceeded exports by 300 million dollars. Meaning the United States has become by far the world's largest producer of pig iron, domestic and steel into and out of the country represents a development in the domestic industry brought about in comparatively recent years. In the decade 1861-70, according to figures published by the bureau of statistics and the department of commerce and labor, imports of iron and steel were far in excess of exports thereof, the relative figures being imports, 255 million, exports, 85 million dollars; excess of imports, 170 million dollars. In the decade 1871-80 imports of iron and steel were valued at 425 million, while exports were valued at 147 million dollars, making the excess of imports 278 million. In the decade 1881-90 imports were 481 million and exports 195 million dollars, the excess of imports over exports having risen to 286 million dollars. In the closing decade of the last century, the period which marked the importation of the United States from an importer to an exporter of iron and steel manufactures, imports of that class aggregated 248 million and exports 334 million dollars, the excess of exports being 86 million dollars, while in the initial decade of the present century, the ten years ending with June of the present year, the value of iron and steel manufactures exported was 1,412 million dollars, or more than four times the value of the commodities imported, 307 million.

A clearer view of the changed relation of imports to exports of iron and steel is obtained by a consideration of the annual averages in the movements of each during the last half century. Of manufactures of iron and steel imported the annual average in the decade 1861-70 was 255 million dollars, in 1871-80, 425 million; in 1881-90, 481 million; in 1891-1900, 25 million, and in 1901-10, about 30 million the maximum importation in any single year having been reached in 1873, $74,302,192. At the same time the annual average of the exports of iron and steel in the decade 1861-70 was 85 million dollars, in 1871-80, 147 million; in 1881-90, 195 million; in 1891-1900, 481 million; in 1901-10, 1,412 million, the largest total, $183,932,182, having been made in 1908.

The marked increase in the net exports of iron and steel represents actual growth in quantities as well as values, many of the representatives articles having commanded in 1910, both at home and abroad, lower prices than in earlier years. Of pig iron, for example, the average price in Philadelphia for No. 1 foundry fell from $19.58 in 1906 to $17.81 in 1909. Of rolled bar iron, best refined, the Pittsburgh quotation dropped from $48.12 per ton in 1906 to $36.40 in 1909; of steel rails, from $32.29 per ton to $28.00. Of wire No. 10, L. & O. C., Chicago, from $2.76 per 100 pounds in 1906 to $2.00 in 1909, while in 1910 prices are even lower. Prices abroad follow a similar course, as is shown by the lower valuations of iron and steel in the import foreign markets in which the merchandise originates. Of tin plates, for example, the average import price declined from 3.25 per pound in 1906 to 2.75 in 1909; of bar iron, from 2.25 per pound in 1906 to 1.50 in 1909, while certain other classes also showed in 1909 lower prices than in 1906.

The principal manufactures of iron and steel imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1910, just closed, are: machinery, about 9 million dollars; pig iron, 61.2 million; tin plates, 11.2 million; ingots, blooms, etc., 31.2 million; cutlery, 13.4 million; wire and articles made from

SUIT FOR $5,000

ALIENATION OF WIFE'S AFFECTIONS IS ALLEGED

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 7.—Donn D. Gross of Hillsboro was made defendant in a suit for $5000 brought by Howard B. Dale of Hillsboro Bridge in which the plaintiff alleges that Gross alienated the affections of his wife. The papers were given to Deputy Sheriff Frank A. Gay of Hillsboro for service and he was taken to Manchester. Gross was unable to secure bail at once and was taken to the county jail here.

Gross retained Irving E. Forbes of this city as counsel and he will file a petition with the superior court for a reduction of the bail. A hearing will be held before Chief Justice Robert M. Wallace at Henniker today. Charles Bailey of Hillsboro is counsel for Dale. Both the plaintiff and defendant are employed in the mills at Hillsboro and are well known in that town. The case in the case is returnable at the September term of the supreme court.

FRAUDULENT REMEDIES FOR THE HAIR

What Dr. Hutchinson Has to Say About Them

The Cosmopolitan Magazine for February, 1909, contained an article on the Hair and Scalp by Woods Hutchinson, M. D., which says: "The strongest and most powerful curative element in scalp-tonics and hair-restorers is their smell, and the next powerful is their color. Most of them are frauds pure and simple, and produce no effect whatever except upon the imagination and the nostrils of the users. The most common constituent of them all is alcohol, and the next common probably ammonia, or some aromatic oil or extract which has the double advantage of a powerful odor and of producing a mild sense of warmth and local irritation. All of this class are mild irritants to the skin and produce a light temporary reddening by an increase in the amount of blood circulating through the scalp; but this has about as much effect on the hair-bulbs as the beams of the harvest moon have upon growing cabbages." Theophile is tearing but that falls out, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by these fakes and frauds. The only sure way to benefit the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this purpose Dr. Hutchinson's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation, is most highly recommended, as it is made of Refined Soap, Glycerin and Sulphuric Acid. Any doctor will tell you there are no better things known than these for cleansing the hair and scalp. Tubes 25c, Jars 50c.

Haigh was nearly dismembered and his nose was broken and head badly cut. His injuries were so serious that he was hurried to the Maine General hospital at Portland.

Tyman's head was cut in several places and he was badly bruised about the shoulders and arms. He was taken to his home in Sanford.

Haigh is married and has two children, was very sick, and Tyman is married and has four children, the youngest born Monday night.

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

The committee on accounts last night held up three bills. Two of them were sent in by W. P. Brazer & Co. for $88.45 and $162.15, respectively, being the charges for playground equipment for the common. The bills were held back to be itemized. A bill of $20 for a mileage book sold to the buildings department was held up to enable the committee to find out the necessity for such book.

The opinion of City Solicitor Duncan on the salary of Frank M. Brogan as temporary assessor was read. His opinion states that the city solicitor believes that Mr. Brogan cannot legally draw his salary for the time he was acting as assessor.

ALL ABOARD FOR BETTER FARMING!

By CHARLES N. LURIE.

WHAT is in it for the railroad? Everything. The Germans have a saying, "One hand washes the other, and they both become clean." So it is with the agriculturalists and the railroads. The latter help the men of the plow to grow better and larger crops by bringing the latest scientific agricultural information almost to their thresholds. The farmers repay the railroads with bigger carloads of freight. And the greatest benefit accrues, of course, to the country at large.

It really amazes one to note with what rapidity the idea of special railroad agricultural trains is spreading over the country. Every section of Uncle Sam's domain is being toured by the men who attack the problem of agriculture from its scientific side, and they are meeting with encouragement and enthusiasm.

There are no leaders in the movement by the railroads to "give every farmer in the country a short course in scientific agriculture," without money and without price. East and west, north and south, the officials are enthusiastic over the scheme. The trolley men are in it too. One of the most successful of the recent railroad courses in farming was that given by the trolley special which toured western Massachusetts. In the rest of the country the course seems to have been confined to steam railroads.

What the Movement Means.

For those who may not be familiar with the underlying principle of this railroad farming scheme a brief explanation may be necessary. The idea is simply this: "The railroads traversing farming territories co-operate with the state agricultural colleges and experiment stations in spreading among the farmers the knowledge of scientific agriculture. Cars are fitted up with the latest agricultural implements, specimens, charts, fertilizers, etc., and the experts of the colleges and stations accompany them to explain them to the farmers and deliver lectures. Brief stops are made at scheduled points. Every effort is made to spread knowledge of the lectures and exhibitions among the farmers and to induce them to attend. The station agents of the railroads are pressed into service to tell their farming neighbors about the coming of the trains; the local newspapers are asked for space; posters and circulars are distributed. The result is generally the welcoming of the agricultural trains by throngs of interested, intelligent, progressive farmers, who are anxious to increase the productivity of their fields and improve the quality of their products.

Special efforts are made to interest the children in these matters. According to one prominent railroad official: "We are building for the future. We aim to interest the children in improved farming, in the hope that they will realize their future opportunities to do great work for the advancement of the nation's material prosperity. Farm products are the basis of a great percentage of our wealth. We are aiming to call the attention of the farmer of the present to the fact that in the matter of obtaining the best results from every acre of ground America is woefully behind the nations of Europe. We hope to remedy this condition by introducing as widely as possible the knowledge of scientific agriculture, and we know no better means of attaining our aim than by bringing to the very door of the farmer facts showing how better methods of farming will help not only himself and his family, but the nation at large. We make thus a double appeal—one to the farmer's individual hope of gain and the other to his patriotism. Of course we are not entirely unselfish or altruistic or patriotic in this matter. Anything that will help the farmer to grow more or better crops helps the railroads that haul these crops."

Farmer's Wife Also Remembered.

The farmer's helpmate is not forgotten. In many of the railroad agricultural trains lectures are given on domestic science, food values and other topics of value to intelligent women. The lectures are practical and interesting and touch upon problems which arise in the daily course of work of the average farmer's wife. Of course the branches of farm work in which women are generally best are mainly interested, such as dairying, poultry raising, gardening, etc., are not neglected.

One of the most successful of recent agricultural trains was the "poultry special" run by the New York Central in co-operation with the agricultural college of Cornell university. Speaking of that train recalls to mind the fact that in England recently a similar poultry special run by one of the big railroads met with favor and success.

An idea of the variety of work undertaken by one of these railroad agricultural trains may be gathered from a recent description of a "North Dakota Farm Special Train" run on the Northern Pacific railroad. The train was operated along the line of the railroad for two weeks.

"The train will be equipped with some hot cars where the different types of farm machinery will be exhibited. The train will also carry literature for free distribution and exhibits of the different kinds of forest trees, shrubs and fruit trees that can be grown successfully in the state. Methods of planting, pruning and general care of the trees will be explained. Grain, grasses, forage crops, weeds and plants illustrating plant diseases will be shown, and methods of fighting diseases and weeds will be explained. One car will be devoted to live stock. Dairy and fat cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry will be on exhibition. The better types of stalls and mangers will be shown and also different rations to be fed to the live stock. Different kinds of poultry appliances and dairy utensils of the latest and approved kind will be placed where they can be easily examined. Special interest will be given to domestic economy. Miss Hoover and her assistants will have exhibits of sewing and cooking to assist in making the lectures as practical as possible. A day coach will be devoted to lectures for the ladies.

"Three meetings will be held each day. One will be from 8 to 11 or 12 o'clock, the afternoon session will be from 1:30 to 4 or 5 o'clock, and the evening session from 7 until 10 o'clock."

One of the prominent leaders in the movement to spread knowledge of better farming is William C. Brown, president of the New York Central.

He is the head of the recently formed Agricultural Improvement Association of New York State. The primary object of this movement, in which many prominent citizens of New York have manifested interest, is the attracting of attention to the opportunities offered by farm life in New York state. President Brown recently announced a policy of establishing demonstration farms by his railroad to indicate what can be done with a reasonable expenditure and intelligent management to yield a good living on lands now largely unused. The road purchased run-down farms, placed them in charge of expert agriculturists and purposes to show the farmers of the state what can be done with land generally supposed to be worthless. As these farms are brought up to good condition they will be offered for sale and others purchased. Another road has offered to purchase one or more run-down farms, to be turned over to the state department of agriculture or the colleges having courses in agriculture, for the purpose of demonstrating improved farm practice. In these cases the railroads have no large areas of land to dispose of, as some of the western railroads have, but the movement is prompted by a faith in agriculture and a belief in the greater utilization of farm lands.

BAD TIMES AHEAD FOR SMUGGLERS

UNLESS all signs fail this is to be a bad season for smuggling. It will have to be a very ingenious evader of the customs who will get past Mr. Loeb's men at New York without declaring whatever he has of dutiable goods. This goes also for the woman would be smuggler. Collector Loeb has determined to get for Uncle Sam the last penny that is coming to him, and he has tightened the net so closely that if his hopes are realized not even a foreign mosquito will be able to get through. The weather prediction for those persons who have been living elers and dealers in other goods whose business has been affected by the competition of wares on which no duty has been paid. The men who buy and sell precious stones have been the chief sufferers in the past, and they have joined now in the effort to put the extinguisher on the efforts of too enterprising passengers.

This is the place to inform the reader that no less than $10,000,000 worth of diamonds, pearls and other jewelry are smuggled into this country each year. It was a surprise to the writer to learn this; possibly it will be so to the reader. Yet the fact is stated on very good authority. The Precious Stone Importers' Protective association, composed of some of the leading dealers in the stones in New York, is authority for the statement, and its word is entitled to credence. Its members assert that the government has lost in the past at least $4,000,000 a year in duties on illegally imported precious stones. Add to this amount the sums that should reach the government coffers, but do not, from duties on silks, laces, furs, dresses, brandy, wines, etc., and it is easy to see why the men in Washington are making frantic appeals for more money. They need it when the custom taxes are evaded at such a rate as that.

The efforts of the honest diamond merchants of New York to protect themselves from the unfair competition of jewelers have taken shape in the offering to all who before May 1 next year will supply information leading to the arrest of persons smuggling precious stones for business purposes a reward of not less than $2,500, or at least 10 per cent of the foreign market value of the jewels if it exceeds that amount. Ludwig Nissen, president of the association, is now in Europe endeavoring to enlist the help of the large European dealers in the fight against smugglers.

What makes people smuggle is a question that has been asked many times in the past and has been answered in various ways. The case is perfectly clear with those who smuggle for business purposes—they need the money, and evading custom duties and then underselling competitors is one way of getting it. But how about the society people who smuggle? They surely do not need the money, and they do not smuggle in the goods for the purpose of selling them. The amounts saved on the cost of gowns and silks and furs and other articles of personal adornment cannot be the inducement that makes persons of great wealth run the risk of heavy fines and imprisonment in federal penitentiaries.

The psychologists have recently taken a hand in the matter of explaining smuggling. Prominent among them is Professor Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard, the eminent German American, who states his belief that the reason people smuggle is because they do not personally the government to themselves—that is, they do not regard Uncle Sam as a man whom they defraud when they evade the lawfully imposed custom duties. But that explanation is rejected, or at any rate, is not accepted by the majority of investigators of this interesting subject. These latter bulging brows assert that the temptation to smuggle is an irresistible reversion to the delight in running risks, in facing danger for its own sake—in other words, the smugglers delight in matching their wits with those of the custom official. It is the same spirit that makes a child desire to see how close it can put its finger to a candle flame without being burned.

But one would think that the widely published accounts of smugglers who have had their fingers burned would serve as a deterrent to others. It does not seem to do so. The game goes merrily on at all our ports of entry, especially at New York, by far the greatest of them all. But Collector Loeb has determined to put a stop to it there. He may do so partly, but it is safe to say that there will be smugglers as long as human nature remains what it is today.

ARTHUR J. BRINTON.

JUSTICE W. H. MOODY, WHO MAY RETIRE

WITH the probable retirement from public life of Supreme Court Justice William H. Moody, compelled to relinquish his duties by ill health, the United States will lose the services of one of her ablest, most energetic and distinguished citizens.

There is something supremely tragic about the ending of the career of Mr. Moody. It is as though the giant hand of disease had reached out to pluck him from his place of honor when the years seemed to open to him a long vista of usefulness and work and fame. For he is not old in years, as are most of his former colleagues of the supreme court bench. He is only fifty-seven years of age and the junior by almost a decade of the youngest of the men who sat with him on the highest bench of the land. It is less than four years since Mr. Moody took his place on that bench, seemingly with every right to look forward to a long term there and with the possibility of the chief justiceship before him. But the decisions of hope and reasonable expectation have been annulled by illness, and Justice Moody probably will retire.

It was a brilliant career of labor for the public good that ended when Justice Moody was compelled to abandon further work. As member of the house of representatives, secretary of the navy, attorney general and supreme court justice he earned fame and recognition of his ability and zeal in the public welfare. So instant was the recognition of his abilities in the house of representatives that, although one of the youngest members of the house at the time, having served only two terms, he was prominently named as a possible successor of Speaker David B. Henderson. Mostly because secretary of the navy by appointment of his intimate friend, President Roosevelt, before Mr. Henderson retired, but he is reported to have said that he would not have accepted the cabinet portfolio if he had known that Mr. Henderson was about to retire, as he preferred the place of which Speaker Reed said there was only one superior and no equal. The course of events, however, took Moody into the navy department, where he made a record for efficiency. His predecessor was John D. Long, who conducted the affairs of the department during the Spanish-American war. Then the attorney generalship became vacant through the election of Secretary Knox to the senate, and Moody became the government's legal adviser. That was in 1904. Two years later the retirement of Justice Brown left a vacancy on the supreme court bench, and Moody realized the ambition of years by taking his seat on the bench of that great tribunal.

It is recorded that Mr. Moody is not a man of wealth and that his appointment to the supreme court was preceded by doubt whether he would give residence between them. Yet Mr. Moody returned with vigor and abated from his transatlantic African and European trip at the very time when his friend and companion of only a year ago his appointment as secretary of the navy, attorney general and supreme court justice was totally incapacitated by illness and compelled to give up his duties on the bench.

The American ancestry of Justice Moody reaches far back to the early years of the seventeenth century, when his ancestor came to this country from England. He was born at Newbury, Mass., on Dec. 22, 1853. He was educated at Phillips academy, Andover, and at Harvard, receiving his degree in 1876. He entered on the practice of law in his native state and was district attorney of the eastern district of Massachusetts from 1879 to 1892. He went to congress to fill the vacancy caused by General Cogswell's death, in 1893. His home is in Harvard, Mass.

NEGLECTED WIVES

A 19 Year Old Couple Aired Their Grievance Before Judge Hadley—Bert Smithson Was Trimmed of $500 in a Card Game

It was the day of injured or neglected wives in police court this morning and as a result Probation Officer Blatney will be kept busy for some time to come as in most of the cases he was made arbitrator.

Drunks with Records

One of the drunks before the court said that he was a visitor and would like an opportunity to get to his New Hampshire home. It was found that this was his 25th appearance and he was warned that he had been before the court long enough. A fine was imposed. Another drunk, a female, also from New Hampshire stated that she had been out four hours in Lowell when she was arrested. But Deputy Dawsey produced her record and showed that she had been before court 40 times and she was sent to the house of correction for six months.

A Young Couple

A young man named Ethier was charged with threatening his wife and with non-support. He pleaded guilty of the former and not guilty of the latter charge. When the wife was called a young girl in short skirts appeared and announced that she was the wife. She said that they were married five months ago and that since that time her husband had never given her a copper. "He borrowed $10 to get married and I had to work to pay it back," she said. "I have been working until lately and I cannot work any longer." The pair are nineteen years of age and board with the defendant's mother.

In another case a defendant was charged with drunkenness and with hitting his wife, but the wife, a pretty woman, smilingly stated that she would not appear against her husband, and hence he was let down with a fine.

Father Offered to Serve

Martha Sullivan of Charles street was in court for assault and battery on May Latour, and the evidence brought out the fact that a little brother of the Sullivan girl threw stones at the Latour girl and that she threw them back, striking the boy in the face. Then the Sullivan boy's sister came to the rescue and struck the Latour girl, rendering her unconscious. Judge Hadley said a fine of $5, whereupon the Sullivan girl's mother, who was in court, said: "I cannot pay the fine just now, because I haven't the money, but if the court will let me I will serve the time for my daughter." Judge Hadley then placed the girl on probation on condition that she pay the fine within a month.

"OLD PARTY ORGAN"

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 7.—The eventual extinction of the "old party organ" newspaper was predicted today by W. H. Green How, of Hornell, president of the New York state Press association in his address before the organization which opened its annual convention here today.

"Newspaper plants are getting to be too costly and expensive," he said to journalists there by catering to no class. The public is getting too critical. Patriotism is taking the place of partisanship.

GOLD IMPORTS

Nearly Two Millions Shipped From London

NEW YORK, July 7.—The gold importation movement of 1901 had its inception today with the engagement of $1,750,000 in gold bars in London by Lazard Freres for import to the United States. Imports of the yellow metal were forecasted by the demands made on New York institutions by western banks for funds to finance land purchases in the west. Local bankers have recently sold large amounts of American securities abroad and are now availing themselves of these credits to strengthen their own position by importing gold.

MRS. ROBERTSON PRESENTS PICTURE OF HER FATHER TO THE CITY

Mrs. Mary F. Robertson of Dorchester, Mass., has written Mayor John F. Meehan, asking his permission to allow her to present the city with an oil painting of her father, David Rogers, who served in the city government in 1858-57. The mayor has accepted the gift, and this morning informed the donor that he, on behalf of the city, would be glad to give it a prominent place on the wall of a room in city hall. The letter sent to the mayor reads as follows:

44 Magnolia Street,
Dorchester, Mass.

Hon. John F. Meehan, Mayor of the City of Lowell.
My Dear Sir: My father, Mr. David Rogers, was a prominent citizen of Lowell from 1829 until the time of his decease in 1862. Having in mind the part which he always took in the business, political and social affairs of the city and also in consideration that he was a member of the city government in 1856 and 1857, I desire to present his oil portrait to the city of Lowell, and ask that the same may be placed in the city hall in such a location as you may be pleased to determine.

Kindly advise me at your earliest convenience and oblige,
Very respectfully,
Mrs. Mary F. Robertson,

Hathaway's theatre, the popular vaudeville playhouse located at the corner of Market and Shattuck streets, which was the property of A. E. Hathaway of New Bedford, has been sold to John I. Shannon, who has managed the theatre for several years. While a quitclaim deed was recorded in the registry of deeds at the court house in this city on June 20, the fact of the sale was kept very quiet. The price paid for the property, as well as the "good faith" of the house is not recorded and neither Messrs. Hathaway nor Shannon could be located today.

The building is assessed for $17,000, the land on which it is located is assessed for $18,850. The furnishings of the theatre are assessed for $20,000. People who have been regular patrons of the theatre were pleased to learn that Mr. Shannon had taken over the house, for each and every patron has been well satisfied with the manner in which Mr. Shannon has conducted the house during the years which he acted as resident manager.

SHOE MANUFACTURERS

Interested in Fight of the United Shoe Machinery Co.

BOSTON, July 7.—Shoe manufacturers of the country will watch with much interest the outcome of the legal proceedings begun today by the United Shoe Machinery company, which manufactures shoes being operated under lease by Thomas G. Plant company of this city, which has replaced the machines of the United Shoe company by those of another make.

The United company seeks an injunction in the Massachusetts supreme court to restrain the Plant company from using other machinery in an alleged violation of the agreement between the two companies. The bill in equity states that in April of this year the Plant company took out the machines of the United Shoe Machinery company and since then has only partially complied with the terms of the agreement in paying for the same. The bill also includes as a defendant Thomas G. Plant, who, it is alleged, wilfully induced the Plant company to violate the leases.

Anticipating such a bill, Mr. Plant issued a statement in the morning paper today to the effect that the United company was asked to remove its machines last winter in order that the Plant company might put in another set of machines. This the United refused to do and the Plant company took out the machines and stored them.

A LIVELY BLAZE

In the Salvation Army Barracks

An alarm from box five summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the barracks of the Salvation Army at the corner of Fletcher and Rock streets this morning, about 10:30 o'clock.

The army collects large quantities of old papers and this morning when a boy was sent downstairs to place the paper which was on the floor in the boiler, instead of piling the paper into the boiler he set fire to it and in a few minutes huge volumes of smoke were pouring through the doors and windows of the building.

Shortly after the department arrived on the scene the fire was extinguished. Owing to the fact that three of the boxes of the local fire alarm system are out of order as a result of the fire which broke out on the Thorndike street bridge Monday, when the hook at box five was pulled, there was but one blow recorded on the indicators. A telephone alarm, however, gave the firemen the alarm.

The intense heat resulting from the fire on the canal bridge last Monday burning through the leaden wound cable and the electrician, Henry Perault, deemed it advisable to cut away about two feet of the cable and re-core the wires. This work was started this morning and during the time the men were at work on the job boxes 4, 5 and 12 were out of commission.

PRESIDENT PLAYED GOLF

BEVERLY, July 7.—President Taft is going to extend the ten days' vacation which he began yesterday by taking a ten days' cruise on the yacht Mayflower, beginning July 18. The president's present vacation is not up until July 16, so this will leave only Sunday, the 17th, intervening. Accompanied by all the members of his immediate family, by his brother, Horace D. Taft, and by many friends as the limited quarters of the Mayflower will accommodate, the president will sail up the north coast. He will stop for a day or two at Bar Harbor and may drop in at several other resorts and points of interest. The golf sticks will be carried along and the president will play a round or two. He will also have an attractive looking set of eighteen holes on the horizon of the Mayflower. Commander Snowden is in command of the Mayflower. There is a chance that the tiny little Sylph may trail along in the wake of the Mayflower as a convoy but this has not been determined.

The president golfed this morning.

AFTER ALTITUDE RECORD

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 7.—With favorable weather conditions, Glenn H. Curtiss and Charles K. Hammon, who have been in exhibition aeroplanes here for some time, will make a long flight over the ocean late yesterday afternoon, says he prefers sailing over the water as he meets with fewer baffling air currents than on the land.

NEXT CONVENTION

Of National Educational Association May Go to Golden Gate

Z. X. Snyder of Colorado Nominated for President—Claims of San Francisco for Next Convention Set Forth—Other Matters

BOSTON, July 7.—Mr. Z. X. Snyder, principal of the Colorado state normal school was nominated by the committee on nominations for the next president of the association. Mr. Snyder received 21 votes, while his nearest competitor, Mrs. Young was given 10. San Francisco is the only place which has been prominently mentioned as the place for holding the next convention. The association voted to hold the 1906 convention in San Francisco and the local committee was even making arrangements for the great assembly up to the night before the earthquake. The disaster necessitated the transfer of the convention.

This year a delegation, headed by Alfred Roncovieri, superintendent of schools came to Boston by direction of the citizens of San Francisco and urged that the next convention be held at the Golden Gate. Today Mr. Roncovieri laid the claims of his city before the convention.

The report of the majority of the nominating committee in favor of Mr. Snyder was taken across Copple square to the New Old South church and at noon was presented to the annual meeting of the convention by D. B. Johnson of South Carolina.

Mrs. Katherine D. Blake of New York immediately presented the minority report, favoring Mrs. Young for president. Mrs. Young was made one of the vice presidents in the majority report.

The committee immediately took up the question of submitting the minority report for that of the majority.

Mrs. Ella Plagg Young of Chicago defeated Z. X. Snyder of Colorado as president of the National Educational association today by a vote of 617 to 376 the question being on the substitution of Mrs. Young's name for that of Mr. Snyder.

A HOT CAMPAIGN

BOSTON, July 7.—The teachers at the National Educational convention mixed a little politics with their study today in selecting a new board of governors. The campaign has been smoldering for nearly a week, starting with the advent of the boom last Friday for Mrs. Ella Plagg Young of Chicago for president. Since that time Mrs. Young's supporters have worked hard for her interests and while there has been no organized opposition, old members of the association, which is now in its 48th year, have declared themselves strongly against political campaign in the association.

The constitution of the association provides for selection of a board of government by the delegates but also provides for the presentation of a ticket by a nominating committee. The members of this committee were selected by ballot on Monday after the meeting at the stadium at which President Taft spoke. All the states chose delegates to the convention and the nominating committee met at 9 a. m. today in Trinity chapel for the purpose of deciding on a candidate for president as well as for officers, with the annual meeting following at noon in the new Old South church.

The main work of the convention went right on in spite of politics, special attention being paid today to children and teaching in the lower schools. Kindergarten work, various branches of child study and physical education were all discussed by well known authorities.

The officers of the association gave up all hopes today of obtaining the presence of former President Roosevelt and the convention will close in Tremont temple tomorrow evening with addresses by Mrs. N. K. Hunt, chairman of the women's branch of the Farmers' Institute work of North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C., president (emeritus) Eliot of Harvard and the new president of the association.

While the nominating committee was in session at Trinity chapel, parish church, nine departmental sessions and two joint sessions were in full swing.

Ralph A. Jones, librarian of the United States National Academy of Sciences, told the department that poorer college work was done by members of fraternities than by non-fraternity men.

The local school boards of New York city have been made practically useless, declared William H. Allen of the bureau of municipal research of New York before the department of child study.

"Snubbed and almost reviled, this asset has been lost to the city," he concluded.

"The physical condition of the average of the high school and college girl is only fair," Elizabeth A. Wright, director of the gymnasium of Radcliffe college, informed the department of education.

GOVERNOR'S COUNCIL

BOSTON, July 7.—The executive council at a meeting today voted to take no action on the petition of Jeremiah J. McCarthy, customs surveyor at Boston, for a hearing on his charges against the civil service commission.

After the nomination of Mr. McCarthy by Mayor Fitzgerald to be fire commissioner of Boston had failed of confirmation by the civil service commission Mr. McCarthy sent his petition to the executive council, charging that the commission had failed to comply with certain laws governing its actions. After the council had consulted with Attorney General Dana Malone it concluded that no action was necessary.

DUKE BURIED

DREUX, France, July 7.—The Duke d'Alencon was buried today in Orleans in the chapel beside his wife, who was buried in death in the charity bazaar fire of 1897. The line of Bulgaria, representatives of the royal houses of Spain, Portugal and Belgium and members of the French Bourbon family were present. Strong detachments of troops preserved order.

The Duke d'Alencon was a second son of Louis Napoleon, who died in 1871, and a grandson of Louis Philippe, king of the French. He was born in 1844 and his elder brother is claimant to the French throne.

DREYFUSS TURNED DOWN

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—President Thomas J. Lynch of the National league has turned down Barney Dreyfus and the Pittsburgh club in its demand that Johnny Evers of the Cubs be disciplined for his alleged unbecoming conduct on the field during the game at Pittsburgh on June 25.

Dreyfus had received a letter from the league chief, stating that Lynch had referred the matter to the Chicago management, and that Pittsburgh would have no further trouble with Chicago players while in Pittsburgh.

It was claimed that when the Cubs were losing the game Evers used rough language in the hearing of women in the stands.

TREASURE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons offers a picture that every American, young and old, should see. "Old Glory" is its title, and it shows the main events in the history of the flag of this country from the first making by Betsey Ross to the present day. It is the most complete patriotic and historical picture ever shown in Lowell and its lessons are all good. There are many very impressive scenes and some are rarely beautiful. It is staged by the Vitaphone company, and not one detail has been neglected. Everything is historically correct, costumes, stage settings and names are all good. There are many very interesting and instructive talks ever heard in Lowell and whose work will greatly increase the impressiveness and interest in this unusual picture. There are several other noteworthy pictures on the bill, including one showing many difficult feats of horsemanship by Russian Cossacks.

SEC. KNOX IN RACE FOR CHIEF JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT

On landing in congress Mr. Martin agreed sugar was his specialty, and he has made good to such an extent that he has Washington going around in circles, the sugar trust doing its worst to keep him out. Nearly the whole membership of the Five Hundred club was called to testify in the case; which disrupted the social fabric of Sheraden. In setting aside the jury's return and giving judgment for the plaintiff Judge Evans held:

"The plaintiff requested the defendant to make the statement, and there is no pretense the statement she made was other than the statement which the plaintiff requested. This may be considered a privileged communication."

LARGE EXODUS

From Holy Ghost and Us Colony

FREEPORT, Me., July 7.—A large exodus of members of the Holy Ghost and Us colony at Shiloh, Me., to the holy land is believed to have begun this morning, when four wagons filled with men, women and children and luggage passed through here at sunrise. It is thought they were on their way to board the bark Kingdom, which has been sailing back and forth outside the three mile limit off Casco bay.

Rev. Frank Sandford, leader of the Shiloh colony, for whom the sheriff of Cumberland county has a writ in a $100,000 damage suit, is believed to be aboard the Kingdom and to avoid the sheriff has not allowed the bark to come inside. The suit was brought by Mrs. Florence Whitler of Boston, who alleges that she was detained against her will at the Shiloh colony and abused by Sandford. After some difficulty, Mrs. Whitler was released from the colony several months ago, but her husband refused to leave, stating that he believed Sandford's teachings were right.

A MERRY WAR

Fight for Washington Senatorship

SHATTLE, Wash., July 7.—Miles Poindexter is on his way home with the assurance that Colonel Roosevelt will support him in his race for the United States senate. Representative Poindexter represents the district in which Secretary Baileys lives and is one of the most bitter foes of Mr. Baileys.

MILES POINDEXTER

linger. Poindexter will try to oust Senator Piles, known as a "bad man." The result of this fight promises to be most interesting. Mr. Baileys when he heard that Roosevelt had O. K'd Poindexter is quoted as saying, "I am on my way to Seattle, and I can promise that Mr. Poindexter will not be the next United States senator from Washington."

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Drastic Steps to Be Taken Against Them

BOSTON, July 7.—Reckless or drunken chauffeurs can expect but little mercy at the hands of the courts. Daniel McPherson of Roxbury is a case in point. He was intoxicated and Judge De Courcy of the superior court sent him to prison for four months. The highway commission, from whom chauffeurs secure their licenses and without a license they cannot operate in this state, do not hesitate an instant in taking the license of a man against whom the accusation of drinking has been proven.

His name goes on the black list and is likely to remain there for good and ever. It was only last week that six very prominent women of this city, all friends and acquaintances of Mayor Fitzgerald, had the narrowest kind of a shave from either the hospital or the cemetery.

The chauffeur was drunk. He took down grades at such speed that the auto in striking a depression in the road at the base of one of these hills lifted and very nearly turned turtle. The ladies were forced to go to their homes in electric.

It was shown in the case of McPherson, whose sentence was heard yesterday, that the man in his court excitement attempted to break all speed records on Columbus avenue.

In the height of his speed, McPherson struck Joseph Gleason, knocking him down and breaking his arm. Before sentence was passed McPherson's mother told the court that her son was her sole support and asked for leniency. To this Judge De Courcy replied: "Alas, that is the unfortunate and invariable rule in these cases. The ones who are not guilty must suffer, but if you did not impose sentence on that account no one would be punished for crime."

The court then went on to say that the young man was lucky that he did not have to face a charge of manslaughter. "Any one who drives one of these terrible machines," he said, "with all its possibilities for danger, while under the influence of liquor is a menace to the community."

Mayor of Lynn Gives Instructions to the Police Are Being Enjoyed by Number of Children

LYNN, July 7.—Carelessness on the part of Policeman James H. Carroll, who with Shoe Manufacturer Thomas A. Landrean was killed by bandits 10 days ago, was alleged at a meeting of the Lynn Merchants' association yesterday.

Captain William C. Jones of Company I, Eighth regiment, declared that the policeman had violated a rule that a sentinel should strictly observe, inasmuch as he was engaged in conversation with Mr. Landrean while carrying the $4500 payroll from the bank. His contention was that the policeman should have been more watchful. Pistols in belts.

The merchants met for the securing of better police protection. Resolutions were adopted asking for additional police officers, for revolver practice by the police, and for the carrying of revolvers in belts so that they could be drawn at an instant's notice.

At the close of the meeting those present went in a body to the mayor's office. There a conference of an hour was held with the city's chief executive.

A. Gus Johnson, chairman of the committee which arranged for the meeting, learned that provision had been made by Mayor Rich for many of the reforms favored by the merchants.

Mayor Rich did not favor the carrying of revolvers in belts, as in case of riot he feared there would be danger of the weapons being stolen from the officers. Among the details of the manufacturers' increased protection plan is the stationing of a special guard in the bank and factory districts between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock Saturday morning, when money is drawn from the payrolls.

The merchants in their resolutions, recommended:

"Therefore, Be it resolved that we request the mayor of our city government to provide at the police station modern automatic rifles of a type and kind best suited for the police of our city; that they fit up in the basement of the police station a practice range so that the officers can become experts in the use of their weapons; that a police signal be adopted by our fire alarm system which will immediately notify automobile owners that they are needed by the police department to assist with their cars in case of emergency; that a wider scope be given to the police department for the investigation of suspicious characters in the town, and that upon reasonable evidence that such characters cannot give a proper account of themselves, steps be taken with a view to having them carefully watched if they cannot be induced to leave the city."

Mayor Rich said at the close of the conference that he would begin the reform movement by instructing Chief of Police Burkes to direct officers on duty at Central square to begin a crusade for the removal of curbstone loiterers. He will also instruct that the police indulge in frequent target practice.

Now that the excitement of the Fourth is a thing of the past for another year, and the Wild West show has gone its way the youngsters are directing their entire attention to the commons and playgrounds.

Considerable new apparatus has been installed on the commons and there is more to come. The playground opened under supervision on the South common yesterday, but because of the wild west show the attendance was not very large.

The principal supervisors, Mr. G. C. Wilton and Miss Anna Moran, were on hand and also Miss Barnard and Mr. Scarfe, two of the assistants. The boys were more in evidence than the girls and baseball games were in order. The swings and teeters were in constant demand by both the boys and girls.

The attendance today was much larger than yesterday and the children entered into it with a spirit that was nothing if not whole souled. It will require several days to get the work organized and running smoothly, but that playgrounds under supervision are a success there is no doubt.

Mr. Wilton, the head supervisor, wishes to meet the captains of the grammar school baseball league at the Young Men's Christian Association this evening, to see about continuing the league games this season.

AT SELLER'S RISK

BANGOR, Me., July 7.—What is considered an important decision has been handed down by the Maine law court to the effect that a purchaser is not liable for goods ordered to be delivered at a certain time and shipped in advance of that time.

The case was an action brought by a New York clothing firm against a Bangor retailer, who bought winter clothing to be delivered Sept. 1, 1908. The goods arrived Aug. 11 and were burned in a freight-house fire Aug. 17. The defendant claimed the order specified the goods should not be delivered until the date named, as defendant had no room to handle them. The law court rules that the plaintiff's action cannot be maintained.

FIREMAN WAS BURNED BY A LIVE WIRE

BANGOR, Me., July 7.—Fire which started in a bakery on the first floor of a four story block at 205 Exchange street last night did a damage of $15,000 and resulted in the injury of one fireman, John Wilshire.

Wilshire came in contact with a live wire and was so badly burned that he is in a critical condition at the East Maine General hospital. Half a dozen firms suffered heavy loss from the flames. The building is owned by the Phillips estate.

PRESIDENT LOWELL

Tells Educators About the College Elective System

BOSTON, July 7.—Some interesting results gained at Harvard university regarding the extent to which the capacity required in one study can be transferred to another were communicated last night by President Lowell to the members of the National Education association at the general session in Tremont Temple.

Characterizing it as the most interesting and vital topic for educators at the present day, President Lowell said: "It would seem as if the latest experiments show that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the subject matter, it is not transferable, or transferable only to a very slight extent to any other subject matter; that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the transferable to a study it is transferable to a study in which that same method is applicable; that so far as it depends upon general conception or upon the general moral and intellectual attitude, as, for example, intensity of the effort put into the study, or diligence, and things of that sort, it is transferable indefinitely.

"The experiments tried have been tried mainly with children, and it may be that the qualities we find regarding the transferability of acquired capacity are not the same at all ages of life—that as a person gets more mature he may be able to transfer acquired methods more than a school child can, and may acquire more of the quality we call resourcefulness. At any rate, it is interesting to make observations upon that point."

President Lowell proceeded, with the aid of a diagram, to give results obtained over a period of 12 years, from 1897 to 1908, by considering the cases of Harvard men who had gone into the Harvard law and medical schools to see the result of a certain set of chosen studies subsequently pursued in the professional schools.

No Aid Evident

"The figures tend to show," he said, "that the taking of history in college, for example, is no great assistance when a man gets into the law school for obtaining the cum laude, and that the taking of science is no great assistance towards a man getting that degree. In the medical school, I was rather surprised that this should come out so definitely. The conclusion to be drawn would seem to be that it made comparatively little difference in regard to a man's success in the professional schools what subjects he devoted himself mainly to in college, but that it made an enormous difference how and with what power, ability and success he worked in college.

"The figures might show either that a man was born with the qualities which would enable him to gain honors both in the college and in the professional schools, or that he who has worked hard in college has acquired a power he would not otherwise have, and that he succeeds in the professional schools. Pedagogically the figures seem to mean for persons of mature age either that ability acquired in one branch of study as a method of thought and work is transferable to another to a very considerable extent, or that the general intellectual and moral attitude is far more important than the method.

Criticisms by Laity

Criticisms of public schools by the laity was discussed by James W. Crabtree, president of the State normal school in Peru, N.H.

"There are three classes of the laity," said Mr. Crabtree, "who pass criticism upon the public schools: (1) The smallest, least important, but a most troublesome one is the class known as the chronic faultfinders; (2) a much larger and a more dangerous class is composed of those whose disapproval is based on it something personal, either factional or otherwise selfish; (3) the larger class of people whose criticisms grow out of true loyalty to the public schools, and who are sincere in their interest in young people and a genuine desire to promote their welfare.

"The honest opinion of every thoughtful man is entitled to respect and consideration. The chronic blower, however, has no place in this class. He is the obstinate individual who is never satisfied. Whatever it is, wrong. If the discipline is strong, it is an outrage. If it is mild, it is branded as failure. Every teacher must accept with resignation the fact that the chronic faultfinder is now and always will be a part of his life.

Those who criticize because of some personal grievance and for other selfish reasons are the source of most of the serious troubles of the school. They resort to all kinds of extremes to get even with the superintendent, teacher or board member.

The greatest good comes from the best people. When this class of people speak their views are respected.

Expression of Thinkers

"The following opinion may be taken as representing the trend of feeling among a portion of the thinking laity: 'The school does not attach enough importance to what the pupil is to do immediately on leaving his studies. We must either keep our children out of the high school a portion of the time and teach them how to work and to work, or else the schools should have a very much more definite plan for their work on the theory that education should be for efficiency as well as for culture.'

"Colleges will wisely listen to the criticisms that come up from the laity and from the ranks of the teachers and cease attempting to force high schools to shape courses of study to meet certain arbitrary and arbitrary requirements. The laity looks upon the school as the public's way of expressing interest in the educational welfare and efficiency of its offspring and people will never be satisfied until the college, the high school and even the grammar grades take the time to account and plan their work on the theory that education should be for efficiency as well as for culture."

COURT ANTOINE

Won Prize in Recruiting Contest

Court St. Antoine, Catholic Order of Foresters, won the first prize in the recruiting contest which has been going on from January 1 to July 1, during which period the court added 355 new members to its already large number. This record was not equaled by any other court in either this country or Canada. The prize was a $100 silver cup offered by the order to the court which recruited the largest number of members.

Court Antoine now has the second largest membership in the order, Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago having the largest membership. Three cups were offered as prizes, one going to the court showing the largest membership on July 1, and which was won by Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago, another going to the court showing the largest increase between Jan. 1 and July 1, and which was won by Court Antoine, and a third going to the court showing the largest increase in proportion to membership. This last was given especially to encourage the smaller courts to double their numbers.

Simon Vigor, of Lawrence, state secretary, was present last night at the assembly of Court St. Antoine, and announced the glad news. The cups, he said, would be awarded the latter part of the month.

Besides the trophies going to the courts themselves, individual prizes were given members for bringing in the largest number of members. El H. Gregoire and Dr. A. G. Payette were the winners. Mr. Gregoire bringing in 55 and Dr. Payette 50.

GIRLS RESCUED

WERE SAVED BY DROWNING

BY TWO BOYS

BOSTON, July 7.—Prompt action on the part of Homer Kelley and Harold Ambrose saved 11-year-old Helen Ingall and her 12-year-old sister Beatrice of 78 Pleasant street, Winthrop, from drowning near the Thornton station at noon yesterday. The little girls had waded into a hole and were struggling for the third time when aid reached them.

The boys launched a boat and made a rapid trip to the spot where the drowning girls had gone down. The girls were taken into the boat and rowed ashore where the process of resuscitation brought them to consciousness. Medical aid was summoned and the physician said that both will recover.

ENGINEER KILLED

Fireman Was Hurled Through Window of Engine

PITTSFIELD, July 7.—Engineer Edward Brewer of North Adams, driving New York Central locomotive 1146, yesterday was scalded to death in a spectacular wreck at Coltsville, a little hamlet between Cheshire and Pittsfield yesterday afternoon at 5:30, and fireman John Lawler of Pittsfield, had a narrow escape from death, being hurled through the cab window into a field 40 feet away.

A broken flange on the wheel of the locomotive is said to have caused the disaster. Train 612, made up in Pittsfield, left the Union depot at 5:15. It consisted of a combination mail, express and baggage car and a passenger coach. There are four places where the train slows down between this city and Coltsville and the locomotive was apparently all right when it left the junction of the main line and the North Adams branch.

There is a straightaway run of three-quarters of a mile from the junction to Coltsville, where there is a single siding and a small combination station and a freight house.

At the beginning of the switch and in front of the Coltsville depot, the engine left the main track and entered the siding. Brewer was running between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

When the locomotive struck the siding, Brewer reversed and applied the brakes, but the momentum was so great and the distance to a string of five box cars so short, that the locomotive hit the first loaded freight car on the siding at almost full speed. This car was filled with general freight, including cotton in bales, molasses in barrels and machinery. It was a steel car, but the speeding engine slashed it in twain, ploughed its way through it, and jammed its nose into the second freight car, and then turned half around and twisted itself loose from the cars and rolled over on the tracks, a demolished giant. The tender finally passed across the cab and was upside down.

The combination car turned completely around and was headed in the opposite direction. The passenger car was started from its trucks.

A dozen passengers who were in the coach escaped with a few minor bruises. The body of Engineer Brewer was found at the firebox. He was scalded almost beyond recognition and his skull was fractured. He had been instantly killed.

Fireman John Lawler said, "I don't know what happened after we neared the siding until I recovered consciousness. They say I was hurled through the cab window, but I don't recall a thing but a terrible crash and darkness."

Lawler was bruised and scalded. He was taken to his home in an ambulance.

Delaney Burbank, mail agent, of Pittsfield, was working in the end of the mail car next to the engine when the crash came and was thrown into a corner of the car and bruised. The string of box cars on the siding was tossed off the track, and one of the cars was forced partially around the freight station.

LAWRENCE MAN

Says That He Paid Money to Three Persons

Salem, July 7.—"It is politics and politics is a funny business and makes strange bed fellows sometimes," was the answer made by Matthew A. Burns to a question put to him in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon.

For more than a week the trial of Mayor William P. White and others charged with conspiracy to bribe certain aldermen of Lawrence in 1909, to make possible the removal of Chief Hamilton of Lawrence has been on trial in the superior criminal court, Judge Schofield presiding. This afternoon the government concluded its case. Dist. Atty. Peters announced that as the government had used ex-Alderman Xavier Legendere as a witness, the indictment against him for receiving a bribe was not pressed. The district attorney had previously made an announcement as to Ernest Dubé, one of the present defendants.

Counsel for the defendants in their opening stated that Mayor White, George Smart, Matthews, Burns and Thomas A. Keegan, the remaining defendants, would each take the stand and tell their own story of the transactions in 1909.

Matthew A. Burns was the first witness for the defense and he told of the alleged payment of $500 of Chief Hamilton to aldermen who should vote for his confirmation. There was $200 each for Aldermen Moss and Wokel and Legendere and witness said that he held the money for Moss and Wokel until after the vote and then paid it to them.

He denied that he had been in any arrangement for the removal of the chief, although he said Hamilton had offered him $500 to fix the matter for him. He declared that he had fallen out with the mayor the first of the year and would not vote for anything he advocated. The cause of the difference was that Mayor White had attacked the street superintendent, who was a friend of his. When asked if he thought it honest to throw aside the good of the city and vote against an order simply because the mayor had proposed it, he replied "It is politics and politics is a funny business and makes strange bed fellows sometimes."

SWAM 7 MILES

GIRL SAYS SHE GREW STRONGER THE FARTHER SHE WENT

BOSTON, July 7.—In just three hours and fifteen minutes Miss Rose Pitonof, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Pitonof, of 335 Freeport street, Dorchester, swam from the extremity of Commercial Point to Deer Island light, a distance of seven miles, yesterday. The feat undoubtedly is a record for a girl of Miss Pitonof's age. She will attempt to swim to Boston light from the Charlestown bridge in August.

"I felt fatigued when I had covered about half the distance," said Miss Pitonof to a reporter at her home last night, "but then I seemed to grow strong the more I swam."

"No, I didn't feel afraid when I was crossing the main ship channel," she declared in answer to the reporter's query. "I knew that papa and Professor De Costa were nearby and that they would take good care of me. A swim like that makes one awfully hungry."

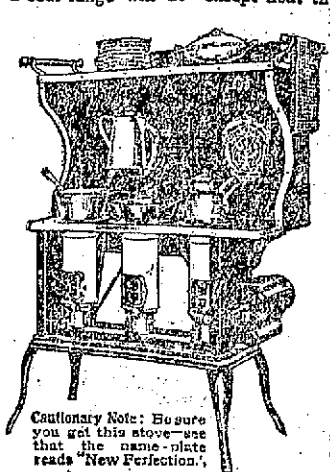

Fully 300 friends of the Pitonof family lined the beach of Dorchester bay when the girl plunged into the briny from the float of the public bath house at that place. As she struck the water the people cheered her. She was accompanied by her father, George De Costa, instructor at the bath house, and several newspaper men. Miss Pitonof wore a one-piece suit and a rubber head covering. She did not partake of any nourishment while she was in the water.

Sherman in his office. The bride, who gave her age as 18, is daughter of Lovell Ackley, who works in the Ludlow, Vt. creamery.

He heard of the marriage intentions of his daughter by telephone and sent word to Chief of Police J. H. Ober to stop the wedding, stating that the girl was only 17 years old and had known Andrews only since July 4, when he had accompanied her home and remained until he had sent his daughter to bed and ordered the young man from the house.

Meanwhile the wedding took place and the couple left here on an afternoon train for Bellows Falls. The girl is said to have stated before the ceremony that it was a case of elopement. It is claimed Andrews' parents reside in the west.

LABOR LEADER

WAS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED HERBERT S. CARRUTH

BOSTON, July 7.—Mayor Fitzgerald yesterday afternoon appointed Dennis D. Driscoll of 110 Wayland street, Roxbury, a prominent labor leader, who was shot at the State marriage license, as deputy penal Town Clerk Hiram C. Sherman in his office. The bride, who gave her age as 18, is daughter of Lovell Ackley, who works in the Ludlow, Vt. creamery.

The new appointee will fill the position which was held by Herbert S. Carruth until the latter's removal a few days before the last city election by the late Mayor Hibbard. Carruth's salary was $3500 a year. The position is one of the few offices at city hall which is not under civil service, and for that reason the new appointee will be able to take office today.

In the appointment of Mr. Driscoll the mayor secures the services of one of the most prominent members of the Central Labor Union.

INDIAN DROWNED

THE DEAD INDIAN VIEWED BY FRIENDS AT THE UNDERTAKERS

While Bathing in Concord River Yesterday Afternoon — Body Recovered by Frank Jelly of Richmond Street — Deceased Was a Noted Man in His Race

While thousands applauded the very creditable performances of the Indians and frontiersmen of the 101 Ranch Wild West show at the Fair grounds last evening, behind the scene of this wildly picturesque spectacle and in the little wigwams that were set at the further end of the field the silence of deep sorrow reigned over all, for only a few hours before "Corn," a full-blooded Sioux chief and one of the most noted redmen with the company, was drowned in the Concord river near the Six Arch bridge, while enjoying a swim with a few companions of his race.

The Indians partook of supper immediately after the afternoon performance, and about 5.30 "Corn," accompanied by several other Sioux, went down to the river to swim. They were directed to the swimming hole by a party of boys and soon had divested themselves of their heavy blankets and canvas clothing and were dispersing themselves in the soothing stream. None of them could swim, and hence all kept close to the shore, except "Corn," who ventured out about the treacherous swimming hole where a shelf of sand makes the water shallow for a distance and then suddenly stops, leaving a hole of great depth. Into this hole the unfortunate Indian was seen to disappear and when he did not appear again, his Indian companions, becoming terrified, rushed back to the fair grounds for assistance, leaving three boys who had been watching the swimmers on the river bank. These boys were Frank Jelly of 33 Richmond street, John Doolittle of 321 Corbett street, and George Kerwin of 342 Gorham street and Edward Molloy or Maloney, a noted swimmer. The boys immediately removed their clothes and waded into the water. "Corn" rose to the surface and struck out wildly, demonstrating to the boys that he could not swim. Jelly, who weighs only 110 pounds, was afraid to go forward for the drowning man, for the latter weighed considerably over 200 pounds, and undoubtedly would have pulled the boy down with him.

The Body Recovered
In his story to Medical Examiner Meigs, the Jelly boy said: "The Indian came to the surface four or six times before he finally disappeared. I think I could have saved him if he hadn't been so big and strong. I was afraid that if I got too close to him he would grab me and bring me down with him. After the body disappeared I dove down and brought it up, and Doolittle and Kerwin helped me bring it ashore." The Molloy boy by another account is given the credit of diving down and hooking a rubber band on the body to bring it to the surface.

Several white men and Indians rushed to the scene upon learning that "Corn" had been drowned, while his wife and daughter, who are also with the show, were on the scene heart-broken over the sad happening. The body was removed to Higgins Brothers' establishment to be prepared for shipment to Porcupine Ranch, Pine Ridge

Agency, South Dakota, where he and his family had valuable land holdings.

"Corn's" Historic Name

Just what "Corn's" Indian name was the show people do not know. He had been with the Miller Bros. two seasons, and when not with them was engaged cultivating his lands in South Dakota. He owns 640 acres, and his wife and daughter, the latter 20 years of age, have 320 acres each.

During the first big rush for land in Oklahoma many hundreds of the whites who were "booming" ran short of provisions. They were in a desperate plight, when a tall, fine-looking Indian came to the rescue. He doled out corn to them, and saved their lives and from that time on he was known by the name of the food he gave to these men. His poetic Indian name, if he had any, was immediately forgotten by the name of "Corn."

He was a man of exceptional beauty judged by aboriginal standards. He was six feet, four inches in height and weighed 250 pounds, although he had the appearance of weighing much more. He was all sinew and muscle and was one of the best "show" Indians in the country. As a huntsman he was quite noted among the Indians of the ridge, and his strength was said to be something to marvel at. "Corn" was 52 years of age. His wife's Indian name is Givo Away Horse, but with the show is known as "Rose Corn," while the daughter's name is "Mary Corn." The family are Roman Catholics and the writer was informed by William Bearshield, a Ponca Indian interpreter with the show, that nearly all of the Indians are Catholics.

Indians Dejected

The Indians with the show were greatly downcast over the death of "Corn" and showed their sorrow by an almost ominous silence. It was planned at first to allow them all to review the remains at the undertaker's after the evening performance. But owing to their condition of mind over the sad event and the proximity of several saboteurs it was deemed best to keep them under restraint. The greater part of the Indian show was omitted and the performers were allowed the privacy of their wigwams. The Miller Brothers take these Indians from the government reservation and are called upon to give a bond for their safe return. They are placed under particularly strict regulations relative to allowing them to have liquor, which is the Red Man's worst enemy, and there is a severe penalty for selling liquor to an Indian.

Funeral Arrangements

Peter McNally, press agent for the Miller Brothers and William Bearshield the interpreter, remained in this city over night to complete the funeral arrangements, and the wife and daughter also remained and will accompany the body over the long trail to their home in the far west. The employees of the show took up a collection for the widow, while the management rewarded the three boys who recovered the body.

Undertakers Higgins Brothers embalmed the body and then laid it out in native costume in a sealed casket which was shipped from this city this afternoon. The scene was decidedly pathetic as the little sorrowful-faced women in their race entered the train after watching mutely the railroad employees place the huge box containing the body in the baggage car. Mr. McNally accompanied the body to Boston and looked after its transfer to the western train, while the Indian interpreter went to Woonsocket, R.I., to join the show, for the show, like the world itself, "goes on," no matter who drops by the wayside.

WOMAN LOST

SHE DID NOT KNOW WHERE SHE LIVED

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mrs. Amelia Bauer told a story in the Yorkville police court yesterday about being lost from her home that puzzled those that took an interest in her case.

She said she left her home at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night wheeling her three-months-old baby uptown to a park near the East river. At midnight Policeman Solomon found her and the baby at First avenue and Sixty-fifth street. The woman told him that she couldn't remember the street in which she lived, but did know that the number was 353. The policeman took her to the station and then to court.

In court she said she was married in Hoboken a year and a half ago and that she and her husband, Geo. Bauer, moved from 61 Madison street, Hoboken, to this city two weeks ago. Her husband went to work in Greenbaum's sausage factory, which was three blocks from her home. Her husband was asleep when she left home, she declared.

Magistrate Krotel turned the woman over to Miss Broadhead, the probation officer, who telephoned to all the Greenbaums in the city in the same business. It was found they did not know George Bauer. Police headquarters had no report of a George Bauer looking for a lost wife and baby, nor had any other desolate husband made inquiries. The woman was fairly well dressed. The baby looked well cared for. Mrs. Bauer could not remember the name of the clergyman who married her. Miss Broadhead took her through streets on the upper East Side, but Mrs. Bauer recognized none of them as hers. Finally she was taken to the Hoboken address. There the janitress said, "Why of course I know her," and gave the New York address.

While the probation officer and Mrs. Bauer were in Hoboken the husband showed up in court in search of his wife and was sent to Hoboken for her. His address, he said, is 355 East Ninety-fourth street.

TO BREAK WILL

WOMAN LEFT PRACTICALLY ALL OF ESTATE FOR MAUSOLEUM

NEW YORK, July 7.—A suit to upset the probate of the will of Elizabeth Bastian of 309 East 89th street, who died on Feb. 11, 1909, and left practically her entire estate in this country, worth $55,000, to build and maintain a mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery, has been begun by her half-sister, Mrs. Emma Bolen of Grantwood, N. J., and her half-brothers, John and George von Hofe of Astoria. They declare that Miss Bastian was a monomaniac and believed that the life to come would be more enjoyable than the life on earth. For that reason they say she lived penuriously on earth so that she could live more luxuriously after death.

In her will Miss Bastian left the plaintiffs only $1 each because of the "subject scorn and derision" with which they had treated her from the time she came here from Germany. Miss Bastian had been the companion of Mrs. Marie Helme, and most of her money came to her under Mrs. Helme's will. She directed that $50,000 be set aside to build the mausoleum, in which certain of her friends were to be buried with her, and that $5,000 worth of jewelry be sold and added to the fund. She directed that if anything remained in the estate after the tomb was built and certain small legacies were paid it was to go to the Westlawn cemetery for repairs to the tomb and for shrubbery and flowers.

The testatrix said in her will that she was contemplating a trip to Europe and she directed that in case she died at sea and her body was not brought to land the mausoleum should be built just the same and that "the executors shall reserve the metal drawer in the catacomb located on the right hand side as you enter the said mausoleum and have an inscription made thereon containing my name and the date of my birth and death, and no one else placed in said place reserved for me."

NATIONAL BANK EXAMINERS

CHICAGO, July 7.—The national bank examiners of the Sixth district closed a two days' semi-annual meeting yesterday after making some drastic recommendations to the controller of the currency relative to the methods of checking up of country banks. In a resolution adopted by the examiners, the controller is advised to make strict investigations of the country banks and adopt new regulations for controlling their reports.

Some country banks, it was maintained by the experts attending the meeting, have been guilty of evasions of the national banking laws by borrowing money from city banks so that the exact state and extent of their liabilities in their published statements may not be shown to the public.

FIREWORKS TEST CASE

NEW YORK, July 7.—Two little packs of squibs were produced in the Tombs court yesterday by Detective Walsh, who said he had brought them from Pain's store at 12 Park place on last Friday. Edward H. Walsh, the clerk who had served him, was in court in answer to a summons. The complaint was that Pain had no retail license.

Magistrate Murphy looked first at the little firecrackers and then at the big detective.

"I'm not going to issue a warrant for any such nonsense as this," he said. "Here, take these things away. Mr. Walsh, you are discharged."

THE MONROE DOCTRINE
BERLIN, July 7.—It is unthinkable that Germany from any point of view should be inclined to oppose the Monroe doctrine according to a semi-official review in the Vossische Zeitung of Admiral Mahan's article regarding the American, British and German navies, published in England recently. There is beside no other point on which Germany is likely to come into conflict with the United States. "Admiral Mahan can have found no reason in American affairs calling for warning Americans against Germany. He wrote his opinion from the purest love of his own country but he is a dreamer in political strategy and builds up circumstances which really do not exist. If we contest this train of thought we are still far from the intention of worrying ourselves in any way concerning the right and liberty of the United States to strengthen their fleet according to their own ideas."

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 7.—Politics and in particular politics in the central west was expected to be considered at a conference today at Sagamore Hill. Dudley Foulke of Indiana is here today having come down from New York last night.

COL. ROOSEVELT

WAS VISITED BY NEW HAMPSHIRE "POLIS"

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 7.—A delegation of visitors to Col. Roosevelt arrived from New York on the noon train. There were six in the party, two of whom were United States senators, Beveridge and Carter. The others were John Bass, the war correspondent, and his brother Robert, Winston Churchill, the novelist, and James R. Sheffield, Robert Bass and Mr. Churchill are republican insurgents of New Hampshire. Mr. Bass is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of New Hampshire, which Mr. Churchill endeavored unsuccessfully to obtain.

The two men are to lay the situation in New Hampshire before Col. Roosevelt, in an endeavor to enlist his sympathy and, if possible, his support in their contest.

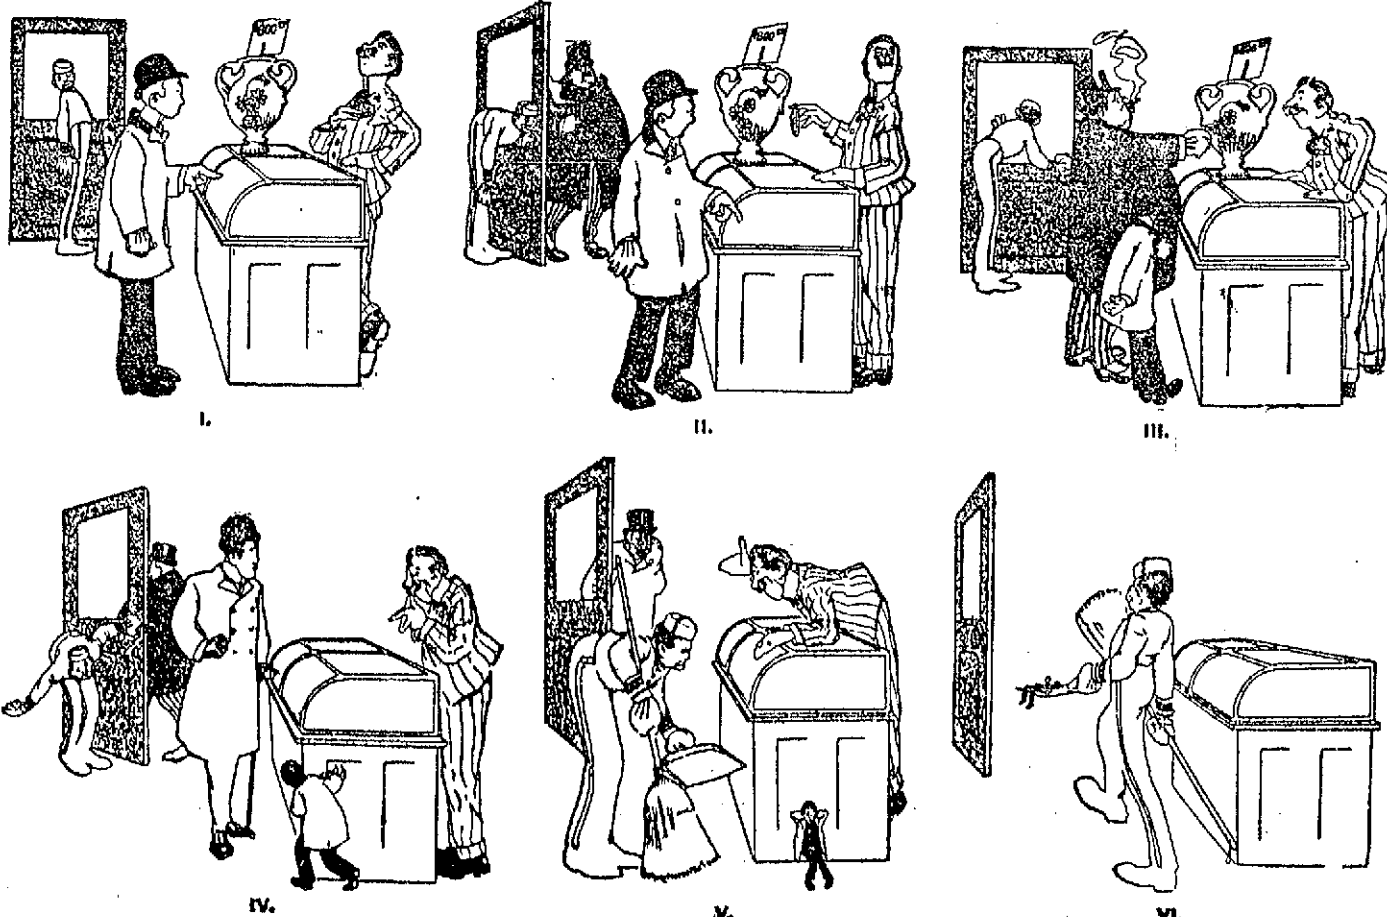

Senator Beveridge led the party which alighted from the train. The newspaper correspondents who are stationed here hemmed them in, but they had little to say except that they were going to have a pleasant talk with the colonel.

"We can't say anything now," Senator Beveridge said, throwing up his hands. "When we get back from Sagamore Hill we may have something to tell you."

The visitors said they would return to New York this afternoon.

Effective Demand Was Not Following a Decline—The Leading Features Of the Day's Operations

NEW YORK, July 7.—The stock market started with small dealings and narrow and irregular price changes, but the course of prices turned downward after the opening. Rock Island pfd. and Western Union fell 1 1/4; Rock Island and Denver and Rio Grande pfd 1, and Union Pacific, Reading, Canadian Pacific and Anaconda large fractions. Consolidated Gas gained 1.

The market made an abrupt upward turn after the earlier sag so that in a few minutes sharp losses were turned into equally sharp gains. Rallying from the low prices ran to 2 3/8 in Reading and 2 in Union Pacific. Over night advances of a point or more were made by many of the most active stocks.

The activity in the trading died down but the advanced level of prices was well maintained. Confirmation of yesterday's reports of gold secured in London for shipment to New York was a strengthening influence. Hocking Valley rose 5 on a few transactions and Sloss Sheffield Steel 3 1/2. Reading ran off over a point at noon with effect on the general tone. Bonds were irregular.

Prices fluctuated very irregularly, and at a lower range. Reading, St. Paul, Union Pacific, United States Steel and other leaders lost all of their morning rise. Missouri Pacific advanced 1 3/4.

Buying orders were encountered in the neighborhood of yesterday's closing and the list stiffened again. Union Pacific and Reading rising to about a point above yesterday's final figures. Business was extremely dull and confined principally to the most active stocks.

The market closed firm. Following a decline, effective demand was again encountered and prices rallied in some cases to the highest of the day.

Boston Copper Market

BOSTON, July 7.—There was very little interest in copper stocks early today but the general tendency was upward. At noon the market was still stagnant although North Lake had risen to 10 on fairly active dealings.

Boston Clearing House

BOSTON, July 7.—Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $29,547,968; balances, $2,290,853.

MAY WITHDRAW VENUS

WASHINGTON, July 7.—From the state department the report was given out today of rumors reaching it that former President Zelaya had offered to have the Venus withdrawn from Nicaraguan waters on certain conditions.

This would be the first admission from Zelaya if the rumor proved true, that he had any control over the armed vessel which has been plying on the eastern coast of Nicaragua, although previous reports to the department connected his name with the purchase and outfitting of the Venus and other boats for service in the interest of the Madrid forces in Nicaraguan waters.

The conditions which the rumor said Zelaya had imposed were that protection be given to his personal estate in Nicaragua which is reported to be very large, and that he be recompensed $50,000, the first payment made on the Emery claims, owned by Americans and adjusted in agreement between the United States and Nicaragua just before the uprising in the Central American country.

The source of the rumors was not disclosed.

The Venus, with several effective mounted guns, has been cruising along the eastern coast of Nicaragua, reducing several towns to the subjection of Madrid and otherwise assisting the cause of the Madrid government. The ship sailed from New Orleans, but it has been a matter of dispute as to where she mounted her guns.

RATE OF INTEREST

LONDON, July 7.—American and continental inquiries for gold have effectively barred all prospect of an immediate reduction in the bank rate. The directors of the Bank of England this morning decided to maintain the 3 per cent rate, although dealing on that basis at the present rate of exchange represents a loss.

DENOUNCED AS CRIMINAL

NEW YORK, July 7.—The moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight were denounced as criminal from the pulpit of the Church of the Divine Paternity today, where the twenty-second annual convention of the Young People's Christian union is being held.

When Victor A. Friend, chairman of the social service commission, in a report of that commission asked that the convention go on record as protesting against any exhibition of the fight pictures the assemblage broke into loud applause. Resolutions were passed protesting against the exhibition of the fight films.

And Her Mother at New Bedford
This MorningMother Will Die but Daughter
May Live—Manuel Monteiro Went to New Bedford From Lawrence and Was Aroused by the Mother's Opposition to the Marriage

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 7.—Manuel Monteiro, shot his sweetheart, Matilda Cosmas Lopes and her mother, Aracena, as they were on their way to work at 6.15 o'clock. The mother is mortally wounded.

The girl will recover. Their assailant escaped.

Refusal by the mother to allow her daughter to marry him was the cause. The two women were shot at close range, the bullet piercing the mother's skull while the daughter who was shot in the head luckily escaped death by the bullet being deflected by one of the head bones. Monteiro who did the shooting recently moved to New Bedford from Lawrence.

The mother and daughter were both employees of the New England Cotton Yarn company and were on their way to work this morning when the shooting took place on North Water street.

Since Monteiro arrived in New Bedford he has not worked, but has hung around the home of the Lopes girl where he was regarded as an accepted suitor by the brothers of the girl.

Monteiro was apprehended by a Taunton officer on board an electric car at East Taunton. He denied his identity at first, but letters in his pockets indicated that he was the man sought. Some of these letters were addressed to Matilda and were in the nature of love letters from other men.

Monteiro's hat had three bullet holes in it and on the side of his head there was a scalp wound and some powder burns, showing, in the opinion of the police, that the man had attempted suicide. He had no revolver, but the police believe that he hid the weapon after attempting flight.

When Monteiro was taken to police headquarters his first question was, according to the officers, "Is either of the women dead?"

He was brought back to New Bedford on the noon train.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

It is admitted that "De white trash dat wad deny the niggahs de right to cheer for Mr. Johnson don't no nobs." Johnson deserves all the honor, if any, that goes with his well won title.

FOR A POLICE AUTOMOBILE

The police board has put in a requisition for an automobile for the department. Recent events in this and other cities have amply demonstrated the need of an automobile for the use of the police in catching criminals. Without an automobile the department in a great many cases will be entirely helpless.

LAND FOR PARK PURPOSES

We understand that there is an agitation on foot for the purchase of what is known as the Lakeview avenue baseball grounds for a public park. This land belongs to the Merrimack Manufacturing company and is on the river bank on the north side. If it can be purchased for a reasonable amount for park purposes the city should have it. It is needed in that locality just as Livingston park is needed in the Highlands. If the city can purchase both it should do so. The money will be well invested. The time may soon come when it will not be possible to purchase such tracts of land for park purposes. It is necessary to look ahead sometimes to a future generation when planning for a great city.

FOR A COMFORT STATION

There has been a good deal of talk of a comfort station at or near Merrimack square, and the necessity of such a station is admitted by all. The question of location is the main thing to be decided. It is quite easy to construct a station for men underneath the surface of the street with sanitary arrangements that would completely eliminate all odors. The construction might be expensive, but a station of this kind would be cheaper in the end than one on the street level for which the city would have to pay high rent. A street level station of course is to be preferred. The public necessity for a station at Merrimack square is so very great that something should be done to meet it in an adequate manner without delay.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN AS DICTATOR

Colonel Roosevelt has again undertaken to cast his influence on the side of a political candidate. He has endorsed Rep. Miles Poindexter for the United States senate for the alleged reason that Poindexter is opposed to the Ballinger wing of the republican party and in favor of Roosevelt's conservation policy. Mr. Ballinger in spite of Roosevelt's endorsement says that the state of Washington will never elect Poindexter to the United States senate. If this statement should prove to be true the outcome would put Col. Roosevelt in the biggest hole he has been deposited in for a long time. It would be even worse than the repudiation of his dictatorship in New York. Today he tries to take back his statement on the Poindexter fight and as usual to blame the newspapers.

We surmise that neither Washington nor any other state is going to submit to an arrogant dictatorship such as Colonel Roosevelt assumes when he supposes that by the mere fiat of his will the people of New York state, of Washington, of Massachusetts or of Ohio will meekly accept his command in the interests of "his policies" or any other policies. It will be found, we believe, in the end that when this glamor of hero worship with which Colonel Roosevelt is now landed shall have been cleared away he will find his political influence a great deal less powerful than he now supposes it to be. He will also find that the American voters will accept dictation from no man and particularly will they be suspicious of a man who is so much indebted to the republican party as is Colonel Roosevelt.

MR. BRYAN'S DECLARATION

Mr. Bryan has come out with a statement that he is not a candidate for any office. He made that statement on former occasions and afterwards accepted nominations for office. Judging from Mr. Bryan's tendencies we do not believe that this statement means that he could not be induced to become a candidate. We still think that he could be persuaded to accept the nomination for the presidency if offered to him; but we do not believe that the democrats in any part of the country will be foolish enough to consider him as a candidate for the presidency in 1912. To do so would be one of the best possible methods of throwing away a splendid opportunity to win a national victory.

Since Mr. Bryan has declared himself out of the fight, the democratic party should take him at his word and say amen. But it will be wrong for Mr. Bryan while not a candidate himself to continue to assault every democratic candidate mentioned as a presidential possibility. He has already attacked Governor Harmon of Ohio in spite of the fact that the Ohio official may be the strongest man the democrats can find. Mr. Bryan intimates that he reserves the right to discuss issues as he pleases. Of course he does. Nobody has attempted to deprive him of liberty of speech; but if he makes any pretensions to democratic loyalty he will put aside his policy of continual criticism of democratic candidates. If his ideals in regard to the principles a candidate should possess were carried out by the democrats they could not find a candidate good enough to nominate between now and doomsday. Mr. Bryan, we know, is an honest man and an able man, but if he looks for the highest perfection in a candidate in either party he will be greatly disappointed. It would, therefore, be unfair for him to set out to assail every candidate the democrats mention because of some slight fault or imperfection.

If the prospects do not change the democrats will have the best opportunity they have had since 1860 to nominate and elect a president in 1912, and unless the opportunity be lost by mismanagement, by dissension or the vaulting ambition of rival candidates, there is no reason why the party should not be installed in power and the republican cohorts driven to retirement.

A CRADLE SONG

Child with those questioning eyes,
Where will thy mother be
When thou has grown more wise,
When life has answered thee?
When future hopes and fears,
Built up of youthful dreams,
Nourished by happy years,
Fade as the sunset gleams?
Child with those questioning eyes,
Where will thy mother be?

Child of the tender heart,
Where will thy mother be?
When thou hast played thy part,
In life's brief tragedy?
When through rare days of joy,
Shouldst thou be forced to learn
That love is but a toy,
To cherish, then to spurn,
Child of the tender heart,
Where will thy mother be?

Child of my life and love,
This is my prayer for thee:
May thy faith strongest prove
In worst extremity—
And may thy smallest need
Of counsel, love or praise
To me thy fondest longings
Through life—and death always,
Child of my life and love,
Thine to Eternity.

—Julia W. Sawtelle, in June Ainslee's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

In a new play by Mr. Rupert Hughes, Mrs. Leslie Carter is to re-emerge next season. The actress is to have an "emotional" part which is reported to be entirely to her liking.

Elizabeth Hirsch has been elected vice president of the Legnizitz city council, and is the first woman to hold the position. She was elected because of her business ability. Several years ago her husband died and left her a large manufacturing plant. She took up the work where he left off and has not only increased the business, but made much money.

Annie Marion MacLean, author of "Wave-Bearing Women," has gone to Chicago to attend the wedding of her brother. Before her departure she delivered a number of lectures in New York, Newark and elsewhere on the general subject with which she is concerned in her book. Miss MacLean's ideas have been drawn from years of work in the Y. W. C. A., from prolonged investigation at a professor of sociology at Adelphi and from personal work among women of every class.

John A. DeCamp, principal of the Williamstown high school, has accepted in his resignation. He has accepted an offer to become superintendent of the city schools of Little Falls, N. Y. He has been principal of the school since March 1909, having been appointed to the position while he was still a senior in Williams college. He took charge of the work together with his college studies during the remainder of the year 1900 and the next fall took full charge of the school. With the resignation of Mr. DeCamp came that of Miss Sara Sears as a teacher in the school, whose engagement to Mr. DeCamp was announced a short time ago. Miss Sears is a graduate of Mount Holyoke college.

Elbert S. Hubbard of East Aurora has made the announcement that the peasant Passion players of Oberlin, Oregon are going to give a month's presentation of the passion play at East Aurora next summer. Mr. Hubbard's statement was based on a telegram received from Martin Beck of New York, who went to Switzerland to make arrangements for this event. Mr. Beck cabled from Switzerland to Mr. Hubbard, "Have succeeded." An auditorium is to be built at East Aurora and many landscape changes are to be made.

Thomas Hardy, Maurice Hewlett, and Bernard Shaw make an oddly assorted trio, and it is delightful to see them, office-holders in the Society of Authors, meeting together in their capacity of publishers. That the society, which includes more than half the three or four thousand authors in the country, is making its power felt has been evidenced by the recent request for a collection, and a more handsome state of relationship between the rival camps may now be looked for with some degree of confidence. At the last meeting Mr. Hewlett drew attention to the honor the society had done themselves by the election of Mr. Hardy as third president in succession to Lord Tennyson and George Meredith. Mr. Shaw complained that a great many members appeared to proceed on the assumption that the society did not exist. It was found that their idea of joining it was that the process was something like the confirmation. They had apparently never heard of the secretary. It was important that this state of things should be rectified without delay, in view of the monstrous agreements often drawn up by publishers and signed by unsuspecting authors without any preliminary reference to an expert authority.

Senator Carter was a White House caller and on leaving was surrounded by newspaper correspondents. Said the Montana senator: "It looks to me this way: Senator La Follette after his interview with Colonel Roosevelt yesterday said: 'Roosevelt is the greatest American living.'"

"And Roosevelt said: 'I don't think I can add anything to what the senator said.'"

Uncle Joe Cannon was one of the many members of the house who called at the White House to say good-bye to the president. As Uncle Joe was departing he spoke of his enormous mail, which he said was not so heavy as that of Theodore Roosevelt, but still sufficiently large to involve a little running around to the departments. Somebody said something to the speaker about the ex-president's versatility.

"If I could do the things Theodore Roosevelt does," said Uncle Joe, "I would be away—" and for want of words the senator made an airy gesture and lifted himself lightly on his toes as if he might have hopes of soaring like an airship. Then recovering his power of expression the speaker exclaimed:

"I might, if I could do those things, truly exclaim, with a certain well-known young senator, 'When God made me he rested.'"

"Beveridge" queried one of the newspaper correspondents.

"Now, gentlemen," remarked Uncle Joe deprecatingly. "I mentioned no names. Greatness is so easily recognizable that it cannot be hidden in the becoming cloak of its own modesty and diffidence. I name no one. You can guess as well as I."

Professor Burt G. Wilder of the department of neurology and verterbrate zoology, Lucien A. Walt of the department of mathematics, and W. T. Hewlett of the department of German languages and literature of Cornell university, whose terms of service expired this spring, have been made professors emeritus. They will be retained on pensions from the Carnegie Foundation fund.

SUMMER SCHOOL

For Boys Conducted by the Y. M. C. A.

The first session of the season of the summer school of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association was held yesterday at two o'clock. There were 25 boys present. The school is in charge of Mr. Elmer E. Harris, principal of the Chelmsford Centre high school and also educational director of Somerville Y. M. C. A. One of the school is to supplement the work of the public schools by helping those boys who have fallen behind in their studies in the public schools to get in shape to enter the next term. Several of the boys are studying in order to try for a double promotion while others failed to be promoted at the last term.

The classes, lasting from 2 to 5 o'clock, will be held on the five regular school days of the week and will continue for six weeks. On three days of the week, after school hours, gymnasium work will be carried on by those wishing it, and the use of the shower baths and other of the privileges will be open.

The Y. M. C. A. camp at Nabnasset pond, Westford, started last Thursday, with Mr. T. R. Williams, Y. M. C. A. work director, in supervision. Twenty boys, from the ages of 12 to 18, have joined this camp, which promises to have the success which attended it last year.

On July 20, Mr. Scaife will go to Belknap, N. H., for two weeks at the New Hampshire state Y. M. C. A. camp, where several Lowell members are at present. There are also six Lowell boys at the Massachusetts state camp, at Decket, Mass., among the Berkshire, and three at the Boston camp, Buena Vista, on Sandy Island, Lake Winnepesaukee.

BOY DROWNED

PLAYED ON EDGE OF WALL AND FELL INTO RIVER

NASHUA, N. H., July 7.—Blodgett Narkler, the 5-year-old son of Andrew Narkler of School street, was drowned in the Nashua river yesterday afternoon. He was playing on the edge of a wall, which forms the south bank of the river, west of the Malta street bridge, when a boy of his own age, the son of Thomas Diggins of High street.

The Diggins boy reported that the other lad fell in the water. He was the only witness of the accident. A large throng assembled on the bridge and river bank to see the first of the victim. The police dragged the river until after dark without finding the body. This is the second drowning in the river near the bridge this week.

The body of the other victim, supposed to be Robert Popp, a journeyman weaver, who fell into the river while asleep on the bank just below the bridge Monday, is still at the undertaker's rooms. Unless claimed by friends tomorrow, the body will be buried in this city.

IRENE LEBLANC

MARRIED AS A RESULT OF A ROMANCE

GLOUCESTER, July 7.—As a result of a romance that began when her sister, Hattie LeBlanc, was placed under arrest charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, the Waltham laundryman, Irene LeBlanc of this city was married last night to Joseph Langley.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Dwyer, pastor of St. Ann's church, at the rectory. Miss LeBlanc was attended by Miss Mary Langley, a sister of the groom, and the latter's best man was Everett White, cousin of the bride. Only the immediate relatives of the couple were present at the ceremony and at the reception which followed at the home of the groom, 4 Cedar street.

During the early part of the Glover hearing at East Cambridge, the bride was staying with Mrs. Sampson, a relative, on Cedar street, right across the yard from Mr. Langley's home. He sympathized with the family in their troubles and an acquaintance was formed, which culminated in last night's wedding.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

CANNOT GO OVER HEAD OF THE GOVERNOR

BOSTON, July 7.—Attorney General Malone rules that the executive council cannot take the initiative, over Gov. Draper's head, in giving Jeremiah J. McCarthy a hearing on his charges that he was unfairly treated by the civil service commission.

When Surveyor McCarthy failed of confirmation as fire commissioner he asked Gov. Draper to review the proceedings. The latter refused, and Mr. McCarthy, through Councillor William F. Murray of Charlestown, petitioned the executive council, asking it to give him a hearing without consulting the governor.

The council considered the petition yesterday. Atty.-Gen. Malone was sent for and discussed the matter with the council. He gave it as his opinion that the council had no authority to go over the governor's head in dealing with any state department. He quoted two precedents, one a ruling by a former council, and another a decision of the supreme court.

The council adjourned until this forenoon, when the McCarthy case will be disposed of. A statement will be issued in which the attitude of the council will be explained.

As he pocketed the money he fell to the floor unconscious and died soon after in a hospital.

SUMMER SCHOOL

For Boys Conducted by the Y. M. C. A.

The first session of the season of the summer school of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association was held yesterday at two o'clock. There were 25 boys present. The school is in charge of Mr. Elmer E. Harris, principal of the Chelmsford Centre high school and also educational director of Somerville Y. M. C. A. One of the school is to supplement the work of the public schools by helping those boys who have fallen behind in their studies in the public schools to get in shape to enter the next term. Several of the boys are studying in order to try for a double promotion while others failed to be promoted at the last term.

The classes, lasting from 2 to 5 o'clock, will be held on the five regular school days of the week and will continue for six weeks. On three days of the week, after school hours, gymnasium work will be carried on by those wishing it, and the use of the shower baths and other of the privileges will be open.

The Y. M. C. A. camp at Nabnasset pond, Westford, started last Thursday, with Mr. T. R. Williams, Y. M. C. A. work director, in supervision. Twenty boys, from the ages of 12 to 18, have joined this camp, which promises to have the success which attended it last year.

On July 20, Mr. Scaife will go to Belknap, N. H., for two weeks at the New Hampshire state Y. M. C. A. camp, where several Lowell members are at present. There are also six Lowell boys at the Massachusetts state camp, at Decket, Mass., among the Berkshire, and three at the Boston camp, Buena Vista, on Sandy Island, Lake Winnepesaukee.

MURDER MYSTERY

New York Police Investigating Woman's Death

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mysterious circumstances of what the authorities believe to have been the murder of a young woman in Bronx borough are being investigated by Coroner Schwann's office.

When the body of Mrs. Sophie Williams, a comely woman, 33 years of age, was found in the court yard in front of the Astor on Broadway yesterday afternoon and was being taken to the morgue, she was being carried by a host of malingerers and press men, and moving picture men. Finally, after the surfeit camera folks had gone and the three policemen had cleared the way, the bored child at the steering wheel sighed:

"Aw, let her go!"

The diminutive machine coughed its way up the avenue with a moving picture machine-buzzing frantically in a car ahead of it, and that was the last of the Abernathy kids.

Those two sons of East-Em-Aliva Jack Abernathy who rode from Oklahoma all the way on bronchos to see the return from Africa, and incidentally the return of the Abernathy in the public eye, have become so used to ovations during their stay here that yesterday's windup, in the course of which they shook hands with the mayor and Col. Roosevelt, seemed to make about as much impression upon them as a reception committee's welcoming speech in Podunk would make upon a traveling president.

They were in a awful hurry when they went to see the mayor, according to Temple Abernathy, aged 6, and the latter had no hesitancy in informing the mayor of the fact that Col. Roosevelt received them in the Outlook office with a few kind words and then they went up to the Astor for a luncheon provided for them by friendly automobile folks in whose car they are to make the journey back to Oklahoma.

William Michael Byrne told them, as they put away cakes and ice cream with an awe inspiring rapidity, that they were an honor to the west and the pride of the republic and that he hoped that they wouldn't be back on the street east when they got back and all that sort of thing, and then Louis, the elder of the roved twins, got up on his chair and said to the accompaniment of flash lights:

"I am happy today for three reasons, first because I came here to see Mr. Roosevelt and I saw him, second because I will soon see my five little sisters, and third because I have met all you good people." (Loud, ferocious and blustering cheering.)

Temple's chunky head bobbed up from behind his ice cream next and he said:

"I like Coney Island, I like all you folks. Good bye." (Same as before, only more so.)

Their father remarked that he couldn't make a speech and didn't, and then the party filed down to the waiting automobiles. Louis was taken out on Tuesday and taught to run the little car that is to land him eventually in Oklahoma City, and Temple, the only other passenger, intends to have one hand on the steering wheel all the way, though he couldn't to inquirers yesterday that he preferred bronchos to autos.

The father will follow the placarded car in a larger and similarly bedecked machine so as to see that nothing really happens. Poughkeepsie is down as the first stop. Next the outfit will go through Buffalo and Cleveland to St. Louis and then on, and judging from yesterday's activities one will soon be able to see moving pictures showing every move of the Abernathy family from here to Oklahoma, or, as it was reckoned yesterday, twenty days with the Abernathys.

CITY OF LOWELL

May Lose All Its Printing Business

Fibre and Fabric, the American textile trade review, has the following relative to the changes in the Hamilton, and possible changes in the Merrimack:

The absorption of nearby printing concerns by the Pacific mills continues, the latest purchase being that of the Hamilton print works at Lowell. The terms have not been made public as yet, but the deal looks good for all concerned, as now the Hamilton corporation can devote itself to cloth production exclusively and probably this branch will be enlarged, as the present printing equipment will be moved to the new Pacific print works when the mill now under construction is complete.

As we understand the deal, only the printing department of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co. has been sold to the Pacific mills. This equipment includes 12 printing machines and will give the Pacific Mills corporation 52 printing machines.

There is nothing left now in the printing equipment in Lowell but the 24 machines in the Merrimack plant, and in due time we look for a sale of this equipment, if not of the entire Merrimack corporation, to the Pacific Mills, as Merrimack shares have been accumulated to almost, if not quite, a majority of the common stock outstanding, in the interests of some unknown factor, which we assume is the Pacific Mills corporation. The Merrimack common shares are offered down close to 40, which is considerable of a drop, and as a speculation they look to be a good buy at the price, as the stock accumulated has averaged more than $40 a share, and there is not likely to be any change in ownership at less than the average price paid by the purchasers of large blocks of the stock during the past six or eight months. With the Merrimack Co., a part of the Pacific Mills, the latter concern would have 75 printing machines for its big new printing mill, and with the Merrimack looms in Lowell and in this state there would be a large supply of printing cloth available without going into the regular markets.

Health and Beauty Talks

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

A. W. A.: You say you can find nothing that will protect tender skin from the sun. Try this and I know you will not suffer from sunburn, tan or redness. Dissolve four ounces of spirit in one-half pint of hot water and add two teaspoonsful of glycerine. Apply this with the palm of the hand, to the face, neck and arms in the morning and you will find it will not rub off or show like powder. It is a true complexion beautifier, for it restores and preserves the soft and rose color of youth. This inexpensive lotion is especially fine for those who have dark, sallow or oily skin.

S. L. J.: Very few women are blessed with youth that are naturally "beaming and radiant." Most probably those dazzling eyes you envy are the result of using a tonic to strengthen and heighten the eyes. Get one of the drugists one ounce of crystals and dissolve it in a pint of water and you will have a perfect home-made eye tonic. Use one drop in each eye three or four times a day. It will relieve inflammation, dullness, redness and soreness. It will not smart or burn. It will not cause dryness. Find it and they can dispense with eyeglasses after using this tonic daily a month or two.

G. L. M.: "Shampoo" is a word of Hindoo origin and means "to lather, rub and wash the head." When using camellia oil for shampooing, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water; pour on the head a little at a time and rub well. Use from your drugist an ordinary shampoo; then rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly with warm water. Can't stand over night. Then you have a cream that contains no oils or fats to make hair grow or cause the skin to become dark and greasy looking. As a treatment for blackheads it is as effective and at the same time "mild as milk," for it completely removes the pore-dirt and decreases the size of the pores, so that the blackheads will not return. Massaging with this almond cream prevents roughness, removes wrinkles and keeps the flesh firm and plump.

ANOTHER FIGHT

Langford Will Accept Johnson's Offer

NEW YORK, July 7.—Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, telegraphed here today that he had accepted the offer of Jack Johnson to meet Langford for a $20,000 side bet, and asks that Johnson post his forfeit for the match on his arrival here on Monday. Woodman wires that he will telegraph a deposit to bind Langford's end as soon as he learns Johnson's money is up.

PREFERRED DEATH

RATHER THAN TO LOSE HIS HOME

NEW YORK, July 7.—Realizing that the home and farm of 65 acres that he and his wife had striven for all these years must be sold, James Harrison Vreeland, 73 years old, went to the front room of his home in Bloomingdale and committed suicide shooting himself through the left temple. Death, according to County Physician Dr. Robert Armstrong, who afterward viewed the body, was instantaneous.

All that lives the Vreelands had lived in Bloomingdale. Their advanced age brought with it the knowledge that they were no longer able to care for their home and farm as they did in years past. They went in debt, and recently Mrs. Vreeland told her husband that after all it was best that they sell the property.

In accordance with her request, Mr. Vreeland went to the real estate office of Edward E. Ball in Bloomingdale and, in telling the circumstances of his case, broke down and cried. He loved the old homestead, he declared, and he knew that it would break his heart to part with it. The property was about to be sold.

Fat Causes Blaze

Mrs. Cucinotta was frying fish in her kitchen last evening and beside her little Arthur played on the floor. She left the room for a moment and while she was gone the fat in the pan bubbled over on the stove, caught fire and dripped to the floor where it was soon ablaze. The floor ignited and the little fellow scrambled to the door which was fitted with a spring lock. In his efforts to get out he shut the door and Mrs. Cucinotta returned to find the door locked against her, the gleam of fire showing at the threshold and her baby crying lustily within.

Her cries aroused the neighborhood and a fellow lodger sounded the alarm. The firemen backed the door away with axes upon finding the mother unconscious at the threshold and rescued the baby. The fire was extinguished with but slight damage.

PROMINENT JAP HERE

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—Among the passengers on the Kamakura Maru which arrived from the Orient yesterday was Kitaru Mochizuki, a former member of the Japanese Diet and president of the Liberal News Agency of Tokyo. He is on a special mission to make investigation in Japan and the United States for the financial department of Japan and the Imperial railways and monopoly bureau. He is accompanied by Mrs. Mochizuki who was educated in Toronto and who has been commissioned to investigate educational work of women in the United States.

Speaking of conditions in Japan Mr. Mochizuki said:

"Japan has emerged from the financial depression and an era of better times is looked for. The four per cent. consolidation of Japanese loans has been taken up and a new financial scheme is being formulated. Money is easy, the banks have much to loan and interest is lower. The result is that business development is progressing favorably."

TO EXTEND TRADE

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—James F. Dunlop, consul to Lyons, France, is in this city conferring with manufacturers and business men as to methods of extending their trade in foreign commercial circles now neglected by the first step in a recently devised plan of Secretary Knox to increase American commerce. The secretary's plan explained here contemplates bringing to this country from time to time the best men in the consular service to visit large cities and by personal conference with business men show them opportunities which exist in different parts of the world.

ABERNATHY BOYS HE GOES TO JAIL

Start on Their Trip to Oklahoma Until He Pays Alimony and Counsel Fee

NEW YORK, July 7.—Herman Feinberg, a real estate man who is president of the Consolidated Board of Brokers, told a tale of marital woe to Supreme Court Justice Giegerich yesterday and then went to Ludlow street jail to stay until he pays up $358 back alimony and counsel fee.

Feinberg is suing for the annulment of his marriage to Fella Hochman on the ground that he was induced to marry her by fraud. He declares he met her in 1902, when he was the husband of Jennie Ravinowitz, and was living happily with her and their two children. He says that Fella Hochman induced him to live with her, although "sincerely regretting my mistake."

Then Jennie got a divorce and he has been paying $10 a week alimony to her and the children ever since. In 1908 Feinberg says he left Fella to give his two children a good home and married Rattle Gerkowitz in Stamford, Conn. When Fella heard about this she had him arrested for bigamy, but after ten days in jail here the Connecticut authorities said they didn't want him. Feinberg declares that because he wouldn't pay Fella $1000 she had him arrested on a New York bigamy charge. He was in the Tombs until he was bailed, but when District Attorney Whitman came into office the indictment was dismissed.

Feinberg says that on July 31, 1909, after he had got out of jail Fella Hochman came to his office with a detective sent by Assistant District Attorney Ely, who is now her counsel, and told him if he didn't go over to New Jersey and marry her he would be arrested again. He declares that the detective told him he needn't say anything when he was being married, because the detective would do all the talking.

His employers advised him to comply, he says, and he went along reluctantly to New Jersey and remained inmate while the marriage ceremony was performed. He left his new wife at once, he says, and started the proceedings to annul the marriage.

Feinberg was directed last March to pay Fella $25 a week alimony, $100 back alimony and $250 counsel fee, but up to May 24 he was behind $358 and proceedings to punish him for contempt were brought. He told Justice Giegerich yesterday that he was getting $25 a week and after he paid his former wife and children $10 had only $15 to live on. He was willing to give Fella $10 a week of that and borrow enough to pay the counsel fee, but said he couldn't possibly pay $25 a week. He said if he was adjudged in contempt he would have to go to jail, and then his children would be without means of support.

The court adjudged him in contempt just the same because there was nothing else to do.

DAMAGE CAUSED BY THEM TO BE REPAIRED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—Ravages of forest fires along the Oregon coast are to be repaired, partially at least, for timbermen now are planning to put the burned over trees to good use. Of course this will be impossible with a great deal of the timber that was either totally consumed or partially destroyed. There remains, however, a great quantity of timber that was only scorched and blackened.

A contract has just been made with the Santa Fe railroad by a logger near Marshfield, Ore., to supply 1200 piling from a tract of burnt cedar. This material has for years been thought to be utterly useless. Now it is believed it can be put to as good use as green cedar, in fact it is claimed by some that the action of the fire will improve the piling, making it far less subject to decay.

The result of the experiment will be watched with much interest, whatever the outcome, for if burned cedar piling is found to be suitable for railroad use, in bridge work, there is a great quantity of the scorched trees that will be put to good use. The Santa Fe offers to buy much of this piling later if the first supply is satisfactory.

It is now thought that the same timber may be used for other purposes, such as telephone and telegraph lines outside of cities, where the blackened poles will not be objectionable. Charred cedar, it is expected, will have a remarkably long life when exposed to the weather. The coast cedar is widely known for its lasting properties and timbermen predict that the burned over trees will resist decay twice as long as green timber.

There are large burned over areas in this state that will become valuable if the use of blackened piling is generally adopted, and the method of practical conservation for much timber throughout the Northwest that has long been regarded as of no value.

THE DEMOCRATS

Plan to Get More Congressmen in New England

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Officers of the democratic congressional committee are preparing to carry on an active campaign in some of the New England states to secure the election of democrats to congress. The committee recently opened headquarters here. Later on it may open headquarters at New York or Chicago for congress in the near future.

The committee will distribute considerable literature in New England, especially speeches relating to the tariff and the increased cost of living. Representative Foss' speech in the house on the tariff and reciprocity will be one of the documents to be scattered broadcast.

Representative Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, says it is too early to say definitely what kind of a fight will be made by the democratic managers in New England, but Mr. Lloyd thinks the prospects of democratic success in that section are bright.

"I believe we will hold the four Massachusetts districts now represented by democrats," said Mr. Lloyd. "We ought also to gain at least two other districts in the state. If ex-Representative Thayer runs for congress in the Worcester district we will carry it."

"I cannot designate other districts where we will win, but I can say that if certain men are nominated for congress by the democrats we will make a hard fight in several districts now represented by republicans. I understand that Charles S. Hamilton may run against Representative Greene. If he does he will defeat Mr. Greene."

Mr. Lloyd would not say so, but it is understood that he and other democratic leaders have high hopes of capturing the district now represented by Representative Thayer and Ames, especially if the democrats nominate strong men. After the nominations are made the committee managers will endeavor to pick out the best fighting ground and concentrate their efforts there.

Speaking of the outlook in other New England states, Mr. Lloyd said: "I believe we ought to gain one or two seats in Maine, regain what we lost in Rhode Island with the death of Representative Granger and gain one district in Connecticut. New Hampshire and Vermont are regarded as certain republican territory and it would require a political revolution to bring about the election of democrats to congress from those states."

Mr. Lloyd declined to name the Maine and Connecticut districts he hopes to carry, but it is known that democratic leaders are making a campaign of success in the old Littlefield district now represented by Representative Swasey. They expect to take every advantage of the republican factional trouble in the Portland district, where Asahel C. Hinds recently defeated Col. Fred Hale, son of Senator Hale, for the republican nomination for congress.

In Connecticut the democratic hopes center in the New Haven district, where Representative Sperry is about to retire. It is claimed that the man selected by the republicans to succeed

Mr. Sperry is not strong enough to carry the district, which was formerly always represented in congress by democrats.

MANY INJURED

By Explosion of Sewer Gas

NEW YORK, July 7.—An explosion of sewer gas in the cellar of a six-story tenement dwelling occupied by twenty-four families at 233 Moore street, Williamsburg, yesterday afternoon did considerable damage and caused injuries to nearly a dozen people.

On the ground floor is a saloon kept by A. Harowitz. He noticed recently that the cellar became filled from time to time with the vapors of gasoline, kerosene and other combustibles that were drained into the sewer from surrounding factories. He called the attention of the landlord because the tenants had also complained, but nothing was done.

Harowitz was behind the bar at 3 p. m. yesterday chatting with Joseph Bonner, who was in front of the bar, when Mrs. Sadie Axelrod, aged 23, of 243 Moore street, came in to buy a bottle of beer. The saloon keeper hadn't any on ice and he asked the woman to go to the cellar for it, at the same time handing her a lighted candle. When Mrs. Axelrod reached the cellar there was an explosion which seemed to lift up the house. It broke all the show windows in the saloon and nearly half the windows in the dwelling and shattered the windows behind the bar and all the glassware.

Speaking of the outlook in other New England states, Mr. Lloyd said: "I believe we ought to gain one or two seats in Maine, regain what we lost in Rhode Island with the death of Representative Granger and gain one district in Connecticut. New Hampshire and Vermont are regarded as certain republican territory and it would require a political revolution to bring about the election of democrats to congress from those states."

EXPORTS OF IRON

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Exports of iron and steel manufactures in the last fifteen years exceeded imports there of by 1,400 million dollars, while in the fifteen years immediately preceding the imports of this class of merchandise exceeded exports by 300 million dollars. Meantime the United States has become by far the world's largest producer of pig iron, domestic and steel into and out of the country represents a development in the domestic industry brought about in comparatively recent years. In the decade 1861-70, according to figures published by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, imports of iron and steel were far in excess of exports thereof, the relative figures being imports, 255 million; exports, 85 million dollars; excess of imports, 170 million dollars. In the decade 1871-80 imports of iron and steel were valued at 425 million, while exports were 159 million dollars in value, making the excess of imports 266 million. In the decade 1881-90 imports were 491 million and exports 195 million dollars, the excess of imports over exports having risen to 296 million dollars. In the closing decade of the last century, the period which marked the transition of the United States from importer to an exporter of iron and steel manufactures, imports of that class aggregated 248 million and exports 534 million dollars, the excess of exports being 286 million dollars, while in the initial decade of the present century, the ten years ending with June of the present year, the value of iron and steel manufactures exported was 1,411 million dollars, or more than four times that of like commodities imported, 207 million.

A clearer view of the changed relation of imports to exports of iron and steel is obtained by a consideration of the annual averages in the movements of each during the last half century. Of manufactures of iron and steel imported the annual average in the decade 1861-70 was 25.5 million dollars; in 1871-80, 42.5 million; in 1881-90, 48 million; in 1891-1900, 28 million; and in 1901-10, about 50 million.

The marked increase in the net export of iron and steel represents an actual growth in quantities as well as values, many of the representatives and articles having commanded in 1910, both at home and abroad, lower prices than in earlier years. Of pig iron, for example, the price per ton in Philadelphia for No. 1, foundry, fell from $19.98 in 1899 to $17.81 in 1909. Of rolled bar iron, best refined, the Pittsburgh quotation dropped from $48.12 per ton in 1900 to $36.40 in 1909; of steel rails, from $32.25 per ton to $28.00 in 1909, while in 1910 prices are even lower. Prices abroad follow a similar course, as is shown by the lower valuations of iron and steel in the import foreign markets in which the merchandise originates. Of tin plates, for example, the average import price declined from 3.2c per pound in 1900 to 2.7c in 1909; 1900 to 1.8c in 1909, while certain other classes also showed in 1909 lower prices than in 1900.

The principal manufactures of iron and steel imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1910, just closed, are: machinery, about 9 million dollars; pig iron, 61.2 million; tin plates, 41.2 million; ingots, blooms, etc., 31.2 million; cutlery, 13.4 million; wire and articles made from wire, 11.2 million; scrap iron, 11.2 million; and bar iron, nearly 11.2 million dollars, while no other single class of iron and steel shows for the year a total of 1 million dollars or upwards.

Exports of domestic iron and steel manufactures go in considerable quantities to all parts of the world: steel rails to Mexico, South America, Canada, Asia and Oceania; structural iron and steel to Canada; mining machinery to Mexico; and machinery to the United Kingdom, Australia, Mexico, and Canada; machinery to Germany, the United Kingdom and countries representing very great divisions. Under the head of machinery are included sewing machines, which go chiefly to the United Kingdom, Germany, and Brazil; locomotives to Brazil, Canada and Cuba; typewriters, chiefly exported to the United Kingdom, Germany and France; and electrical machinery, for which Mexico, Canada, and other American countries are the principal markets, while Japan, Australia and European countries are also important purchasers.

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE The committee on accounts last night held up three bills. Two of them were sent in by W. P. A bill of $20 for a college book sold to the buildings department was held up to enable the committee to find out the necessity for such book.

"Why do they say 'as smart as a steel trap'?" asked the talkative boarder. "I never could see anything particularly intellectual about a steel trap." "A steel trap is called smart," explained the elderly person in his sweetest voice, "because it knows exactly the right time to shut up." Barry Pain is noted for his powers of smart repartee. Some time ago he attended a dinner party where his host had got a Shakespearean quotation for every item on the menu except the asparagus.

Mr. Pain was appealed to for some appropriate lines, and quick as thought he gave the following:

SHADES OF BILL!

Traveling Inspector (to his host, the squint of the village)—Most amusing thing happened today. I was questioning the class and asked a boy, "Who wrote 'Hamlet'?" and he answered tearfully, "P-p-please, sir, it wasn't me."

WORCESTER, July 7.—Worcester took a double header from Lowell yesterday, winning the first game, 9 to 2, and the second game 7 to 2. Anthony's hitting and fielding were responsible for the first victory and a running catch by Blakely, and a sensational stop by Noblett in the second, featured that contest.

Manager Burkett of Worcester, was yesterday suspended for three days as a result of Tuesday's dispute with Umpire Connolly.

DIAMOND NOTES

Double header with New Bedford, Tyler and Wolfgang, first game at 2.

And still the pitchers come—and still they go.

Cronin who pitched the second game at Worcester yesterday comes from Ballardvale. He couldn't expect to win when his team made six errors.

New Bedford plays here tomorrow as well.

Umpire Rorty is back in the game again. Thus far Mike O'Brien and Connolly have done about all the umpiring in Lowell. The fans would like to see Lanigan here.

Wiggs of Montreal pitched a no hit, no run game against Rochester yesterday. Only one Rochester man reached first and he walked.

PRES. CLARK'S STATEMENT

As president of the Lowell & Suburban league and manager of the O. M. I. Cadet team, I would like to state for the benefit of the sporting public of Lowell that the managers of the Lowell & Suburban league and the O. M. I. Cadet team are not sovereign over the action of the July 4th committee, although they feel that they have handed a raw deal, for although it has been decided by both the manager of the Lowell Americans and Sanctuary Choir teams, the managers of the Lowell & Suburban league still insist that it was two picked teams that contended on the 4th. Take the team that represented the Sanctuary Choir, for instance. Their lineup was made up entirely of Lowell & Suburban league players. For a battery they had Doyle and Manning of the Y. M. C. A. team, Poye of the Mechanics played first base, O'Brien and Marquette of Phillips covered second base and shortstop, respectively. Harris of the Wanderers played third base, while the outfield was made up of Farrell and Maloney of the Cadets and Mills of Phillips team. Still their manager comes out with the statement that it was not a picked team. I admit and so do the other managers that the Lowell Americans and Sanctuary Choir were at one time the leading teams of the city, but they had not been heard from this season until a few days before the Fourth.

It cannot be denied that the intention of the managers of the Lowell & Suburban league was to carry this very small matter of a baseball game into such a lengthy discussion.

ON THE CREASE.

The attraction on the Bunting grounds Saturday afternoon will be the strong Methuen team and as the teams are evenly matched a splendid contest is assured. The Buntings will be represented by the following players: H. Rudden, captain; V. Scholes, T. Strick, A. Briggs, R. Hoyle, S. Firth, J. Marsh, E. Schum, E. Robinson, O'Connell, T. Stockton; reserves, Kennedy and Johnson; umpire, J. Tottle; scorer, J. Foster.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of management of the Mohair Cricket club the following players were selected to represent the club in their match at North Chelmsford, on Saturday next. Car leaves Merrimack square at 1:35 p. m. Players not being able to go, will please notify the captain or secretary as soon as possible.

David Hird, captain; John J. Whittemore, James Barrett, Hampden Hyde, Ike Shaw, Jesse Barber, Arthur Hinds, Joseph Harrison, Joseph Hoyle, Gilbert H. Hunt, Ben Ingham; umpire, Thos. Gibson; scorer, Hawley Marshall.

The Zion reserve team will play the Lawrence reserve team on the home grounds. The following have been selected to represent the Zion: A. Whitworth, captain; J. Whitworth, R. Boyd, A. Bowden, F. Heaton, G. Clegg, J. Clegg, J. Hardy, T. Lacer, A. Butterworth, J. Aspin.

WIFE STABBER

MANAGED TO BREAK TWO PAIRS OF HANDCUFFS

NEW YORK, July 7.—Andrew Bracini went home to 183 Sullivan street at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, after an all night session in a neighboring saloon and announced that he was very ill and felt like killing someone. He grabbed a carving knife from the table, plunged it into his wife's right breast and fled from the house. The wife was taken to the St. Vincent's hospital dangerously injured.

Bracini returned home at 9 o'clock and found Policeman Murphy waiting for him. While awaiting arraignment before Magistrate Breslin in the Market court yesterday Bracini suddenly attacked Murphy and began shouting and cursing. It took six men to overpower him. In the struggle he broke two sets of handcuffs which had been slipped on his wrist. He was taken to Bellevue hospital.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A severe earthquake shock continuing from 12:01 to 12:03 this morning, was recorded by the Georgetown University observatory. The preliminary tremors began at 11:58 and were followed three minutes later by the heaviest shock. The tremors did away at 12:14. The observers at the university say the earthquake probably was not more than 1500 miles distant. The chief motion was east and was the heaviest recorded since January 1.

tion, but since Managers Shaw and Queenan wished to bring up this matter after it had been dropped by the league to pay a few words in defense. Mr. Queenan, of course, is entitled to his opinion of the league, which he is so clearly expressed last evening.

Now to come to Mr. Queenan's challenge, which was directed to all the teams in the L. & S. league, but mostly to the O. M. I. Cadets. I wish to state as manager of the O. M. I. Cadets that as the regular league schedule will keep us from accepting the challenge until about the middle of August, a game before that time would be impossible, but after the league season is over I will be pleased to accept the challenge of the Sanctuary Choir or Lowell Americans, or both, for games either for fun or money.

I thank you for the space in your paper, and trust that this will clearly express the feelings of the managers of the Lowell & Suburban league in regard to this matter.

Paul R. Clark,
President L. & S. League.

JACK JOHNSON

Is Willing to Meet Sam Langford

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 7.—If Sam Langford, the Boston fighter, will put up a side bet of $20,000, Heavyweight Champion Jack Johnson will fight him in Cheyenne during the frontier celebration in the latter part of August or a month later.

Johnson made this statement yesterday morning when his train pulled in from Reno, on route to Chicago.

For half an hour Johnson was given the most friendly demonstration he has received since the fight. A crowd of more than 5000, including 1000 colored members of the Ninth cavalry, from Fort D. A. Russell, almost mobbed the champion's private car, which was attached to the Overland limited on the Union Pacific, greeting the champion with yells and waving of hats.

Flowers were showered on him and the crowds forced their way into Johnson's car to shake hands with him. A number of women in the crowd fainted as a result of the crush and were taken into Johnson's car.

John L. Sullivan was also on the train.

NOT IN WYOMING

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 7.—"There is no show for the fight here during the Cheyenne frontier celebration," said Gov. Rogers, when told of the talk about a Johnson-Langford match.

"Wyoming laws forbid it and I will see that the laws are enforced."

WOODMAN WILL ACCEPT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—When Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, was told last night that Jack Johnson had offered to fight Langford, the latter would put up a side bet of $20,000, he declared he would accept the offer.

Woodman is trying to arrange a ten round bout between Langford and Kaufman. If this cannot be done, Langford and Woodman will leave on Monday for Chicago where they say they will place the money for the Johnson side bet in the hands of a stakeholder.

WM. J. BRYAN

SAYS HE IS IN THE FIGHT FOR PROHIBITION

LINCOLN, Neb., July 7.—William J. Bryan gave out a statement yesterday again declining to be a candidate for United States senator and intended to discourage further activity among his political supporters in that direction.

In Mr. Bryan says he believes he can work to better advantage without being a candidate for any office. He says:

"I stated some months ago that I was not a candidate for the senate and did not ask to be. I told inquiring friends that while I would not promise work to become a candidate I regard the possibility of my becoming a candidate as too remote to be considered by anyone desiring to be a candidate, and I was glad when others announced their candidacy."

"There were a number of reasons which combined to convince me that it would not be advisable for me to enter the race. The reason was that I saw this fight on the liquor question coming up and thought it probable that I could do my duty better without being hampered by a candidacy for any office."

"Later developments have justified me in the decision not to be a candidate. I am needed in this state fight and shall have plenty to do. The people of the state have done a great deal for me and I have not had a chance to do much for them in return. I have an opportunity now and I shall show my gratitude for past favors by rendering such service as a private citizen can render by helping to keep our party from becoming the tool of the liquor and other special interests."

Those in charge of the work of drafting Bryan say that in view of his attitude there is no reason for any further activity.

The Department

The members of the board of police, Supt. Welch of the police department and Peter A. Mackenzie, chief of the supply department, met in conference yesterday at the police board office for the purpose of considering the advisability of purchasing an automobile patrol for the police department, and at the conclusion of the meeting it was the unanimous opinion that for the protection of the people and in order to facilitate matters in the department it would be advisable to purchase a self-propelled machine. Before the meeting was adjourned a requisition for the purchase of an automobile police patrol was filed at the office of the purchasing agent at city hall.

It is expected that the machine will cost in the vicinity of $5500, but the members of the board are of the opinion that it will pay for itself in a very short period.

Supt. Welch has advocated the automobile patrol for several years and though his efforts to enthrone the board of police went for naught because of the cry that the city was too poor to invest much money, when the shooting up in Lynn occurred a week ago Saturday the superintendent decided that if such a thing ever occurred in Lowell the local police would not be able to cope with the criminals because it would have to depend upon horse drawn vehicles.

Daring breaks have occurred in this vicinity, some yegmen visited here a year or more ago and when the police, under ex-Supt. Moffatt went to round them up the patrolmen and inspectors had to be called to the scene in the covered patrol, which is a heavy wagon drawn by a pair of horses which get tired after going a mile or so.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon one of the members of the police board had the following to say: "The board was unanimous in voting to send a requisition to the purchasing agent's office for an automobile patrol and while some people may think that it is a luxury, I don't think so; I feel it is a necessity. The horse drawn patrol wagon which the department is using at the present time is one of those ancient and heavy affairs. Even though there are two horses attached to it, the vehicle is so heavy that after making several trips the horses are 'all in'.

"On various occasions, especially on Saturdays and Sundays, when there are the most number of arrests, the wagon has got to go to different parts of the city. In many instances we have heard of patrolmen holding prisoners up against a box for fully 20 minutes waiting for the wagon to arrive, because there were one or more previous calls sent in."

"The principal reason for my advocating the automobile, however, is in a case of emergency. Supposing that we had a shooting affray in Lowell like there was in Lynn a couple of weeks ago, whether would be run down by the news might reach the station in time, but how would we send patrolmen to the scene of the shooting?

NEGLECTED WIVES

Were Numerous in Police Court This Morning

A 19 Year Old Couple Aired Their Grievance Before Judge Hadley—Bert Smithson Was Trimmed of $500 in a Card Game

It was the day of injured or neglected wives in police court this morning and as a result Probation Officer Slatery will be kept busy for some time to come as in most of the cases he was made arbitrator.

Drunks with Records
One of the drunks before the court said that he was a violator and would like an opportunity to get to his New Hampshire home. It was found that this was his 25th appearance and he was warned that he had been before the court long enough. A fine was imposed. Another drunk, a female, also from New Hampshire stated that she had been but four hours in Lowell when she was arrested. But Deputy Downey produced her record and showed that she had been before court 40 times and she was sent to the house of correction for six months.

A Young Couple
A young man named Rithler was charged with threatening his wife and with non-support. He pleaded guilty of the former and not guilty of the latter charge. When the wife was called a young girl in short skirts appeared and announced that she was the wife. She said that they were married five months ago and that since that time her husband had never given her a copper. "He borrowed $10 to get married and I had to work to pay it back," she said. "I have been working until I cannot work any longer." The pair are nineteen years of age and board with the defendant's mother.

Father Offered to Serve
Martha Sullivan of Charles street was in court for assault and battery on May Latour, and the evidence brought out the fact that a little brother of the Sullivan girl threw stones at the Latour girl and that she threw them back, striking the boy in the face. Then the Sullivan boy's big sister came to the stand and struck the Latour girl, rendering her unconscious. Judge Hadley imposed a fine of $6, whereupon the Sullivan girl's father, who was in court, said: "I can't pay the fine just now, because I haven't the money, but if the court will let me I will serve the time for my daughter." Judge Hadley then placed the girl on probation on condition that she pay the fine within a month.

GOLD IMPORTS SHOE MANUFACTURERS

Nearly Two Millions Shipped From London Interested in Fight of the United Shoe Machinery Co.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The gold importation movement of 1901 had its inception today with the engagement of $1,750,000 in gold bars in London by Lazard Freres for import to the United States. Imports of the yellow metal were forecasted by the demands made on New York institutions by western banks for funds to finance land purchases in the west. Local bankers have recently sold large amounts of American securities abroad and are now availing themselves of these credits to strengthen their own position by importing gold.

MRS. ROBERTSON PRESENTS PICTURE OF HER FATHER TO THE CITY.
Mrs. Mary F. Robertson of Dorchester, Mass., has written Mayor John F. Meehan, asking his permission to allow her to present the city with an oil painting of her father, David Rogers, who served the city government in 1856-57. The mayor has accepted the gift, and this morning informed the donor that he, on behalf of the city, would be glad to give it a prominent place on the wall of a room in city hall. The letter sent to the mayor reads as follows:

44 Magnolia Street, Dorchester, Mass.
Hon. John F. Meehan, Mayor of the City of Lowell.
My Dear Sir: My father, Mr. David Rogers, was a prominent citizen of Lowell from 1829 until the time of his decease in 1862. Having in mind the active part which he always took in the business, political and social affairs of the city and also in consideration that he was a member of the city government in 1856 and 1857, I desire to present his oil portrait to the city of Lowell, and ask that the same may be placed in the city hall in such a location as you may be pleased to determine. Kindly advise me at your earliest convenience and oblige,
Very respectfully,
Mrs. Mary F. Robertson,
July 5, 1910.
JOHN I. SHANNON
HAS PURCHASED THE HATHAWAY THEATRE
Hathaway's theatre, the popular vaudeville playhouse located at the corner of Market and Shattuck streets, which was the property of A. E. Hathaway of New Bedford, has been sold to John I. Shannon, who has managed the theatre for several years. While a quitclaim deed was recorded at the registry of deeds at the court house in this city on June 20, the fact that the sale was very quiet, as well as the "good faith" of the house is not recorded and neither Messrs. Hathaway nor Shannon could be located.

The building is assessed for $17,000, the land on which it is located is assessed for $18,650 and the furnishings of the theatre are assessed for $3000. People who have been regular patrons of the theatre were pleased to learn that Mr. Shannon had taken over the show house, for each and every patron has been very satisfied with the manner in which Mr. Shannon has conducted the house during the years which he acted as resident manager.

Among the better known members of the funeral party were Governor Hughes of New York and Associate Justice Holmes and chief of the United States supreme court.
SHOT BY OFFICER
BOSTON, July 7.—A bullet from the revolver of Patrolman Michael Sullivan, fired on June 28, caused the death of Joseph Benson, 28 years of age, of Cambridge, in the hospital today. Benson, with two companions, was discovered by the patrolman standing near a fence in the cottage farm yard off the Boston & Albany railroad. When he threatened to shoot the officer, Sullivan drew his revolver and fired, the shot taking effect. The other two men were captured.

A LIVELY BLAZE

In the Salvation Army Barracks

An alarm from box five summoned a portion of the fire department to a lively blaze in the barracks of the Salvation Army at the corner of Fletcher and Rock streets this morning about 10:30 o'clock.

The army collects large quantities of old papers and this morning when a boy was sent downstairs to place the paper, which was on the floor in the boiler, instead of piling the paper into the boiler, he set fire to it and in a few minutes huge volumes of smoke were pouring through the doors and windows of the building.

Shortly after the department arrived on the scene the fire was extinguished. Owing to the fact that three of the boxes of the local fire alarm system are out of order as a result of the fire which broke out on the Thorndike street bridge Monday, when the hook at box five was pulled, there was but one blow recorded on the indicators. A telephone alarm, however, gave the firemen the alarm.

The intense heat resulting from the fire on the canal bridge last Monday through the loaden wound cable of the fire department and the bridge and the electrician, Henry Fernald, deemed it advisable to cut away about two feet of the cable and re-record the wires. This work was started this morning.

PRESIDENT PLAYED GOLF
BEVERLY, July 7.—President Taft is going to extend the ten days' vacation which he began yesterday by taking a ten days' cruise on the yacht Mayflower beginning July 18. The president's present vacation is not up until July 18, so this will leave only Sunday, the 17th, intervening. Accompanied by all the members of his immediate family, by his brother, Horace D. Taft, and by as many friends as the limited quarters of the Mayflower will accommodate, the president will set sail up the north coast. He will stop for a day or two at Bar Harbor and may drop in at several other resorts and points of interest. The golf sticks will be carried along and whenever an attractive looking set of eighteen holes appears on the horizon the Mayflower will anchor forthwith.

Commander Snowden is in command of the Mayflower. There is a chance that the tiny little Egypt may trail along in the wake of the Mayflower as a convoy but this has not been determined.

The president golfed this morning.

AFTER ALTITUDE RECORD
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 7.—With favorable weather conditions, Glenn H. Curtiss and Charles F. Hinton, who have been in exhibition aeroplane flights on the beach here this week, hope to be able to go after the altitude record today. Curtiss, who made a long flight out over the ocean late yesterday afternoon, says he prefers sailing over the water as he meets with fewer baffling air currents than on land.

NEXT CONVENTION

Of National Educational Association May Go to Golden Gate

Z. X. Snyder of Colorado Nominated for President—Claims of San Francisco for Next Convention Set Forth—Other Matters

BOSTON, July 7.—Mr. Z. X. Snyder, principal of the Colorado state normal school was nominated by the committee on nominations for the next president of the association. Mr. Snyder received 24 votes, while his nearest competitor, Mrs. Young was given 19. San Francisco is the only place which has been prominently mentioned as the place for holding the next convention. The association voted to hold the 1906 convention in San Francisco and the local committee was even making arrangements for the great assembly up to the night before the earthquake. The disaster necessitated the transfer of the convention.

This year a delegation, headed by Alfred Roncovieri, superintendent of schools came to Boston by direction of the citizens of San Francisco and urged that the next convention be held at the Golden Gate. Today Mr. Roncovieri laid the claims of his city before the convention. The report of the majority of the nominating committee in favor of Mr. Snyder was taken across Copple square to the New Old South church and at noon was presented to the annual meeting of the convention by D. H. Johnson of South Carolina. Miss Katherine D. Blake of New York immediately presented the minority report favoring Mrs. Young for president. Mrs. Young was made one of the vice presidents in the majority report.

The committee immediately took up the question of submitting the minority report for that of the majority. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago defeated Z. X. Snyder of Colorado for president of the National Education association today by a vote of 617 to 576 the question being on the substitution of Mrs. Young's name for that of Mr. Snyder.

A HOT CAMPAIGN
BOSTON, July 7.—The teachers at the National Education convention mixed a little politics with their study today in selecting a new board of governors. The campaign has been simulating for nearly a week, starting with the election of the board of governors for Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago for president. Since that time Mrs. Young's supporters have worked hard for her interests and while there has been no organized opposition, old members of the association, which is the purpose of the meeting, are themselves strongly against political campaigns in the association.

The constitution of the association provides for selection of a board of government by the delegates but also provides for the presentation of a ticket by a nominating committee. The members of this committee were selected by states on Monday after the meeting at the stadium at which President Taft spoke. All the states caused and chose members of that committee. The nominating committee met at 9 a. m. today in Trinity chapel for the purpose of devising one candidate for president as well as for officers, with the annual meeting following at noon in the new Old South church.

The main work of the convention went right on in spite of politics, special attention being paid today to children and teaching in the lower schools. Kindergarten work, various branches of child study, music and physical education were all discussed by well known authorities. The officers of the association gave up all hope today of obtaining the presence of former President Roosevelt and the convention will close in Tremont Temple tomorrow evening with addresses by Mrs. W. N. Hitt, chairman of the women's branch of the Farmers Institute work of North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C., president (emeritus) Elliot of Harvard and the new president of the association, Mrs. Young. While the nominating committee was in session at Trinity church parish house, nine departmental sessions and two joint sessions were in full swing. Ralph A. Jones, librarian of the Uni-

SECRETARY KNOX

WASHINGTON, July 7.—An entirely new personality entered into the discussion of the probable successor to Chief Justice Fuller when it became known that a number of conservative republican senators will press before the president the name of their former colleague, Secretary of State Philander C. Knox. This information comes from one of the senators concerned, and while he did not say in so many words that his friends contemplated asking the chief justiceship rather than the associate justiceship that Mr. Moody will probably vacate, it is understood they are convinced that the place of the President's justice would be a fitting reward for the long and distinguished public career of Mr. Knox. An interesting point in connection with the possible presentation of Mr. Knox's name to the president is that the secretary has already declined once the offer of an associate justiceship of the supreme court. This was offered to him by President Roosevelt.

THEFT CHARGED COURT HOLDS THAT IT WAS PRIVILEGED

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—If you dare your neighbor to call you a thief in your own suburban club and she up and does it you have no recourse at law in a slander suit.

That is the gist of a decision handed down by Judge J. A. Evans in common pleas court yesterday afternoon, in which he reversed the verdict of the jury in the famous case of Schaffer vs. Haupt, which originated in an episode at a meeting of the Five Hundred club, composed of the most select in the suburb of Sheraden.

The jury had awarded Mrs. Hilda Schaffer $500 damages against Mrs. Gladys Haupt. The principals are the wives of well to do young business men. The testimony showed that at a meeting of the club last April Mrs. Schaffer approached Mrs. Haupt in the presence of the other members and said:

"Mrs. Haupt, I want you to say to the ladies what you said to me in the past."

Before the assemblage Mrs. Haupt replied: "Ladies, I accuse Mrs. Schaffer of taking my gloves. I certainly do."

Nearly the whole membership of the Five Hundred club was called to testify in the case, which disrupted the social fabric of Sheraden. In setting aside the jury's return and giving judgment for the plaintiff Judge Evans held:

"The plaintiff requested the defendant to make the statement, and there is no pretense the statement was made other than the statement which the plaintiff requested. This must be considered a privileged communication."

EX-FIREMAN MARTIN KEEPS BOILERS OF CONGRESS BOILING OVER ALLEGED FRAUD

Representative Martin with soft hat. Attorney General Wickersham with high hat. General Edwards as he appeared in the Philippine Islands.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—When Representative John A. Martin of Colorado lost his job as a fireman for a railroad through a strike he decided to become a lawyer. He studied law by mail and was later admitted to the bar. Then he went into politics and was elected from Colorado, his district covering 45 counties. On landing in congress Mr. Martin agreed sugar was his specialty, and he has made good to such an extent that he has Washington going around in circles, the sugar trust dodging sideways, and the end is not yet. Mr. Martin is on his way back to Colorado, where he will complete his charges in regard to the sale of the friar lands by the government to the sugar trust. Some of his charges are as follows: That the San Jose friar estate was sold to an agent of the sugar trust as the result of the opinion of the attorney general, whose law firm represented the sugar trust at the time he entered the cabinet; that the opinion allowing the sale undid the work of congress, violated the letter and the spirit of the law and overturned the policy of the United States; that the three explanations of the sale sent to the house of representatives by the war department were full of material misstatements, contradictions and evasions; that the bureau of Insular Affairs got around the apparent violation of the law by selling to E. A. Pools ostensibly as an individual when it was evident that he acted as agent for the trust, and that Gen. Edwards, chief of staff, admitted that Havermeier, Welsh and Senf furnished the purchase money; that the federal authorities connived with a violator of the law to bring about the law's failure; that Dergordoff, the attorney upon whose advice that the act would be legal the purchase was made, was brought into the case by J. H. Hammond of Strong & Caldwell, the law firm of which Henry W. Taft is a leading member. That Gen. Edwards denied having discussed the sale with Mr. Hammond after the general had written a letter saying that "a representative of one of the best law firms in New York" had called in connection with the sale of the San Jose estate; that before the authorities gave the opinion that the transaction would be legal the actual sale was announced, and that the Mindanao company had then been cultivated the land for months in confidence of a favorable decision.

MONEY TO LOAN $10.00 and Upwards

We have customers who tell us that before they took out a loan, they were always under the impression that it was difficult to get a loan, and that it was a long and tedious process. They know now that the entire transaction required but two calls, or about five minutes in all, first, to leave the application, and second, to sign for the money.

"So long as you are working your credit is good with us."

LARGE EXODUS

From Holy Ghost and Us Colony

FREEMPORT, Me., July 7.—A large exodus of members of the Holy Ghost and Us colony at Shiloh, Me., to the holy land is believed to have begun this morning, when four wagons filled with men, women and children and luggage passed through here at sunrise. It is thought they were on their way to board the bark Kingdom, which has been sailing back and forth outside the three mile limit of Casco bay.

Rev. Frank Sandford, leader of the Shiloh colony, for whom the sheriff of Cumberland county has a writ in a $100,000 damage suit, is believed to be aboard the Kingdom and to avoid the sheriff has not allowed the bark to come inside. The suit was brought by Mrs. Florence Whittier of Boston, who alleges that she was detained against her will at the Shiloh colony and abused by Sandford. After some difficulty, Mrs. Whittier was released from the colony several months ago, but her husband refused to leave, stating that he believed Sandford's teachings were right.

linger. Poindexter will try to oust Senator Piles, known as a "Taft man." The result of this fight promises to be most interesting. Mr. Ballinger when he heard that Roosevelt had O. K'd Poindexter is quoted as saying, "I am on my way to Seattle, and I can promise that Mr. Poindexter will not be the next United States senator from Washington."

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Drastic Steps to Be Taken Against Them

BOSTON, July 7.—Reckless or drunken chauffeurs can expect but little mercy at the hands of the courts. Daniel McPherson of Roxbury is a case in point. He was intoxicated and Judge De Courcy of the superior court sent him to prison for four months.

The highway commission, from whom chauffeurs secure their licenses, and without a license they cannot operate in this state, do not hesitate an instant in taking the license of a man against whom the accusation of drinking has been proven.

His name goes on the black list and is likely to remain there for good and ever.

It was only last week that six very prominent women of this city, all friends and acquaintances of Mayor Fitzgerald, had the narrowest kind of a shave from either the hospital or the cemetery.

The chauffeur was drunk. He took down grades at such speed that the auto in striking a depression in the road at the base of one of these hills lifted and very nearly turned turtle. The ladies were forced to go to their homes in alarm.

It was shown in the case of McPherson, whose case was heard yesterday, that the man in his drunken excitement attempted to break all speed records on Columbus avenue.

In the height of his speed, McPherson struck Joseph Gleason, knocking him down and breaking his arm.

Before sentence was passed McPherson's mother told the court that her son was her sole support and asked for leniency. To this Judge De Courcy replied: "Alas, that is the unfortunate and inevitable rule in these cases. The ones who are not guilty must suffer, but if we did not impose sentence on that account no one would be punished for crime."

The court then went on to say that the young man was lucky that he did not have to face a charge of manslaughter. "Any one who drives one of these terrible machines," he said, "with all its possibilities for danger, while under the influence of liquor is a menace to the community."

Mayor of Lynn Gives Instructions to the Police Are Being Enjoyed by Number of Children

LYNN, July 7.—Carelessness on the part of Policeman James H. Carroll, who with Shoe Manufacturer Thomas A. Landrogon was killed by bandits 10 days ago, was alleged at a meeting of the Lynn Merchants' association yesterday.

Captain William C. Jones of Company I, Eighth regiment, declared that the policeman had violated a rule that a sentinel should strictly observe. Inasmuch as he was engaged in conversation with Mr. Landrogon while carrying the $4000 payroll from the bank, his contention was that the policeman should have been more watchful.

The merchants met for the securing of better police protection. Resolutions were adopted asking for additional police officers, for revolver practice by the police, and for the carrying of revolvers in belts so that they could be drawn at an instant's notice.

At the close of the meeting those present went in a body to the mayor's office. There a conference of an hour was held with the city's chief executive.

A. Gus Johnson, chairman of the committee which arranged for the meeting, learned that provision had been made by Mayor Rich for many of the reforms favored by the merchants.

Mayor Rich did not favor the carrying of revolvers in belts, as in case of riot he feared there would be danger of the weapons being stolen from the officers. Among the details of the plan is the stationing of a special guard in the bank and factory districts between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock Saturday morning, when money is drawn for the payroll.

The merchants in their resolutions, recommended:

"Therefore, be it resolved that we request the mayor of our city government to provide at the police station modern automatic rifles of a type and kind best suited for the police of our city; that they sit up in the basement

Now that the excitement of the Fourth is a thing of the past for another year, and the Wild West show has gone its way the youngsters are directing their entire attention to the commons and playgrounds.

Considerable new apparatus has been installed on the commons and there is more to come. The playground opened under supervision of the South common yesterday, but because of the wild west show the attendance was not very large.

The principal supervisors, Mr. G. C. Wilton and Miss Anna Moran, were on hand and also Miss Barclay and Mr. Seafie, two of the assistants. The boys were more in evidence than the girls and baseball games were in order. The swings and teeters were in constant demand by both the boys and girls.

The attendance today was much larger than yesterday and the children entered into it with a spirit that was nothing if not whole souled. It will require several days to get the work organized and running smoothly, but that playgrounds under supervision are a success there is no doubt.

Mr. Wilton, the head supervisor, wishes to meet the captains of the grammar school baseball league at the Young Men's Christian Association this evening, to see about continuing the league games this season.

The law court ruled that the plaintiff's action cannot be maintained.

He will also instruct that the police indulge in frequent target practice.

of the police station a practice range so that the officers can become experts in the use of their weapons; that a police signal be adopted by our fire alarm system which will immediately notify automobile owners that they are needed by the police department to assist with their cars in case of emergency; that a wider scope be given to the police department for the investigation of suspicious characters in the town, and that upon reasonable evidence that such characters cannot give a proper account of themselves, steps be taken with a view to having them carefully watched if they cannot be induced to leave the city."

Mayor Rich said at the close of the conference that he would begin the reform movement by instructing Chief of Police Burkes to direct officers on duty at Central square to begin a crusade for the removal of curbstones litterers.

He will also instruct that the police indulge in frequent target practice.

READY TO STRIKE
NEW YORK, July 7.—Several thousand young women employees of women's garment making establishments all over the city are prepared to strike today in obedience to orders issued by international women's garment workers association which has presented demands upon the employers for increased wages and better working conditions. The strike order was expected to go into effect this afternoon, it being announced that the employers or a large percentage of them were determined not to agree to the conditions imposed by the representatives of the dissatisfied employees.

Several establishments, however, were said to be inclined to make peace with their workers and sign the proposed agreements. This may reduce the number which it has been predicted would go on strike, the estimates running from 25,000 to as high as 75,000. Recognition of the union seemed to be the stumbling block in the negotiations.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., July 7.—Durham Edgar Hule Jacobus of Huntington today effected an agreement with the proprietors of the Hollidaysburg motion picture theatres for separate exhibitions of the Johnson-Joffe prize fight. There were about 2000 fans present at Spalding park this afternoon to witness the double-header between Lowell and New Bedford. The large attendance was due in a large measure to the fact that this was the first Thursday half holiday that the department store clerks have had this year. Empire Rorty made his first appearance and he certainly gave some rank decisions during the course of the game.

The first game was called at two o'clock, the batting order of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	New Bedford
Fitzpatrick 2b	rf Bridges
Tennely 1b	lb McCrone
Conney ss	cf Rising
Flaherty 3b	2b Cunningham
Magee lf	ss Bauman
Sullivan c	ss Walsh
Blakely cf	3b Wilson
Tyler p	p Griffith

First Inning
Owing to a rank decision the visitors scored three runs in the first inning, but in Lowell's half the players went out in quick order. Bridges hit an easy fly to short left field and Magee and Conney ran to first. They collided and though Conney had the ball in his hands when he ran into Magee he dropped it. McCrone hit to center field for three bases and Bridges scored. Rising hit to left center field and by Empire Rorty's decision he was credited with a three bagger, scoring McCrone. Cunningham hit to right field but Flaherty and Tennely ran for the ball and failed to gather it in. Rising scored on the play. McCrone sacrificed, sending Cunningham to third. Bauman drew a base on balls. Wilson hit to Fitz, who tagged Bauman and then threw to first for a double play. Conney was third out on a fly to Cunningham.

Second Inning
Neither side scored in the second inning. Pratt and Griffith went out on strikes. Bridges drew a base on balls and stole second, but McCrone flied to Blakely.

At the conclusion of the first half of the inning Bauman, the shortstop for the Whalers, retired, and Walsh took his place.

Score—Lowell 0, New Bedford 3.

Third Inning
Neither side scored in the third inning. Rising hit to Tennely and was retired at first. Cunningham hit a line drive to Magee which would have been a good three bagger but the latter traveled to the center field fence and caught it. McCrone hit by Boules.

quite apropos. They were done by Mr. Flynn.

The H. W. Johns-Manville Co. is represented by Wm. H. Spaulding, W. F. Turner, John P. Casey and James Humphreys.

The Canoe Manufacturing Co., makers of steam and hydraulic packings of every description, has a fine display, and are being represented by John J. Sullivan of this city. Mr. Sullivan is the New England manager.

The Grandall Packing Co. has a fine display, and is ably represented by James E. B. Gibbons. The Grandall Packing Co. has offices in all of the large cities and the exhibit is an interesting one.

The Philadelphia Grease Mfg. Co., makers of the celebrated Philadelphia grease, has an exhibit in conjunction with the C. B. Coburn Co. The exhibit is in charge of Thomas Collins of Boston. "Tom" has many staunch friends in Lowell.

If you heard a Gabriel horn sounding a bugle call, you heard an echo from the convention. The horn was attached to an automobile and assisted in advertising C. E. Squires of Cleveland, Ohio, dealers in steam specialties.

Fourth Inning
The visitors failed to score in the fourth inning. Wilson opened with a three bagger, but he died here, for Pratt hit to Fitz and died at first. Griffith struck out and Bridges flied to Blakely.

FIREMEN BUSY THEY RESPONDED TO TWO ALARMS THIS AFTERNOON

The alarm from box 151 this afternoon was for a fire in Livingston street and was supposed to have been started by boys. The fire started in an old shed in the rear of the double cottage house numbered 37-39. The shed was reduced to ashes and the house was more or less damaged on the end next the shed and the roof. The cottage belongs to the Thomas McMahon estate.

Soon after the alarm sounded from box 151 there was a still alarm for a fire in Charles street and hose 7 responded. The fire started in a barrel of rubbish in a back room of a house owned by Hosea Hill. The damage was slight.

PROHIBITIONISTS MEET
CONCORD, N. H., July 7.—The prohibitionists at their state convention here today renominated John C. Berry for governor and John F. Bradford of Raymond and Roger E. Thompson of Franklin for congress. The platform adopted reaffirms the platform of the last national convention of the party and calls for a repeal of the license law in New Hampshire, and the restoration of the prohibitory statutes.

WILL RECOVER $350,000
WASHINGTON, July 7.—The Catholic University of America will recover $350,000 from the bankrupt estate of the late Thomas R. Waggaman, its former treasurer, who owed the institution $300,000 when he was adjudged bankrupt in 1904. A compromise of this end was reached with H. Rosier Dulaney, trustee for the bankrupt, and Justice Stafford of the district supreme court today ordered the ratification of the agreement unless the other creditors of Waggaman on July 25 show cause why the terms should not be accepted.

John Waggaman, brother of the deceased, is party to an agreement with the trustees by which he surrenders claims amounting to $250,000 to the general creditors of his brother.

With the disposition of these two claims, which totaled more than $1,000,000, the proved claims against Waggaman have been reduced to $2,000,000.

With this cash on hand and the assets now held by the trustee, the creditors probably will receive 25 cents on the dollar. The settlement will be delayed for some time until certain property now held by the trustees can be converted into cash.

RETURNS TO WASHINGTON
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Director Frederick H. Newell of the reclamation service whose difference with Secretary of the Interior Ballinger have created general comment, returned to Washington today from New York where it was understood he had spent yesterday with former President Roosevelt. The annual retirement of the director, concerning his New York visit lends color to the report that one of the objects of his trip was to consult Col. Roosevelt concerning the friction with the administration of the reclamation service. He refused to admit that he had a conference with the former president nor would he deny it.

ASKS EXTRADITION
PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 7.—Governor Pierpont of Minnesota, made requisition today upon Gov. A. J. E. Thayer for the extradition of Margaret J. Wilson, who is wanted in St. Paul under an indictment charging her with kidnapping her son, Milo J. Wilson, 6 years old. United States District Attorney Wilson, who has been retained by Mrs. Wilson, asked for a hearing on the latter and the governor fixed Thursday, July 14, as the date.

SECRETARY MACVEAGH'S TRIP
WASHINGTON, July 7.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh left here today for the summer. He first goes to Phoenixville, Pa., where he is to speak today at the Old Homestead celebration. After that he expects to visit his brother, Wayne MacVeagh, at Bryn Mawr, and then go to Dublin, N. H., his summer home.

WILL FLUSH STREETS
Next Sunday morning the members of the four down-town fire companies will flush the main thoroughfares in the city, in response to a request by Mayor John F. Meahan.

Not long ago the board of health addressed a communication to the city government, requesting that all of the smooth paved streets of the city be washed down once a week, in the interest of public health.

The mayor finds that it is possible, at intervals during the summer, to clean Merrimack street from Dutton street to East Merrimack street, Central street from Merrimack street to Middlesex street, and Middlesex street from its junction with Central and Grafton streets to the depot.

ARTHUR A. SPERO Makes a Proposition for Public Baths

Editor Sun, Dear Sir:—

It was with pleasure I read your editorial in last evening's edition on public baths. I say pleasure because as an advocate of the project I like to see it kept above for in doing so possibly good can be accomplished and the citizens and officials of this city who are now deaf to this important necessity may in time hear the call of the needy and become active and thoughtful and do something for the cause.

I have done what little I could as a humble citizen to awaken the public spiritedness on this subject of public baths and went so far as to raise a small fund single handed and also had Mr. R. A. Sperry interested.

Mr. Frederick Tanning, a very interested enough to acknowledge receipt of a letter in which he said he may do something for the cause.

But the matter for lack of proper support fell by the wayside and still sleeps its peaceful sleep in obscurity.

As all the world loves a lover so do they love a fighter and I shall with your assistance strive to secure for the common people public baths.

With that end in view I have the following suggestion to make and while it is one thing to plan your work and quite another to work your plan, still I make you the following proposition:

The business people of Lowell are making their money and living from the common people whom the baths are intended for, and as the city does not make the proper move to give them this much needed requirement, then I say the business men can afford to do it and should do it, and my plan is to take a given day, Saturday or any week day, and let—the merge give 10 p. c. of their receipts towards a fund to be used the best way possible.

I herewith pledge myself to give to the cause of public baths 10 per cent of my actual receipts on any day that a committee may designate.

Trusting you will place this matter conspicuously before the merchants of Lowell I wish to remain, in this cause

Very sincerely,
Arthur A. Spero,
King's Clothing Co.

PRESIDENT LOWELL

Tells Educators About the College Elective System

BOSTON, July 7.—Some interesting results gained at Harvard university regarding the extent to which the capacity acquired in one study can be transferred to another were communicated last night by President Lowell to the members of the National Education association at the general session in Tremont Temple.

Characterizing it as the most interesting and vital topic for educators at the present day, President Lowell said: "It would seem as if the latest experiments show that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the subject matter it is not transferable, or transferable only to a very slight extent to any other subject matter; that so far as the capacity is dependent upon the method used in the study it is transferable to a considerable extent to other studies in which that same method is applicable; that so far as it depends upon general conception or upon the general moral and intellectual attitude, as, for example, intensity of the effort put into the study, or diligence, and things of that sort, it is transferable indefinitely."

"The experiments tried have been tried mainly with children, and it may be that the qualities we find regarding the transferability of acquired capacity are not the same at all ages of life—that as a person gets more mature he may be able to transfer acquired method more than a school child can, and may acquire more of the quality we call resourcefulness. At any rate, it is interesting to make observations upon that point."

President Lowell proceeded, with the aid of a diagram, to give results obtained over a period of 12 years, from 1897 to 1908, by considering the cases of Harvard men who had gone into the Harvard law and medical schools to see the result of a certain set of studies subsequently pursued in the professional schools.

No Aid Evident

"The figures tend to show," he said, "that the taking of history in college, for example, is no great assistance when a man gets into the law school for obtaining the cum laude, and that the taking of science is no great assistance towards a man getting that degree in the medical school. I was rather surprised that this should come out so definitely. The conclusion to be drawn would seem to be that it made comparatively little difference in regard to a man's success in the professional schools what subjects he devoted himself mainly to in college, but that it made an enormous difference how and with what power, ability and success he worked in college."

"The figures might show either that a man was born with the qualities which would enable him to gain honors both in the college and in the professional schools, or that he who has worked hard in college has acquired a power he would not otherwise have, and therefore succeeds in the professional schools. Pedagogically the figures seem to mean for persons of mature age either that ability acquired in one branch of study as a method of thought and work is transferable to another to a very considerable extent, or that the general intellectual and moral attitude is far more important than the method."

Criticisms by Laity

Criticisms of public schools by the laity was discussed by James W. Crabtree, president of the state normal school in Peru, Neb.

"There are three classes of the laity," said Mr. Crabtree, "who pass criticism upon the public schools: (1) The smallest, least important, but a most troublesome one is the class known as the chronic faultfinders; (2) a much larger and a more dangerous class is composed of those whose disapproval has back of it something of a political, factional or otherwise selfish motive; (3) a larger class of people whose criticisms grow out of true loyalty to the public schools, coupled with their interest in young people and a genuine desire to promote their welfare."

"The honest opinion of every thoughtful man is entitled to respect and consideration. The chronic kicker, however, has no place in this class. He is the obstinate individual who is never satisfied. Whatever is wrong, if the discipline is strong, it is an outrage. If it is weak, it is a failure. Every teacher must accept with resignation the fact that the chronic faultfinder is now and always will be a part of his life."

"Those who criticize because of some personal grievance and for other selfish reasons are the source of most of the serious troubles of the school. They resort to all kinds of extremes to get even with the superintendent, teacher or board member."

"The greatest good comes from the best people. When this class of people speak their views are respected."

"The following opinion may be taken as representing the trend of feeling among a portion of the thinking laity: 'The school does not attach enough importance to what the pupil is to do immediately on leaving his studies. We must either keep our children out of the high school a portion of the time and teach them how to work and to love work, or else the schools should in some way meet this need, and why may not the schools do this double service for our children?'

"Colleges will wisely listen to the criticisms that come up from the laity and from the ranks of the teachers and cease attempting to force high schools to shape courses of study to meet certain arbitrary college entrance requirements. The laity looks upon the school as the public's way of expressing interest in the educational welfare and efficiency of its offspring and people will never be satisfied until the college, the high school and even the grammar schools take that fact into account and plan their work on the theory that education should be for efficiency as well as for culture."

ENGINEER KILLED

Fireman Was Hurled Through Window of Engine

PITTSFIELD, July 7.—Engineer Edward Brewer of North Adams, driving New York Central locomotive 1145 over the North Adams branch of the E. & A. railroad, was scalded to death in a spectacular wreck at Coltsville, a little hamlet between Cheshire and Pittsfield yesterday afternoon at 5:30, and fireman John Lawler of Pittsfield had a narrow escape from death, being hurled through the cab window into a field 40 feet away.

A broken flange on the wheel of the locomotive is said to have caused the disaster.

Train 812, made up in Pittsfield, left the Union depot at 5:15. It consisted of a combination mail, express and baggage car and a passenger coach. There are four places where the train slows down between this city and Coltsville and the locomotive was apparently all right when it left the junction of the main line and the North Adams branch.

There is a straightaway run of three-quarters of a mile from the junction to Coltsville, where there is a single siding and a small combination station and a freight house.

At the beginning of the switch and in front of the Coltsville depot, the engine left the main track and entered the siding. Brewer was running between 40 and 50 miles an hour.

When the locomotive struck the siding, Brewer, who was standing on the engine, was hurled through the window of the cab and landed in a field. The engine was stopped by the fireman, but the momentum was so great and the distance to a string of five box cars so short, that the locomotive hit the first loaded freight car, and the siding at almost full speed. This car was filled with general freight, including cotton in bales, molasses in barrels and machinery. It was a steel car, but the speeding engine crushed it in twain, ploughed its way through it, and jammed its nose into the second freight car, and then turned half around and twisted itself loose from the cars and rolled over on the tracks, a demolished giant. The tender finally passed across the cab and was upside down.

The combination car turned completely around and was headed in the opposite direction. The passenger car was started from its tracks.

A dozen passengers who were in the coach escaped with a few minor bruises. The body of Engineer Brewer was found at the firebox. He was scalded almost beyond recognition and his skull was fractured. He had been instantly killed.

Fireman John Lawler said, "I don't know what happened after we neared the siding until I recovered consciousness. They say I was hurled through the cab window, but I don't recall a thing but a terrible crash and darkness."

Lawler was bruised and scalded. He was taken to his home in an ambulance.

Delancey Burbank, mail agent, of Pittsfield, was working in the end of the mail car next to the engine when the crash came and was thrown into a corner of the car and bruised.

AN UP-TO-DATE STOVE

Do you realize there is no longer any reason why you should use a coal range? Oil is cheaper than coal; it is lighter and easier to handle, and gives an intense heat. Provided you have the right stove, oil is more economical, cleaner and less trouble. Have you seen the

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

The accompanying illustration gives you only a rough idea of its appearance. You really can't appreciate it until you either use it yourself, or talk to someone who has used it. It does everything that a coal range will do—except heat the room. The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove will do anything, from heating a kettle of water to cooking a course dinner, but it won't heat a room. It doesn't "smell," it doesn't smoke. It can't get out of order. Light it and it is ready. Turn it down and it is out. Only a woman who knows the trouble of carrying coal and cooking in a hot kitchen can appreciate what it means to have a clean, perfect stove that will cook anything, boil, bake or roast, and yet won't heat the kitchen. How is it done? The flame is controlled in turquoise-blue enamel chimneys, and directed against the bottom of pot, pan, kettle or oven, and only there. The flame operates exactly where it is needed—and nowhere else. With this stove your kitchen is cool.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads 'New Perfection'.

The nickel finish with the bright blue of the chimneys makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

WAS TOO LATE LABOR LEADER

FATHER WANTED TO OBJECT TO WAS APPOINTED TO SUCCEED WEDDING HERBERT S. CARRUTH

CLAREMONT, N. H., July 7.—Ray V. Andrews, who gave his age as 21 and his address Proctorville, Vt., and Miss Melinda Ackley of Cavendish, Vt., came here yesterday, and obtaining a marriage license, were married by Town Clerk Hiram C. Sherman in his office. The bride, who gave her age as 18, is daughter of Lovell Ackley, who works in the Ludlow Vt. creamery.

He heard of the marriage intentions of his daughter by telephone and sent word to Chief of Police J. H. Ober to stop the wedding, stating that the girl was only 17 years old and had known Andrews only since July 4, when he had accompanied her home and remained until he had sent his daughter to bed and ordered the young man from the house.

Meantime the wedding took place and the couple left here on an afternoon train for Bellows Falls. The girl is said to have stated before the ceremony that it was a case of elopement. It is claimed Andrews' parents reside in the west.

BOSTON, July 7.—Mayor Fitzgerald yesterday afternoon appointed Dennis D. Driscoll of 110 Wayland street, Roxbury, a prominent labor leader, who was shot at the State marriage license, as deputy commissioner. House two years ago, as deputy penal institutions commissioner at $2500 a year. The mayor had considered Driscoll as a candidate for head of the penal institutions department at $5000 a year, but after a conference with him yesterday announced the appointment as deputy commissioner.

The new appointee will fill the position which was held by Herbert S. Carruth until the latter's removal a few days before the last city election by the late Mayor Hibbard. Carruth's salary was $3500 a year. The position is one of the few offices at city hall which is not under civil service, and for that reason the new appointee will be able to take office today.

In the appointment of Mr. Driscoll the mayor secures the services of one of the most prominent members of the Central Labor Union.

LAWRENCE MAN

Says That He Paid Money to Three Persons

SALEM, July 7.—"It is politics and politics is funny business and makes strange bedfellows sometimes," was the answer made by Matthew A. Burns to a question put to him in the superior criminal court yesterday afternoon.

For more than a week the trial of Mayor William P. White and others charged with conspiracy to bribe certain aldermen of Lawrence in 1909, to make possible the removal of Fire Chief Hamilton of Lawrence has been on trial in the superior criminal court, Judge Schofield presiding. This afternoon the government concluded its case. Dist. Atty. Peters announced that as the government had used ex-Alderman Xavier Legendere as a witness, the indictment against him for receiving a bribe was not pressed. The district attorney had previously made an announcement as to Ernest Dube, one of the present defendants.

Counsel for the defendants in their opening stated that Mayor White, George Smart, Matthew Burns and Thomas A. Keegan, the remaining defendants, would each take the stand and tell their own story of the transactions in 1909.

Matthew A. Burns was the first witness for the defense and he told of Chief Hamilton giving him $5000 to distribute to aldermen who should vote for his confirmation. There was $200 each for Aldermen Moss and Wokel and Legendere and witness said that he held the money for Moss and Wokel until after the vote and then paid it to them.

He denied that he had been in any arrangement for the removal of the chief, although he said Hamilton had offered him $500 to fix the matter for him. He declared that he had fallen out with the mayor the first of the year and would not vote for anything he advocated. The cause of the difference was that Mayor White had attacked the street superintendent, who was a friend of his. When asked if he thought it honest to throw aside the good of the city and vote against an order simply because the mayor had proposed it he replied "It is politics and politics is funny business and makes strange bed fellows sometimes."

Burns was still on the stand when the court adjourned yesterday afternoon.

Won Prize in Recruiting Contest

Court St. Antoine, Catholic Order of Foresters, won the first prize in the recruiting contest which has been going on from January 1 to July 1, during which period the court added 365 new members to its already large number. This record was not equalled by any other court in either this country or Canada. The prize was a $100 silver cup offered by the order to the court which recruited the largest number of members.

Court Antoine now has the second largest membership in the order. Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago having the largest membership.

Three cups were offered as prizes, one going to the court showing the largest membership on July 1, and which was won by Court St. Elizabeth of Chicago, another going to the court showing the largest increase between Jan. 1 and July 1, and which was won by Court St. Antoine, and a third going to the court showing the largest increase in proportion to membership. This last was given especially to encourage the smaller courts to double their numbers.

Simon Vigor, of Lawrence, state secretary, was present last night at an assembly of Court St. Antoine, and announced the glad news. The cups, he said, would be awarded the latter part of the month.

Besides these trophies going to the courts themselves, individual prizes were given members for bringing in the largest number of members. E. H. Gregoire and Dr. A. G. Payette were the winners, Mr. Gregoire bringing in 53 and Dr. Payette 50.

GIRLS RESCUED

WERE SAVED FROM DROWNING BY TWO BOYS

BOSTON, July 7.—Prompt action on the part of Homer Kelley and Harold Ambrosion saved 11-year-old Helen Pitenof and her 12-year-old sister Gertrude of 78 Pleasant street, Winthrop, from drowning near the Thornton station at noon yesterday. The little girls had waded into a hole and were sinking for the third time when aid reached them.

The boys launched a boat and made a round trip to the spot where the drowning girls had gone down. The girls were taken into the boat and rowed ashore where the process of resuscitation brought them to consciousness. Medical aid was summoned and the physician said that both will recover.

GIRL SAYS SHE GREW STRONGER THE FARTHER SHE WENT

BOSTON, July 7.—In just three hours and fifteen minutes Miss Rose Pitenof, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Pitenof, of 336 Freeport street, Dorchester, swam from the extremity of Commercial Point to Deer Island light, a distance of seven miles, yesterday. The feat undoubtedly is a record for a girl of Miss Pitenof's age. She will attempt to swim to Boston light from the Charlestown bridge in August.

"I felt fatigued when I had covered about half the distance," said Miss Pitenof to a reporter at her home last night, "but then I seemed to grow strong the more I swam."

"No, I didn't feel afraid when I was crossing the main ship channel," she declared in answer to the reporter's query. "I knew that papa and Professor De Costa were nearby and that they would take good care of me. A swim like that makes one awfully hungry."

Fully 200 friends of the Pitenof family lined the beach of Dorchester bay when the girl plunged into the briny from the float of the public bath house at that place. As she struck the water the people cheered her. She was accompanied by her father, George De Costa, instructor at the bath house, and several newspaper men. Miss Pitenof wore a one-piece suit and a rubber head covering. She did not partake of any nourishment while she was in the water.

Hires

INDIAN DROWNED

THE DEAD INDIAN VIEWED BY FRIENDS AT THE UNDERTAKERS

While Bathing in Concord River Yesterday Afternoon — Body Recovered by Frank Jelly of Richmond Street — Deceased Was a Noted Man in His Race

While thousands applauded the very creditable performances of the Indians and frontiersmen of the 101 Ranch Wild West show at the Fair grounds last evening, behind the scene of this wildly picturesque spectacle and in the little wigwams that were set at the farther end of the field the silence of deep sorrow reigned over all, for only a few hours before "Corn," a full blooded Sioux chief and one of the most noted redmen with the company, was drowned in the Concord river near the Six Arch bridge, while enjoying a swim with a few companions of his race.

The Indians partook of supper immediately after the afternoon performance, and about 6:30 "Corn," accompanied by several other Sioux, went down to the river to swim. They were directed to the swimming hole by a party of boys and soon had divested themselves of their heavy blankets and canvas clothing and were dispersing themselves in the water. None of them could swim, and hence all kept close to the shore, except "Corn," who ventured out about the treacherous swimming hole where a shelf of sand makes the water shallow for a distance and then suddenly stops, leaving a hole of great depth. Into this hole the unfortunate Indian was seen to disappear, and when he did not appear at once the Indian companions, becoming terrified, rushed back to the Fair grounds for assistance, leaving three boys who had been watching the swimmers on the river bank. These boys were Frank Jelly of 58 Richmond street, John Dooley of 532 Gorham street, and George Kerwin of 542 Gorham street and Edward Molloy of Maloney, a noted swimmer. The boys immediately removed their clothes and waded into the water. "Corn" rose to the surface and struck out wildly, demonstrating to the boys that he could not swim. Jelly, who weighs only 110 pounds, was afraid to go forward for the drowning man, for the latter weighed considerably over 200 pounds, and undoubtedly would have pulled the boy down with him.

The Body Recovered
In his story to Medical Examiner Moles, the Jelly boy said: "The Indian came to the surface four or six times before he finally disappeared. I think I could have saved him if he hadn't been so big and strong. I was afraid that if I got too close to him he would grab me and bring me down with him. After the body disappeared I dove down and brought it up, and Dooley and Kerwin helped me bring it ashore." The Molloy boy by another account has given the credit of diving down and hooking a rubber band on the body to bring it to the surface.

Several white men and Indians rushed to the scene upon learning that "Corn" had been drowned, while his wife and daughter, who are also with the show, were on the scene, heart-broken over the sad happening. The body was removed to Higgins Brothers' establishment to be prepared for shipment to Porcupine Ranch, Pine Ridge Agency, South Dakota, where he and his family had valuable land holdings.

"Corn's" Historic Name
Just what "Corn's" Indian name was the show people do not know. He had been with the Miller Bros. two seasons, and when not with them was engaged cultivating his lands in South Dakota. He owns 640 acres, and his wife and daughter, the latter 20 years of age, have 320 acres each.

During the first big rush for land in Oklahoma many hundreds of the whites who were "booming" ran short of provisions. They were in a desperate plight when a tall, fine looking Indian came to the rescue. He doled out corn to them, and saved their lives and from that time on he was known by the name of the food he gave to these men. His poetic Indian name, if he had any, was immediately forgotten and his fellows knew him only by the name of "Corn."

agent rewarded the three boys who recovered the body.
Undertakers Higgins Brothers embalmed the body and then laid it out in native costume in a sealed casket which was shipped from this city this afternoon. The scene was decidedly pathetic as the little sorrowful faced women in the wildly picturesque costumes of their race entered the train after watching mutely the railroad employees place the huge box containing the body in the baggage car. Mr. McNally accompanied the body to Boston and looked after its transfer to western train, while the Indian interpreter went to Woonsocket, R. I. to join the show, for the show, like the world itself, "goes on," no matter who drops by the wayside.

WOMAN LOST

SHE DID NOT KNOW WHERE SHE LIVED

NEW YORK, July 7.—Mrs. Amella Bauer told a story in the Yorkville police court yesterday about being lost from her home that puzzled those that took an interest in her case.

She said she left her home at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night wheeling her three-months-old baby uptown to a park near the East river. At midnight Policeman Solomon found her and the baby at First avenue and Sixty-fifth street. The woman told him that she couldn't remember the street in which she lived, but did know that the number was 353. The policeman took her to the station and then to court.

In court she said she was married in Hoboken a year and a half ago and that she and her husband, Geo. Bauer, moved from 61 Madison street, Hoboken, to this city two weeks ago. Her husband went to work in Greenbaum's sausage factory, which was three blocks from her home. Her husband was asleep when she left home, she declared.

Magistrate Krotel turned the woman over to Miss Broadhead, the probation officer, who telephoned to all the Greenbaums in the city in the sausage business. They said they didn't know Geo. Bauer. Police officers' quarters had no report of a George Bauer looking for a lost wife and baby, nor had any other desolate husband made inquiries. The woman was fairly well dressed. The baby looked well cared for. Mrs. Bauer could not remember the name of the dayman who married her. Miss Broadhead took her through streets on the upper East Side, but Mrs. Bauer recognized none of them as hers. Finally she was taken to the Hoboken address. There the janitor said, "Why of course I know her," and gave the New York address.

While the probation officer and Mrs. Bauer were in Hoboken the husband showed up in court in search of his wife and was sent to Hoboken for her. His address, he said, is 335 East Ninety-fourth street.

TO BREAK WILL

WOMAN LEFT PRACTICALLY ALL OF ESTATE FOR MAUSOLEUM

NEW YORK, July 7.—A suit to upset the probate of the will of Elizabeth Bastian of 209 East 80th street, who died on Feb. 11, 1909, and left practically her entire estate in this country, worth $55,000, to build and maintain a mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery, has been begun by her half-sister, Mrs. Emma Bolson of Grantwood, N. J., and her half-brothers, John and George von Hofe of Astoria. They declare that Miss Bastian was a monomaniac and believed that the life to come would be more enjoyable than the life on earth. For that reason they say she lived miserably on earth so that she could live more luxuriously after death.

In her will Miss Bastian left the plaintiffs only $1 each because of the "object scorn and derision" with which they had treated her from the time she came here from Germany. Miss Bastian had been the companion of Mrs. Marie Heine, and most of her money came to her under Mrs. Heine's will. She directed that $50,000 be set aside to build the mausoleum, in which certain of her friends were to be buried with her, and that $8000 worth of jewelry be sold and added to the fund. She directed that if anything remained in the estate after the tomb was built and certain small legacies were paid it was to go to the Westlawn cemetery for repairs to the tomb and for shrubbery and flowers.

The testatrix said in her will that she was contemplating a trip to Europe and she directed that in case she died at sea and her body was not brought to land the mausoleum should be built just the same and that "the executors shall reserve the right to draw in the catacomb located on the right hand side as you enter the said mausoleum and have an inscription made thereon containing my name and the date of my birth and death, and no one else placed in said place reserved for me."

NATIONAL BANK EXAMINERS

THE MINISTERS

ENTER A PROTEST AGAINST THE FIGHT PICTURES

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—Characterizing the fight pictures as degrading and dangerous, ministers representing six denominations and fourteen churches met last night to formulate a petition to Mayor Magee, asking him to prevent the pictures from being displayed in this city. The meeting was attended by bodies from the Y. M. C. A., Christian Endeavor societies and civic bodies.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST PICTURES

BOSTON, July 7.—The campaign of the society of the United Society of Christian Endeavor against the display of the pictures of the recent fight between Johnson and Jeffries is receiving favorable support from many states, according to General Secretary William Shaw, who stated that four governors had arrayed themselves on the anti-picture side of the contest. The state officials were Governors A. S. Ansel of South Carolina, G. W. Donaghey of Arkansas, William Hodges Mann of Virginia, and from the private secretary of Gov. Charles S. Deneen of Illinois.

Gov. Draper of Massachusetts tells Secretary Shaw that he has no power to stop the display of pictures, but Mayor Fitzgerald of this city is opposed to them.

There have been so many inferior brands of butterine exposed that most people are inclined not to consider it at all for use on the table. Butterine and the "Vermont Brand Butterine" are as different as it is possible to differ products, and then again most of the mixtures which bear the name of butterine are manufactured and sold illegally. This, however, is not the case in "Vermont Brand Butterine," as it is compounded, rendered and prepared for delivery under the inspective board of the government and each and every tub is labelled with a seal which guarantees its purity.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE
BERLIN, July 7.—It is unthinkable that Germany from any point of view should be inclined to oppose the Monroe doctrine according to a semi-official review in the Vossische Zeitung of Admiral Mahan's article regarding the American, British and German navies, published in England recently. There is beside no other point on which Germany is likely to come into conflict with the United States. Admiral Mahan can have found no reason in American affairs calling for warning Americans against Germany. He wrote his opinion from the point of view of his own country but he is a dreamer in politics. Germany really builds up circumstances which really do not exist. If we contest this train of thought we are still far from the intention of worrying ourselves in any way concerning the right and liberty of the United States to strengthen their feet according to their own ideas.

STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK, July 7.—The stock market started with small dealings and narrow and irregular price changes, but the course of prices turned downward after the opening. Rock Island and Western Union fell 1 1/4; Rock Island and Denver and Rio Grande fell 1, and Union Pacific, Reading, Canadian Pacific and Anaconda large fractions. Consolidated Gas gained 1.

The market made an abrupt upward turn after the earlier sag so that in a few minutes sharp losses were turned into equally sharp gains. Rallies from the low prices ran to 2 3/8 in Reading and 2 in Union Pacific. Over night advances of a point or more were made by many of the most active stocks.

The activity in the trading died down but the advanced level of prices was well maintained. Confirmation of yesterday's reports of gold secured in London for shipment to New York was a strengthening influence. Hoarding of gold and a few transactions in the Valley rose 5 or 6 few transactions and Sloss-Sheffield Steel 3 1/2. Reading ran off over a point at noon with effect on the general tone. Bonds were irregular.

Prices fluctuated very irregularly, and at a low range. Reading, St. Paul, Union Pacific, United States Steel and other leaders lost all of their morning rise. Missouri Pacific advanced 1 3/4.

Buying orders were encountered in the neighborhood of yesterday's closing and the list shifted again, Union Pacific and Reading rising to about a point above yesterday's final figures. Business was extremely dull and confined principally to the most active stocks.

The market closed firm. Following a decline, effective demand was again encountered and prices rallied in some cases to the highest of the day.

Boston Copper Market
BOSTON, July 7.—There was very little interest in copper stocks early today but the general tendency was upward. At noon the market was still stagnant although North Lake had risen to 10 on fairly active dealings.

Boston Clearing House
BOSTON, July 7.—Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $29,547,968; balances, $2,296,853.

COL. ROOSEVELT WAS VISITED BY NEW HAMPSHIRE "POL"
OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 7.—A delegation of visitors to Col. Roosevelt arrived from New York on the noon train. There were six in the party, two of whom were United States senators, Beveridge and Carter. The others were John Bass, the war correspondent, and his brother Robert, Winston Churchill, the novelist, and James R. Sheffield, Robert Bass and Mr. Churchill are republican insurgents of New Hampshire. Mr. Bass is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of New Hampshire, which Mr. Churchill endeavored unsuccessfully to obtain.

The two men are to lay the situation in New Hampshire before Col. Roosevelt, in an endeavor to enlist his sympathy and, if possible, his support in their contest.

Senator Beveridge led the party which alighted from the train. The newspaper correspondents who are stationed here hummed them in, but they had little to say except that they were going to have a pleasant talk with the colonel.

"We can't say anything now," Senator Beveridge said, throwing up his hands. "When we get back from Sagamore Hill we may have something to tell you."

The visitors said they would return to New York this afternoon.

MAY WITHDRAW VENUS
WASHINGTON, July 7.—From the state department the report was given out today of rumors reaching it that former President Zelaya had offered to have the Venus withdrawn from Nicaraguan waters on certain conditions.

This would be the first admission from Zelaya if the rumor proved true, that he had any control over the armed vessel which has been plying on the eastern coast of Nicaragua, although previous reports to the department connected his name with the purchase and outfitting of the Venus and other boats for service in the interest of the Madrid forces in Nicaraguan waters.

The conditions which the rumor said Zelaya had imposed were that protection be given to his personal estate in Nicaragua which is reported to be very large, and that he be recompensed $50,000, the first payment made on the Emory claims, owned by Americans and adjusted in agreement between the United States and Nicaragua just before the uprising in the Central American country.

The source of the rumors was not disclosed.

The Venus, with several effective mounted guns, has been cruising along the eastern coast of Nicaragua, reducing several towns to the subjection of Madrid and otherwise assisting the cause of the Madrid government. The ship sailed from New Orleans, but it has been a matter of dispute as to where she mounted her guns.

DOUNCE AS CRIMINAL
NEW YORK, July 7.—The moving pictures of the Johnson-Jeffries fight were denounced as criminal from the pulpit of the Church of the Divine Paternity today, where the twenty-second annual convention of the Young People's Christian union is being held.

When Victor A. Friend, chairman of the social service commission, in a report of that commission asked that the convention go on record as protesting against any exhibition of the fight pictures the assemblage broke into loud applause. Resolutions were passed protesting against the exhibition of the fight films.

LADD VS. RUNELS
Nathan D. Pratt, Esq., sat as auditor today in the case of Alice M. Ladd vs. Charles Runels, administrator of the estate of Susan J. Spaulding, late of Billerica. Mrs. Ladd is the daughter of Benjamin E. and Susan J. Spaulding, and she seeks to recover from the estate on a promissory note secured by a mortgage, which she alleges was given to her in consideration of services rendered. George W. Poore for the plaintiff, James P. Owens for defense.

HOLIDAY FOR CLERKS
Today was the first half holiday for the clerks in most of the stores of the city. As a result, the downtown district was rather dull during the afternoon. The half holiday will continue through the months of July, August and September.

SHOT HIS SWEETHEART

And Her Mother at New Bedford This Morning

Mother Will Die but Daughter May Live — Manuel Monteiro Went to New Bedford From Lawrence and Was Aroused by the Mother's Opposition to the Marriage

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 7.—Manuel Monteiro, shot his sweetheart, Matilda Cosmas Lopes and her mother, Arcene, as they were on their way to work at 6.15 o'clock. The mother is mortally wounded. The girl will recover. Their assailant escaped.

Refusal by the mother to allow her daughter to marry him was the cause. The two women were shot at close range, the bullet piercing the mother's skull while the daughter who was shot in the head luckily escaped death by the bullet being deflected by one of the head bones. Monteiro who did the shooting recently moved to New Bedford from Lawrence.

The mother and daughter were both employees of the New England Cotton Yarn company and were on their way to work this morning when the shooting took place on North Water street.

Since Monteiro arrived in New Bedford he has not worked, but has hung around the home of the Lopes girl where he was regarded as an accepted suitor by the brothers of the girl. Monteiro was apprehended by a Taunton officer on board an electric car at East Taunton. He denied his identity at first, but letters in his pockets indicated that he was the man sought. Some of these letters were addressed to Matilda and were in the nature of love letters from other men.

Monteiro's hat had three bullet holes in it and on the side of his head there was a scalp wound and some powder burns, showing, in the opinion of the police, that the man had attempted suicide. He had no revolver, but the police believe that he hid the weapon after attempting flight.

When Monteiro was taken to police headquarters his first question was, according to the officers, "Is either of the women dead?"

He was brought back to New Bedford on the noon train.

CITY HALL NEWS

Several Coal Contracts Were Signed by the Mayor

The coolest place in the city today was city hall, or at least the writer found it so.

Nothing Doing But Work
In the office of the charity department Clerk Gallagher was busily engaged in trying to impress on the memory of an applicant for aid that if he would work steadily and give up his drinking habits he would not need to apply to the city for aid. But for the fact that the man has a blind daughter dependent upon him the certificate for provisions would not have been granted.

Dr. James J. McCarty, the chairman of the charity board was on deck and while he said that there was plenty of work on hand there was little news that would interest the public. "Lots of work and hot weather" was the answer that he gave the Sun man.

Encouraging News
Agent Bates of the board of health was poking over his papers when the reporter entered his office. When he was asked relative to what was going on he said that he was glad to state that the number of contagious diseases reported at the office during the present month was lower in comparison to the first week of any month that he ever remembered. There had been but one case of diphtheria reported so far this month, four cases of scarlet fever and two of measles. Despite the fact that today is but the seventh of the month the number of diseases recorded, especially during the hot weather, is a remarkably low one.

Coal Contracts Signed
Mayor Moehan this morning signed contracts for coal for the water works department. One contract was for 2000 tons of coal to be delivered at Centralville, Pawtucket boulevard and Cook wells pumping stations to the Home Coal Co. Another contract for 2000 tons was awarded to E. A. Wilson & Co., 1000 tons to be delivered at the Centralville station and 300 at the Centralville station and 300 at the Cook wells. The coal is bituminous and of different varieties, the price ranging from $4.25 to $4.93 per ton.

Water for the Playgrounds
The local playgrounds, those in Little Canada and the South common, are a great success, but of late, owing to the dry weather the dust bothers the children and in order that they may not be troubled by the dust, which contains many disease germs, Mayor Moehan has notified Supt. Putnam to have the watering carts visit the playgrounds twice a day to lay the dust.

More Horses Needed
Within the course of a week or so the committee on fire department will have to recommend the purchase of a couple of horses for the fire department. At the present time there are four animals belonging to the department in pasture in upper Chestnut street. Two of the horses are in need of a rest and will be able to resume their duties in the harness in the course of a couple of weeks, but one horse which was injured on Centralville bridge while responding to an alarm will have to be either sold or shot and another horse is so sick that he is unfit for duty, though in time he may be able to perform work.

Street Lighting Committee
The committee on street lighting is scheduled to meet at 7.30 o'clock to night, at which time a report of inspection of the city will be made, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

FOR A POLICE AUTOMOBILE

The police board has put in a requisition for an automobile for the department. Recent events in this and other cities have amply demonstrated the need of an automobile for the use of the police in catching criminals. Without an automobile the department in a great many cases will be entirely helpless.

LAND FOR PARK PURPOSES

We understand that there is an agitation on foot for the purchase of what is known as the Lakeview avenue baseball grounds for a public park. This land belongs to the Merrimack Manufacturing company and is on the river bank on the north side. If it can be purchased for a reasonable amount for park purposes the city should have it. It is needed in that locality just as Livingston park is needed in the Highlands. If the city can purchase both it should do so. The money will be well invested. The time may soon come when it will not be possible to purchase such tracts of land for park purposes. It is necessary to look ahead sometimes to a future generation when planning for a great city.

FOR A COMFORT STATION

There has been a good deal of talk of a comfort station at or near Merrimack square, and the necessity of such a station is admitted by all. The question of location is the main thing to be decided. It is quite easy to construct a station for men underneath the surface of the street with sanitary arrangements that would completely eliminate all odors. The construction might be expensive, but a station of this kind would be cheaper in the end than one on the street level for which the city would have to pay high rent. A street level station of course is to be preferred. The public necessity for a station at Merrimack square is so very great that something should be done to meet it in an adequate manner without delay.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN AS DICTATOR

Colonel Roosevelt has again undertaken to cast his influence on the side of a political candidate. He has endorsed Rep. Miles Poindexter for the United States senate for the alleged reason that Poindexter is opposed to the Ballinger wing of the republican party and in favor of Roosevelt's conservation policy. Mr. Bullinger in spite of Roosevelt's endorsement says that the state of Washington will never elect Poindexter to the United States senate. If this statement should prove to be true the outcome would put Col. Roosevelt in the biggest hole he has been deposited in for a long time. It would be even worse than the repudiation of his dictatorship in New York. Today he tries to take back his statement on the Poindexter fight and as usual to blame the newspapers.

We surmise that neither Washington nor any other state is going to submit to an arrogant dictatorship such as Colonel Roosevelt assumes when he supposes that by the mere fiat of his will the people of New York state, of Washington, of Massachusetts or of Ohio will meekly accept his command in the interests of "his policies" or any other policies. It will be found, we believe, in the end that when this glamor of hero worship with which Colonel Roosevelt is now landed shall have been cleared away he will find his political influence a great deal less powerful than he now supposes it to be. He will also find that the American voters will accept dictation from no man and particularly will they be suspicious of a man who is so much indebted to the republican party as is Colonel Roosevelt.

MR. BRYAN'S DECLARATION

Mr. Bryan has come out with a statement that he is not a candidate for any office. He made that statement on former occasions and afterwards accepted nominations for office. Judging from Mr. Bryan's tendencies we do not believe that this statement means that he could not be induced to become a candidate. We still think that he could be persuaded to accept the nomination for the presidency if offered to him; but we do not believe that the democrats in any part of the country will be foolish enough to consider him as a candidate for the presidency in 1912. To do so would be one of the best possible methods of throwing away a splendid opportunity to win a national victory.

Since Mr. Bryan has declared himself out of the fight, the democratic party should take him at his word and say amen. But it will be wrong for Mr. Bryan while not a candidate himself to continue to assault every democratic candidate mentioned as a presidential possibility. He has already attacked Governor Harmon of Ohio in spite of the fact that the Ohio official may be the strongest man the democrats can find. Mr. Bryan intimates that he reserves the right to discuss issues as he pleases. Of course he does. Nobody has attempted to deprive him of liberty of speech; but if he makes any pretensions to democratic loyalty he will put aside his policy of continual criticism of democratic candidates. If his ideals in regard to the principles a candidate should possess were carried out by the democrats they could not find a candidate good enough to nominate between now and doomsday. Mr. Bryan, we know, is an honest man and an able man, but if he looks for the highest perfection in a candidate in either party he will be greatly disappointed. It would, therefore, be unfair for him to set out to assail every candidate the democrats mention because of some slight fault or imperfection.

If the prospects do not change the democrats will have the best opportunity they have had since 1892 to nominate and elect a president in 1912, and unless the opportunity be lost by mismanagement, by dissension or the venting ambition of rival candidates, there is no reason why the party should not be installed in power and the republican cohorts driven to retirement.

A CRADLE SONG

Child with those questioning eyes,
Where will thy mother be
When thou has grown more wise,
When life has answered thee?
When future hopes and fears,
Built up of youthful dreams,
Nourished by happy years,
Fade as the sunset gleams?
Child with those questioning eyes,
Where will thy mother be?

Child of the tender heart,
Where will thy mother be?
When thou hast played thy part,
In life's brief tragedy?
When through rare days of joy,
Shouldst thou be forced to learn
That love is but a joy
To cherish, then to spurn.
Child of the tender heart,
Where will thy mother be?

Child of my life and love,
This is my prayer for thee:
May thy faith strongest prove
In worst extremity—
And may thy smallest need
Of counsel, love or praise
To me thy footsteps lead
Through life—and death always.
Child of my life and love,
Thine to Eternity.
—Julia W. Sawtelle, in June Ainslee's.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

In a new play by Mr. Rupert Hughes, Mrs. Leslie Carter is to re-emerge next season. The actress is to have an "emotional" part which is reported to be entirely to her liking.

Elizabeth Hirsch has been elected vice president of the League city council, and is the first woman to hold the position. She was elected because of her business ability. Several years ago her husband died and left her a large manufacturing plant. She took up the work where he left off and has not only increased the business, but made much money.

Annie Marion MacLean, author of "Wage-Earning Women," has gone to Chicago to attend the wedding of her brother. Before her departure she delivered a number of lectures in New York, Newark and elsewhere, on the general subject with which she is concerned in her book. Miss MacLean's ideas have been drawn from years of work in the Y. W. C. A., from prolonged investigation, as professor of sociology at Adelphi and from personal work among women of every class.

John A. DeCamp, principal of the Williamstown high school, has handed in his resignation. He has accepted an offer to become superintendent of the city schools of Little Falls, N. Y. He has been principal of the school since March 1900, having been appointed to the position while he was still a senior in Williams college. He took charge of the school during the remainder of the year 1900 and the next fall took full charge of the school. With the resignation of Mr. DeCamp came that of Miss Sara Sears as a teacher in the school, whose engagement to Mr. DeCamp was announced a short time ago. Miss Sears is a graduate of Mount Holyoke college.

Elbert S. Hubbard of East Aurora has made the announcement that the peasant mission players of Oberamunke are going to give a month's presentation of the passion play at East Aurora next summer. Mr. Hubbard's statement was based on a telegram received from Martin Beck of New York, who went to Switzerland to make arrangements for this event. Mr. Beck, a resident of Switzerland, is an auditorium to be built at East Aurora and many landscape changes are to be made.

Thomas Hardy, Maurice Hewlett, and Bernard Shaw, make an odd assembly, and it is delightful to see the presentation of the passion play at East Aurora next summer. Mr. Hubbard's statement was based on a telegram received from Martin Beck of New York, who went to Switzerland to make arrangements for this event. Mr. Beck, a resident of Switzerland, is an auditorium to be built at East Aurora and many landscape changes are to be made.

Senator Carter was a White House caller and on leaving was surrounded by newspaper correspondents. Said the Montana senator: "It looks to me this way: Senator La Follette after his interview with Colonel Roosevelt yesterday said: 'Roosevelt is the greatest American living. Then receding his power of expression the speaker exclaimed: 'I might, if I could do those things, truly exclaim, with a certain well-known young western senator, 'When God made me he rested.'"

"Now, gentlemen," remarked Uncle Joe deprecatingly, "I mentioned no names. Greatness is so easily recognizable that it cannot be hidden in the becoming cloak of its own modesty and diffidence. I name no one. You can guess as well as I."

Professor Burt G. Wilder of the department of neurology and ophthalmology, Lucien A. Walt of the department of mathematics, and W. T. Hewlett of the department of German languages and literature of Cornell university, whose terms of service expired this spring, have been made professors emeritus. They will be retained on pensions from the Carnegie Foundation fund.

Some of the cavalry subalterns at Aldershot are smitten in a tender place.

When Surveyor McCarthy failed to confirm as fire commissioner, he asked Gov. Draper to review the proceedings. The latter refused, and Mr. McCarthy, through Councilor William F. Murray of Charlestown, petitioned the executive council, asking it to give him a hearing without consulting the governor.

The council considered the petition yesterday. Atty.-Gen. Malone was sent for and discussed the matter with the council. He gave it as his opinion that the council had no authority to go over the governor's head in dealing with any state department. He quoted two precedents, one a ruling by a former council, and another a decision of the supreme court.

The council adjourned until this forenoon, when the McCarthy case will be disposed of. A statement will be issued in which the attitude of the council will be explained.

SUMMER SCHOOL

For Boys Conducted by the Y. M. C. A.

The first session of the season of the summer school of the Lowell Young Men's Christian association was held yesterday at two o'clock. There were 25 boys present. The school is in charge of Mr. Elmer E. Harris, principal of the Chelmsford Centre high school and also educational director of the Y. M. C. A. The aim of the school is to supplement the work of the public schools by helping those boys who have fallen behind in their studies in the public schools to get instruction which will enable them to keep with their class. Several of the boys are studying in order to try for a double session while others failed to be promoted at the last term.

The classes, lasting from 2 to 5 o'clock, will be held on the five regular school days of the week and will continue for six weeks. On three days of the week, after school hours, gymnasium work will be carried on for those wishing it, and the use of the shower baths and other of the privileges will be open.

The Y. M. C. A. camp at Nabunass pond, Westford, started last Thursday, with Mr. T. R. Williams, the boys' work director, in supervision. Thirty boys, from the ages of 13 to 18, have joined this camp, which promises to have the success which attended it last year.

On July 20, Mr. Seafie will go to Belknap, New Hampshire, for two weeks at the New Hampshire state Y. M. C. A. camp, where several Lowell members will go with him. There are also six Lowell boys at the Massachusetts state camp, at Becket, Mass., among the Berkshires, and three at the Boston camp, Buena Vista on Sandy Island, Lake Winnepesaukee.

FOREST FIRES

DAMAGE CAUSED BY THEM TO BE REPAIRED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—Ravages of forest fires along the Oregon coast are to be repaired, partially at least, for timbermen now are planning to put the burned over trees to good use. Of course this will be impossible with a great deal of the timber that was either totally consumed or partially destroyed. There remains, however, a great quantity of timber that was only scorched and blackened.

A contract has just been made with the Santa Fe railroad by a logger near Marshfield, Ore., to supply 1200 piles from a tract of burnt cedar. This material has for years been thought to be utterly useless. Now it is believed it can be put to as good use as green cedar. In fact it is claimed by some that the action of the fire will improve the piling, making it far less subject to decay.

The result of the experiment will be watched with much interest, whatever the outcome, for if burned cedar piling is found to be suitable for railroad use in bridge work, there is a great quantity of the scorched trees that will be put to good use. The Santa Fe offers to buy much of this piling later if the first supply is satisfactory.

It is now thought that the same timber may be used for other purposes, such as telephone and telegraph lines outside of cities, where the blackened poles will not be objectionable. Charred cedar, it is expected, will have a remarkably long life when exposed to the weather. The coast cedar is widely known for its lasting properties and timbermen predict that the burned over trees will resist decay twice as long as green timber.

There are large burned over areas in this state that will become valuable if the use of blackened piling is generally adopted, and the method of practical conservation for much timber throughout the Northwest that has long been regarded as of no value, shevnewera wakfords cm if cm m

Plan to Get More Congressmen in New England

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Officers of the democratic congressional committee are preparing to carry on an active campaign in some of the New England states to secure the election of democrats to congress. The committee recently opened headquarters here. Later on it may open headquarters at New York or Chicago.

The committee will distribute considerable literature in New England, especially speeches relating to the tariff and the increased cost of living. Representative Foss' speech in the house on the tariff and reciprocity, will be one of the documents to be scattered broadcast.

Representative Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of the democratic congressional committee, says it is too early to say definitely what kind of a fight will be made by the democratic managers in New England, but Mr. Lloyd thinks the prospects of democratic success in that section are bright.

"I believe we will hold the four Massachusetts districts now represented by democrats," said Mr. Lloyd. "We ought also to gain at least two other districts in the state. If ex-Representative Thayer runs for congress in the Worcester district we will carry it."

"I cannot designate other districts where we will win, but I can say that if certain men are nominated for congress by the democrats we will make a hard fight in several districts now represented by republicans. I understand that Charles S. Hamlin is running against Representative Greene. If he does he will defeat Mr. Greene."

Mr. Lloyd would not say so, but it is understood that he and other democratic leaders have high hopes of capturing the districts represented by Representatives Tirrell and Ames, especially if the democrats nominate strong men for the nomination. They are made the committee managers will endeavor to pick out the best fighting ground and concentrate their efforts there.

Speaking of the outlook in other New England states, Mr. Lloyd said: "I believe we ought to gain one or two seats in Maine, regain what we lost in Rhode Island with the death of Representative Granger and gain one district in Connecticut. New Hampshire and Vermont are regarded as certain republican territory and it would require a political revolution to bring about the election of democrats to congress from those states."

Mr. Lloyd declined to name the Maine and Connecticut districts he hopes to carry, but it is known that democratic leaders are sanguine of success in the old Littlefield district now represented by Representative Swasey. They expect to take every advantage of the republican factional trouble in the Portland district, where Asher C. Hildes recently defeated Col. Fred Hale, son of Senator Hale, for the republican nomination for congress. In Connecticut the democratic hopes centre in the New Haven district, where Representative Sperry is about to retire. It is claimed that the man selected by the republicans to succeed

Mr. Sperry is not strong enough to carry the district, which was formerly always represented in congress by democrats.

MANY INJURED

By Explosion of Sewer Gas

NEW YORK, July 7.—An explosion of sewer gas in the cellar of a six-story tenement dwelling occupied by twenty-four families at 233 Moore street, Williamsburg, yesterday afternoon did considerable damage and caused injuries to nearly a dozen people.

On the ground floor is a saloon kept by A. Harowitz. He noticed recently that the cellar became filled from time to time with the vapors of gasolene, benzine and other combustibles that were drained into the sewer from surrounding factories. He called the attention of the landlord because the tenants had also complained, but nothing was done.

Harowitz was behind the bar at 3 p. m. yesterday chatting with Joseph Benner, who was in front of the bar, when Mrs. Sadie Axelrod, aged 23, of 243 Moore street, came in to buy a bottle of beer. The saloon keeper hadn't any on ice and he asked the woman to go to the cellar for it, at the same time handing her a lighted candle. When Mrs. Axelrod reached the cellar there was an explosion which seemed to lift up the house. It broke all the show windows in the saloon and nearly half the windows in the dwelling and shattered the windows behind the bar and all the glassware.

Mrs. Axelrod was stunned by the explosion and burned about the face, breast and hands by the fire which followed it. She crawled up the stairs and sank unconscious in the hall. Meanwhile the tenants had become panicky and many in their anxiety to get out fell and were trampled. Harowitz and Benner were cut by glass, as was Mrs. Sophie Sherman, 21 years old, also of 243 Moore street, and other persons who were passing the saloon when the windows were blown out.

The detonation went through the sewer and caused seven manhole covers to be ripped up on the Moore street and Bogart street side of the building. An alarm of fire was turned in and firemen found Mrs. Axelrod where she had fallen. She and Mrs. Sherman were carried into a store and attended by an ambulance surgeon from St. Catherine's hospital. The reserves of the Stagg street police station were required to clear the street of the thousands attracted by the explosion. The damage to the building was placed at $2000.

The sewer department will examine the sewer to see if it is damaged.

THE REST WAS SILENCE.

"Why do they say 'as smart as a steel trap'?" asked the talkative boarder. "I never could see anything particularly intellectual about a steel trap." "A steel trap is called smart," explained the elderly person in his sweetest voice, "because it knows exactly the right time to shut up." More might have been said, but in the circumstances it would have seemed unfitting.

Barry Pain is noted for his powers of smart repartee. Some time ago he attended a dinner party where his host had got a Shakespearean quotation for every item on the menu except the asparagus.

Mr. Pain was appealed to for some appropriate lines, and quick as thought he gave the following:

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Exports of iron and steel manufactures in the last fifteen years exceeded imports there of by 1,400 million dollars, while in the fifteen years immediately preceding the imports of this class of merchandise exceeded exports by 300 million dollars. Meantime the United States has become by far the world's largest producer of pig iron, domestic and steel into and out of the country represents a development in the domestic industry brought about in comparatively recent years. In the decade 1881-90, according to figures published by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, imports of iron and steel were far in excess of exports thereof, the relative figures being imports, 255 million, exports, 85 million dollars; excess of imports, 170 million dollars. In the decade 1871-80 imports of iron and steel were valued at 445 million, while exports were 159 million dollars, making the excess of imports 286 million. In the decade 1861-70 imports were 481 million and exports 195 million dollars, the excess of imports over exports having risen to 286 million dollars. In the closing decade of the last century, the period while a constant transition of the United States from an importer to an exporter of iron and steel manufactures, imports of that class aggregated 248 million and exports 534 million dollars, the excess of exports being 286 million dollars, while in the initial decade of the present century, the ten years ending with June of the present year, the value of iron and steel manufactures exported was 1,411 million dollars, or more than four times that of like commodities imported, 307 million.

A clearer view of the changed relation of imports to exports of iron and steel is obtained by a comparison of the annual averages in the movements of each during the last half century. Of manufactures of iron and steel imported the annual average in the decade 1861-70 was 25 1-2 million dollars; in 1871-80, 42 1-2 million; in 1881-90, 48 million; in 1891-1900, 25 million, and in 1901-10, about 30 million the maximum importation in any single year having been reached in 1873, $74,302,102. Meantime the annual average of the exports advanced from 81 1-2 million dollars in the decade 1861-70 to 16 million in 1871-80, 18 1-2 million in 1881-90, 43 1-2 million in 1891-1900, and 140 million in 1901-10, the largest total, $183,982,182, having been made in 1903.

The marked increase in the net exports of iron and steel represents an actual growth in quantities as well as values, many of the manufactures included having commanded in 1910, both at home and abroad, lower prices than in earlier years. Of pig iron, for example, the price per ton in Philadelphia for No. 1, foundry, fell from $19.98 in 1900 to $17.81 in 1909. Of rolled bar iron, the price per ton in Philadelphia dropped from $43.12 per ton in 1900 to $34.40 in 1909; of steel rails, from $32.28 per ton to $23.00. Of wire nails, f. o. b., Chicago, from $2.76 per 100 pounds in 1900 to $2.00 in 1909, while in 1910 prices are even lower. Prices abroad follow a similar course, as is shown by the lower valuations of iron and steel in the import foreign markets in which the merchandise originates. Of tin plates, for example, the average import price declined from 3.2c per pound in 1900 to 2.7c in 1909; of bar iron, from 2.2c per pound in 1900 to 1.8c in 1909, while certain other classes also showed in 1909 lower prices than in 1900.

The principal manufactures of iron and steel imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1910, just closed, are: machinery, about 9 million dollars; pig iron, 6 1-2 million; tin plates, 4 1-3 million; ingots, blooms, etc., 3 1-2 million; cutlery, 1 3-4 million; wire and articles made from wire, 11-2 million; scrap iron, 11-2 million; and bar iron, nearly 11-2 million dollars, while no other single class of iron and steel shows for the year a total of 1 million dollars or upwards.

Exports of domestic iron and steel manufactures go in considerable quantities to all parts of the world: steel rails to Mexico, South America, Canada, Asia and Oceania; structural iron and steel to Canada; mining machinery to Mexico; wire to Australia, Argentina, Africa, Mexico, and Canada; builders' hardware to the United Kingdom, Australia, Mexico, and Canada; machinery to Germany, the United Kingdom and countries representing every grand division. Under the head of machinery are included sewing machines, which go chiefly to the United Kingdom, Germany, and Brazil; locomotives to Brazil, Canada and Cuba; typewriters, chiefly exported to the United Kingdom, Germany and France; and electrical machinery, to France, Canada, and other American countries are the principal markets, while Japan, Australia, and European countries are also important purchasers.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 7.—Donn B. Gross of Hillsboro was made defendant in a suit for $5000 brought by Howard B. Gross retained Irving E. Forbes of this city as counsel and he will file a petition with the superior court for a dissolution of the bail. A hearing will be held before Chief Justice Robert M. Wallace at Henniker today. Charles H. Bailey of Hillsboro is counsel for Dale. Both the plaintiff and defendant are employed in the mills at Hillsboro and are well known in that town. FRAUDULENT REMEDIES FOR THE HAIR

The Cosmopolitan Magazine for February, 1909, contains an article on the Hair and Scalp by Woods Hutchinson, M. D., which says: "The strongest and most powerful curative element of scalp-tonics and hair-regenerators is their smell, and the next powerful is their color. Most of them are frauds pure and simple, and produce no effect whatever except upon the imagination and the nostrils of the users. The most common constituent of them all is alcohol, and the next common probably ammonia or some aromatic oil or extract which has the double purpose of a powerful odor and of producing a mild sense of warmth and local irritation. All of this class are mild irritants to the skin and produce a light temporary reddening by an increase in the amount of blood circulating through the scalp; but this has about as much effect on the hair-bulbs as the beams of the harvest moon have upon growing cabbages." The public is learning that hair that falls out, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by these fakes and frauds. The only sure way to benefit the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this purpose Dr. Head Wash, the new scientific preparation, is most highly recommended, as it is made of Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Cocaine, Coconut Oil, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. Any doctor will tell you there are no better things known than these for cleansing the hair and scalp. Tubes 25c, jars 50c.

LARGE EXODUS

Us Colony

FREEPORT, Me., July 7.—A large exodus of members of the Holy Ghost and Us colony at Shiloh, Me., to the holy land is believed to have begun this morning, when four wagons filled with men, women and children and luggage passed through here at sunrise. It is thought they were on their way to board the bark Kingdom, which has been sailing back and forth outside the three mile limit off Casco bay.

Rev. Frank Sandford, leader of the Shiloh colony, for whom the sheriff of Cumberland county has a writ in a $100,000 damage suit, is believed to be aboard the Kingdom and to avoid the sheriff has not allowed the bark to come inside. The suit was brought by Mrs. Florence Whitler of Boston, who alleges that she was detained against her will in the Shiloh colony and abused by Sandford. After some difficulty, Mrs. Whitler was released from the colony several months ago, but her husband refused to leave, stating that he believed Sandford's teachings were right.
